What is here

that could cause us

to stop and remember?

Xavier High School
New York, N. Y.

Is it

a street? . . .

a building...

a stairway...

a corridor?

Or is it...

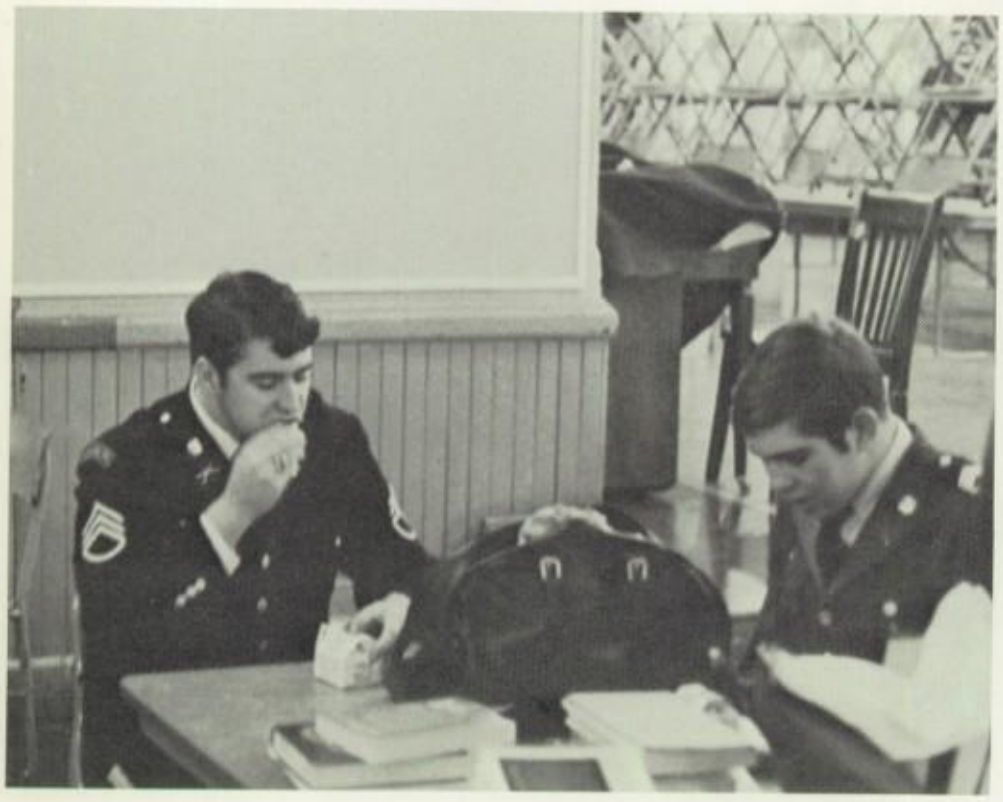
...people?

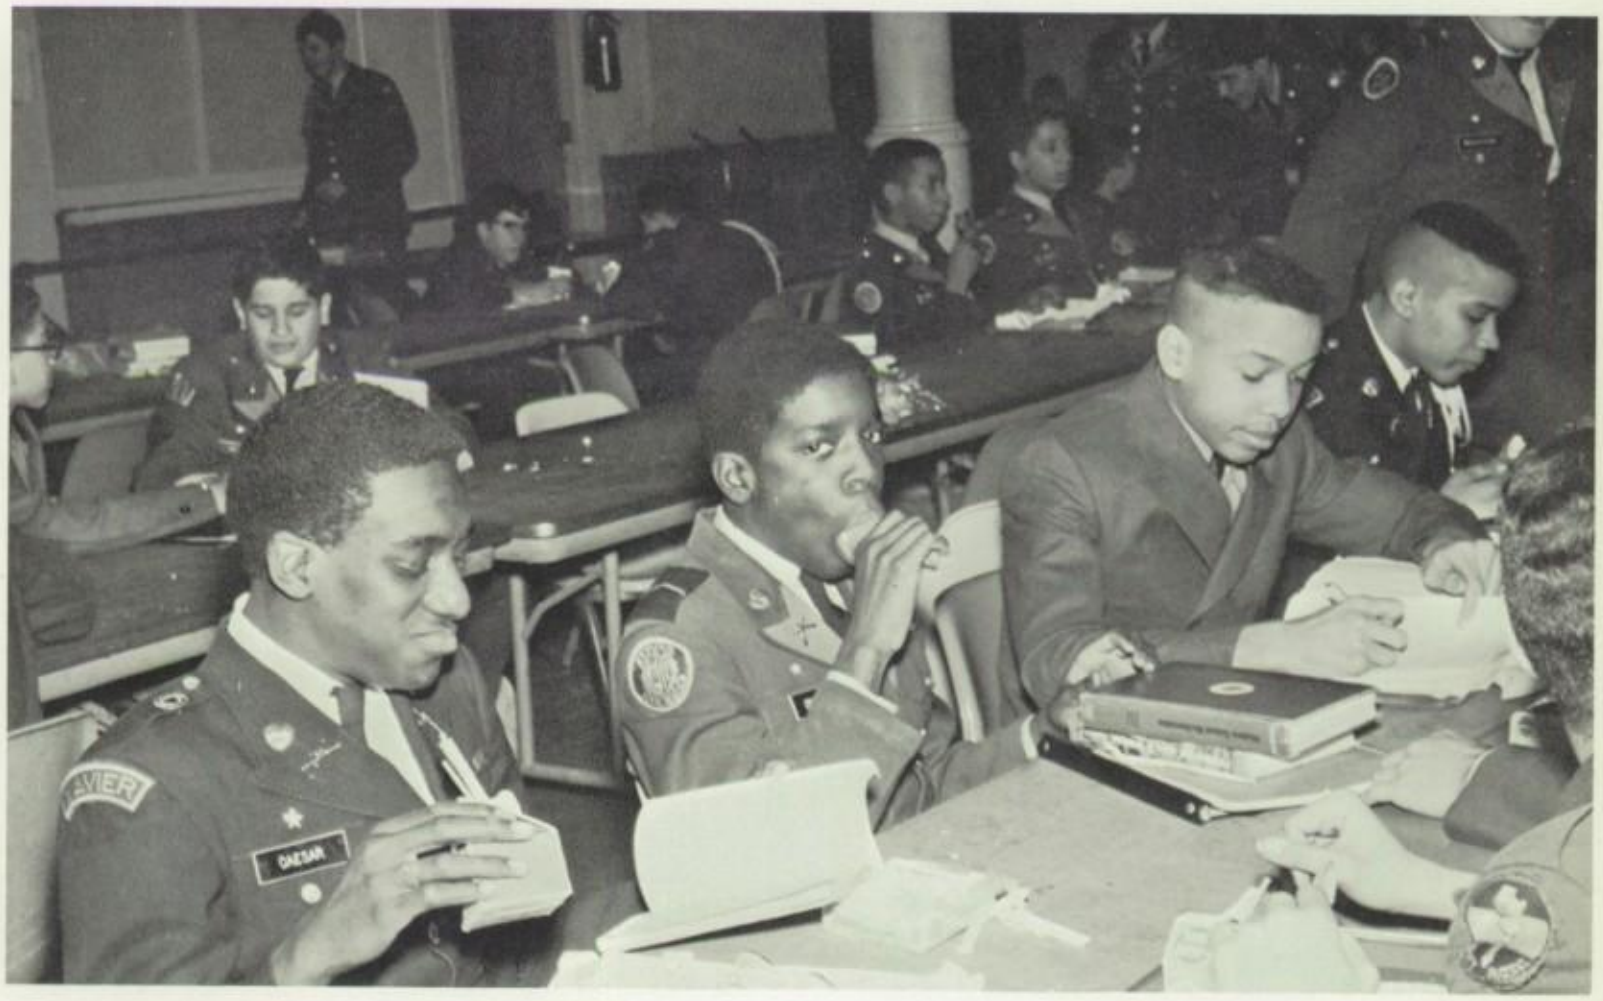
Yes, it's lots of people.

Friendly people ...

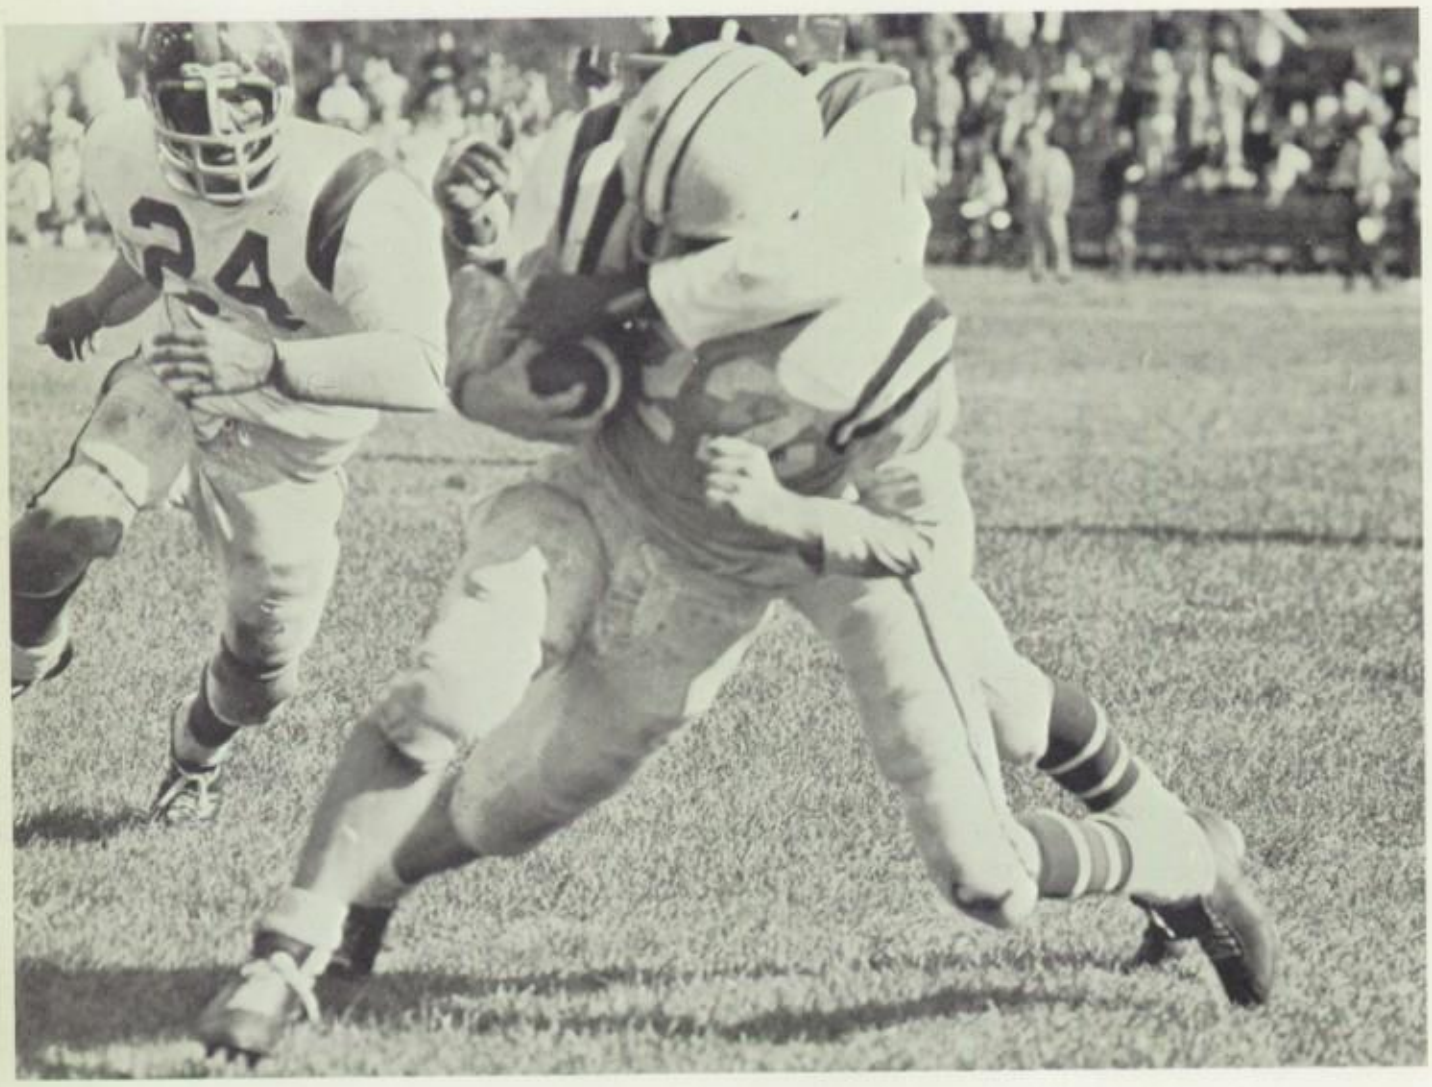
helpful people . . .

hungry people . . .

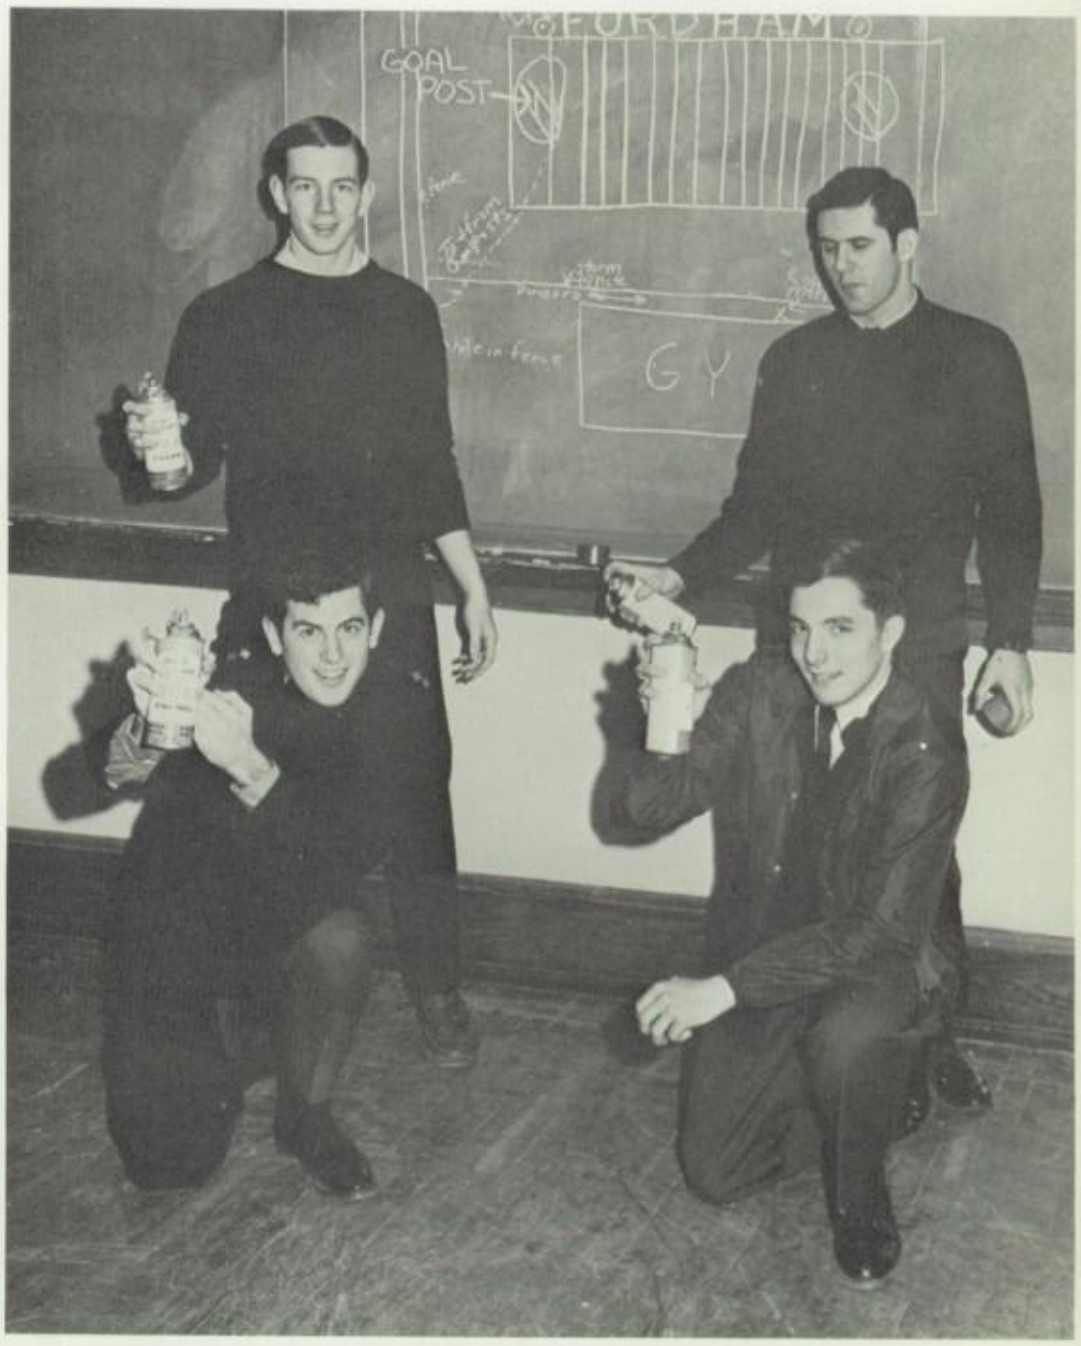




strong people...



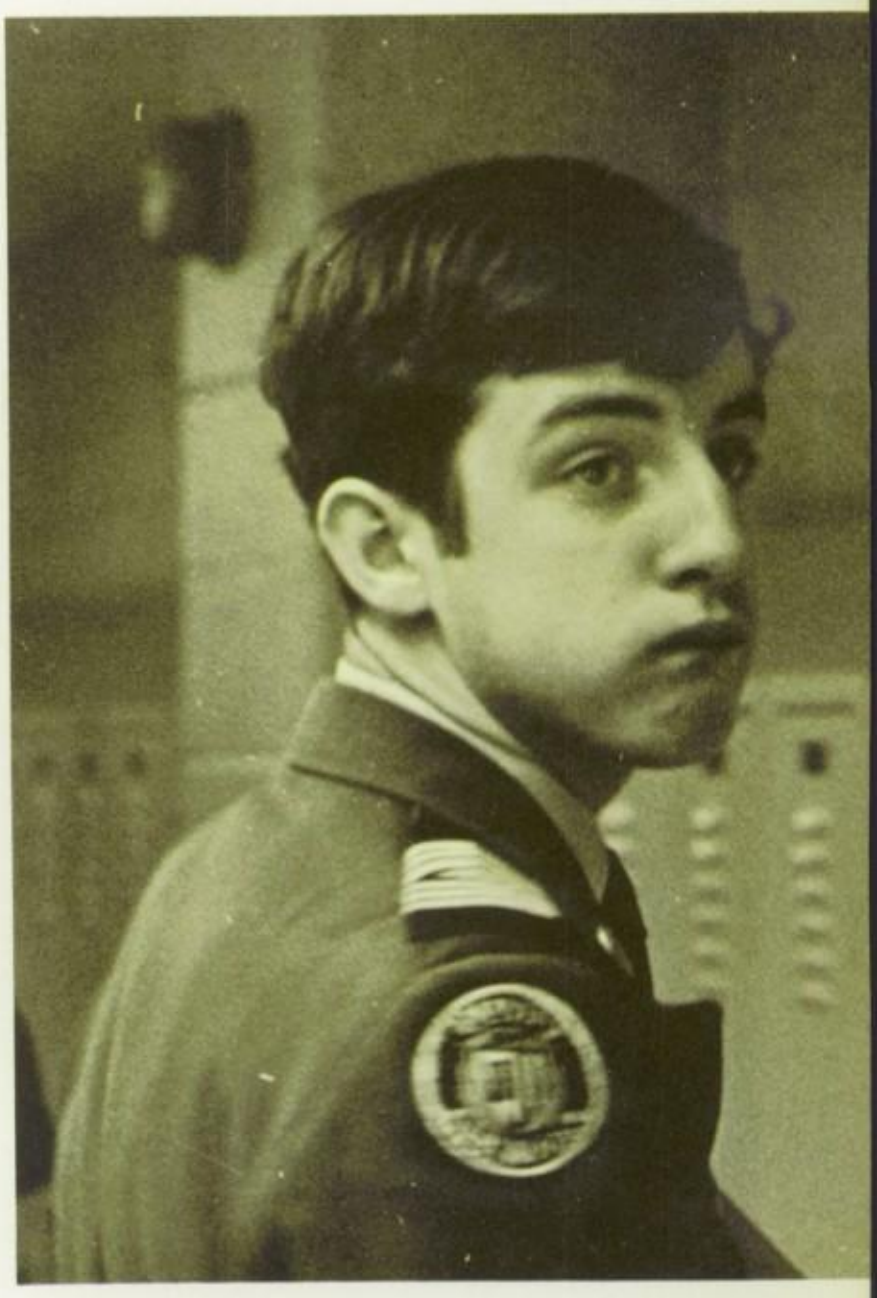
people with objectives...



tired people...

enthused people . . .

confused people...



people with authority...

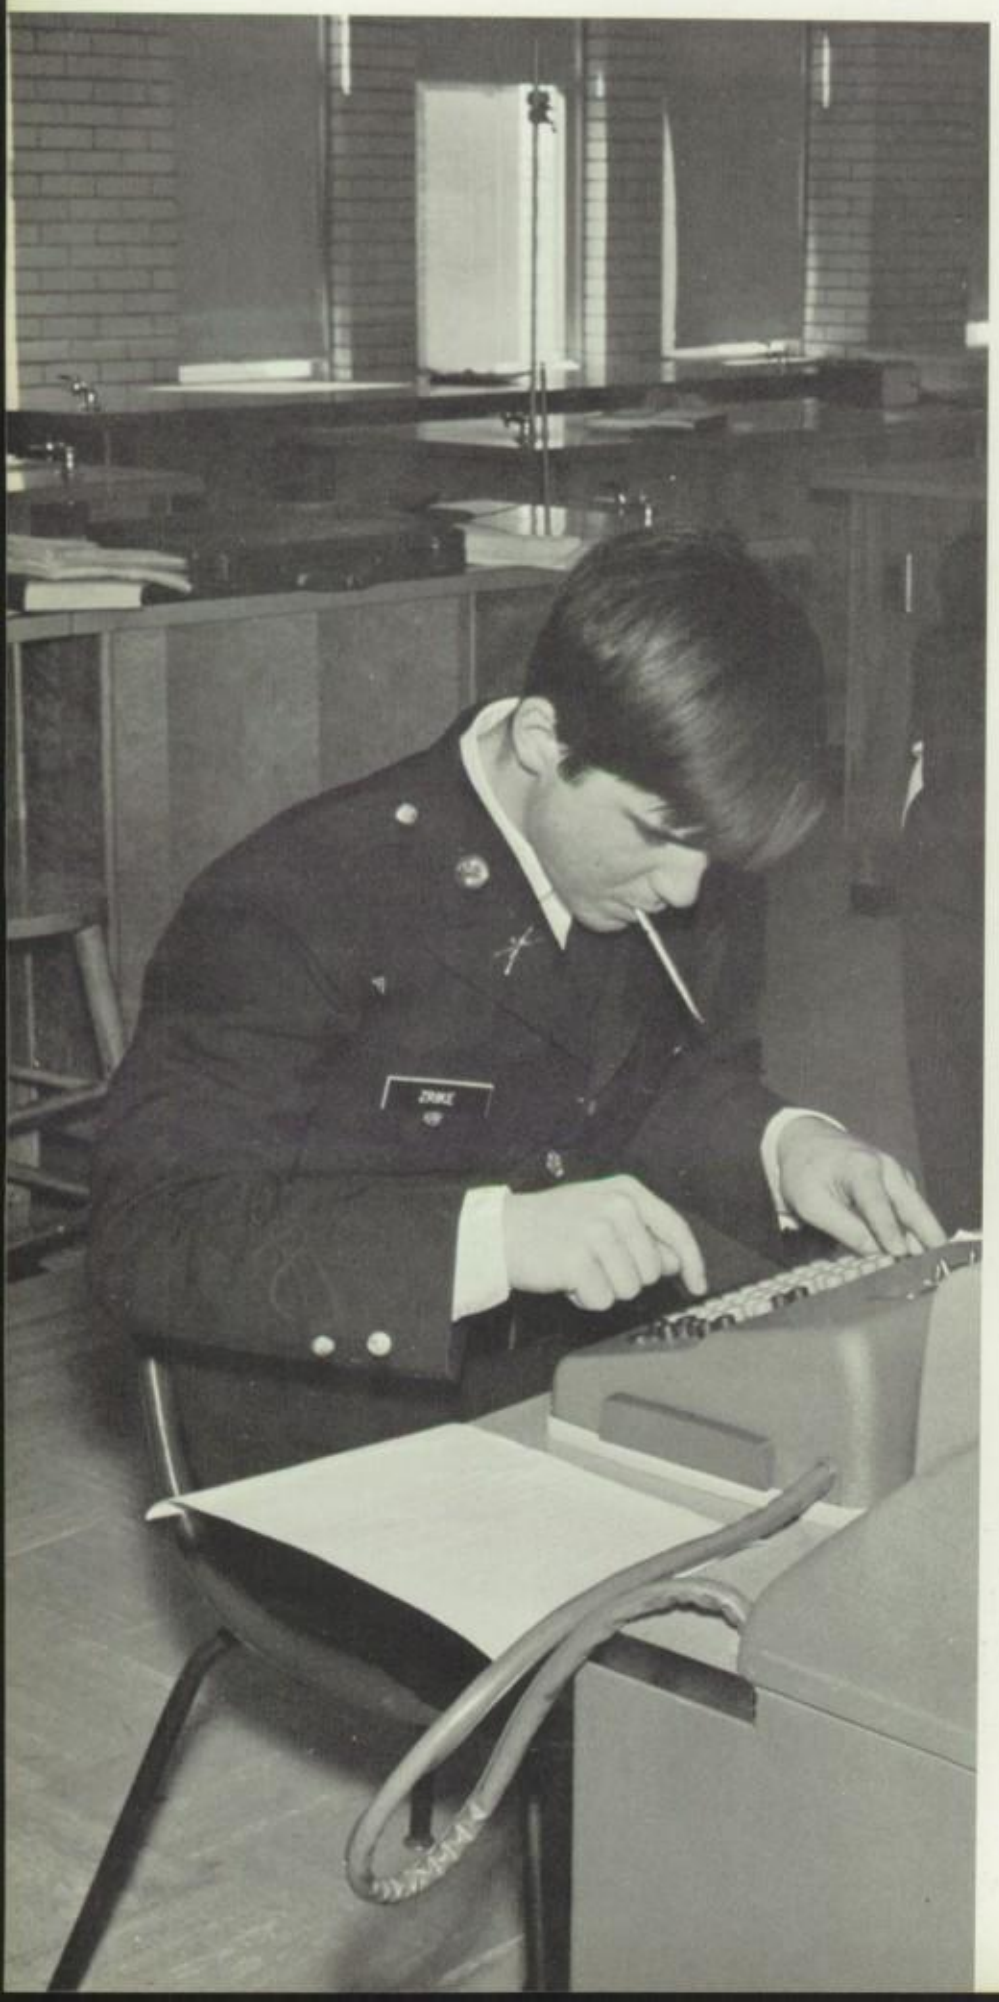
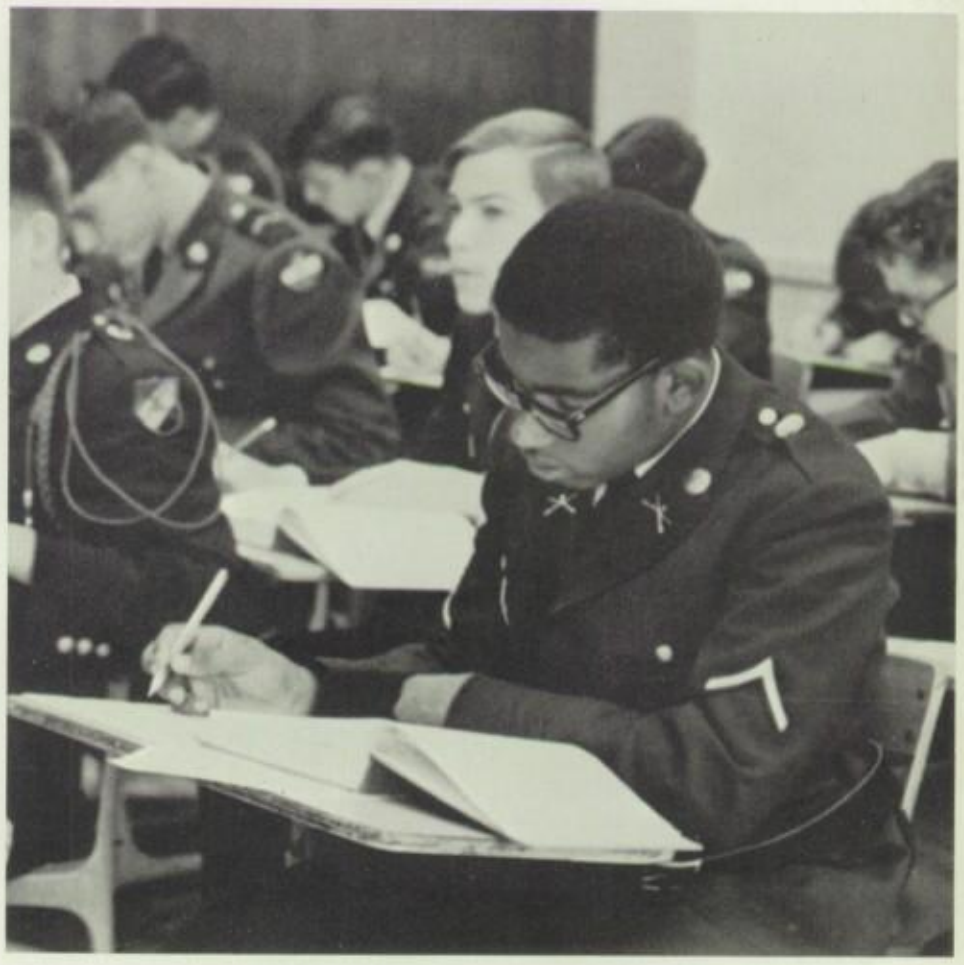
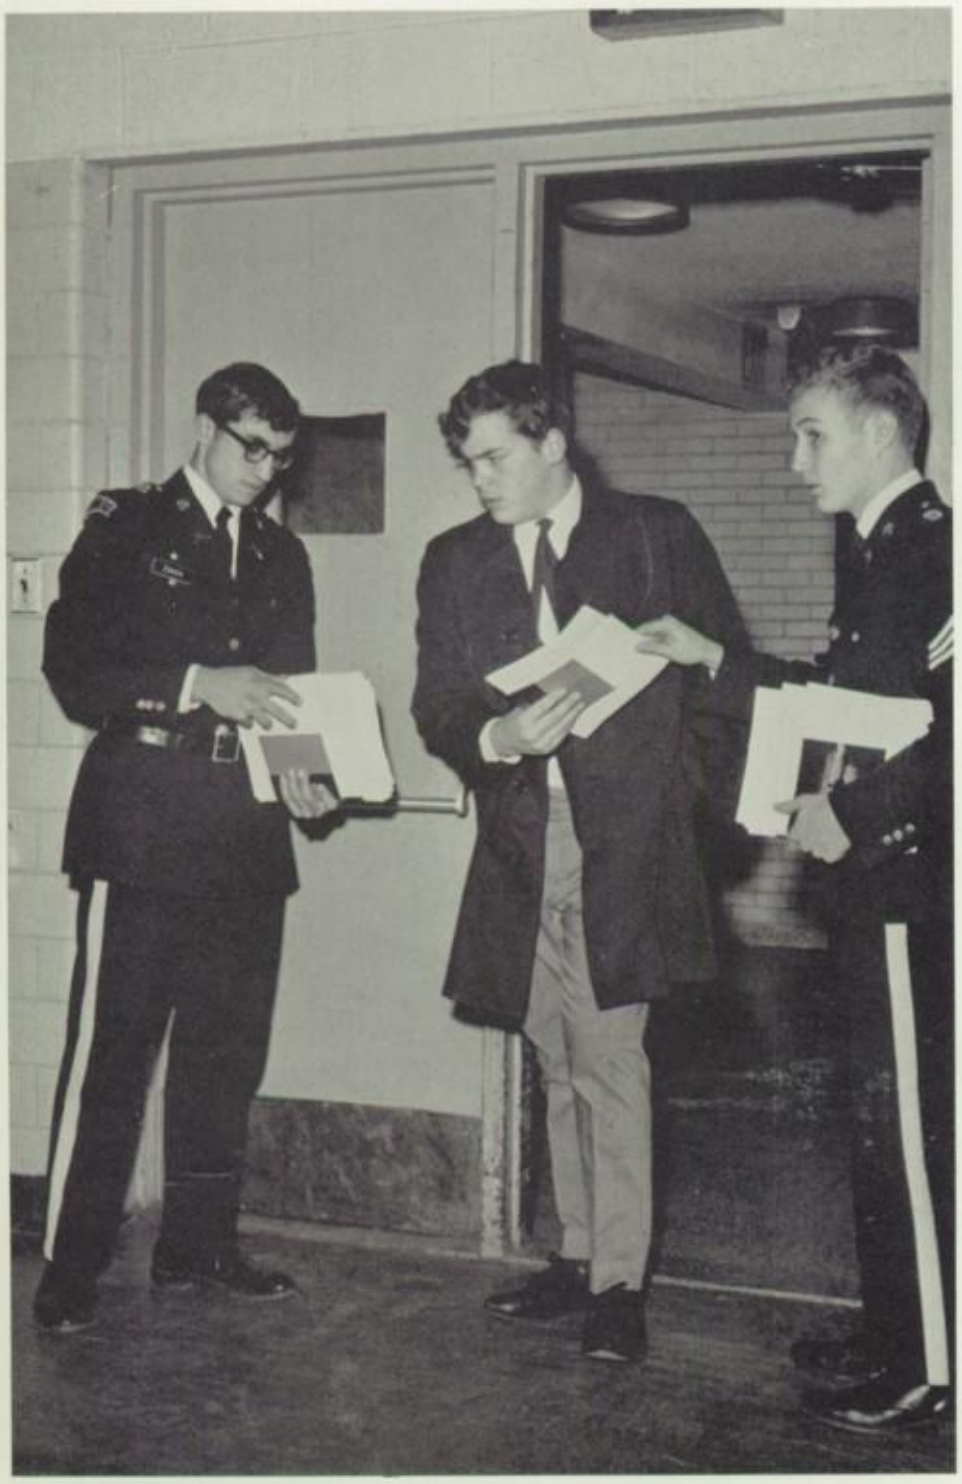
studious people...





respected people.

All these turn…

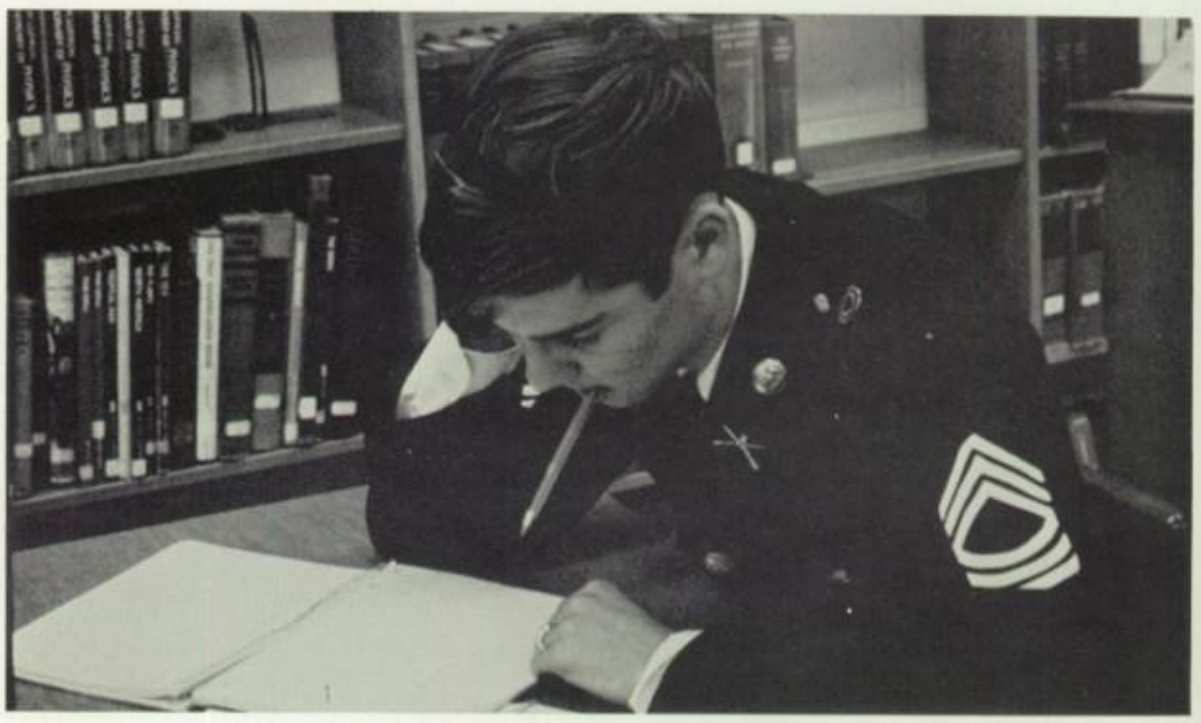


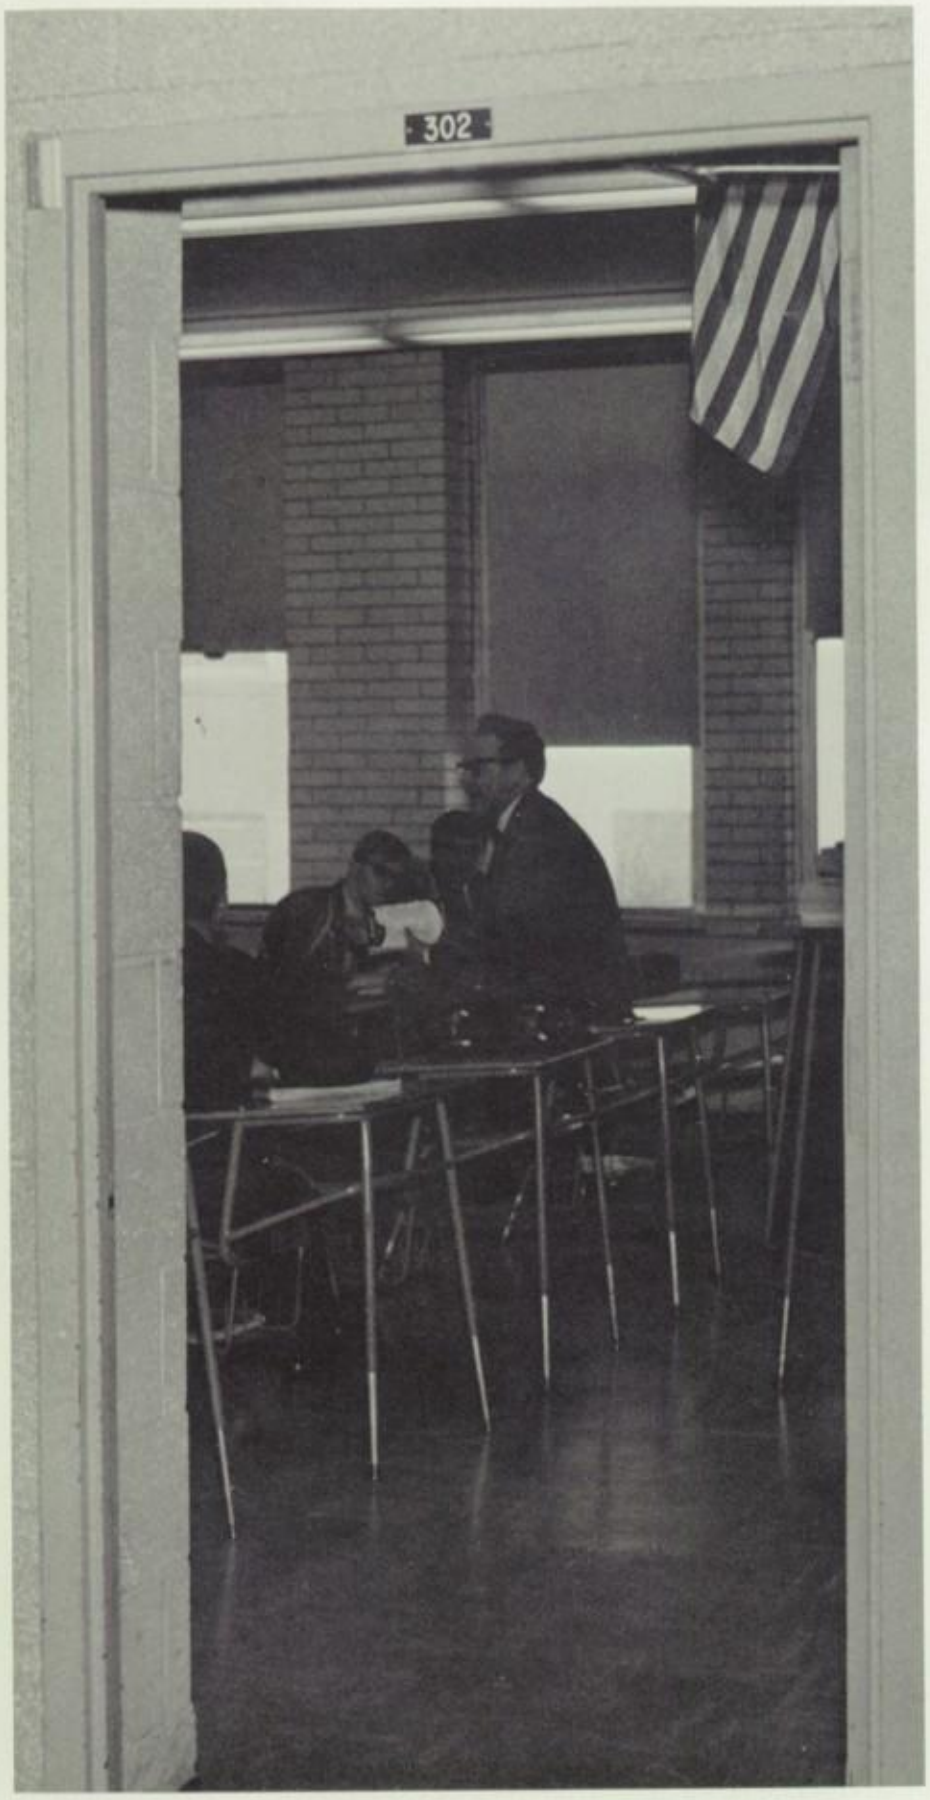
to one another.

Is there some...

intangible gift here...

which some are seeking . . .





along with those who have already discovered?

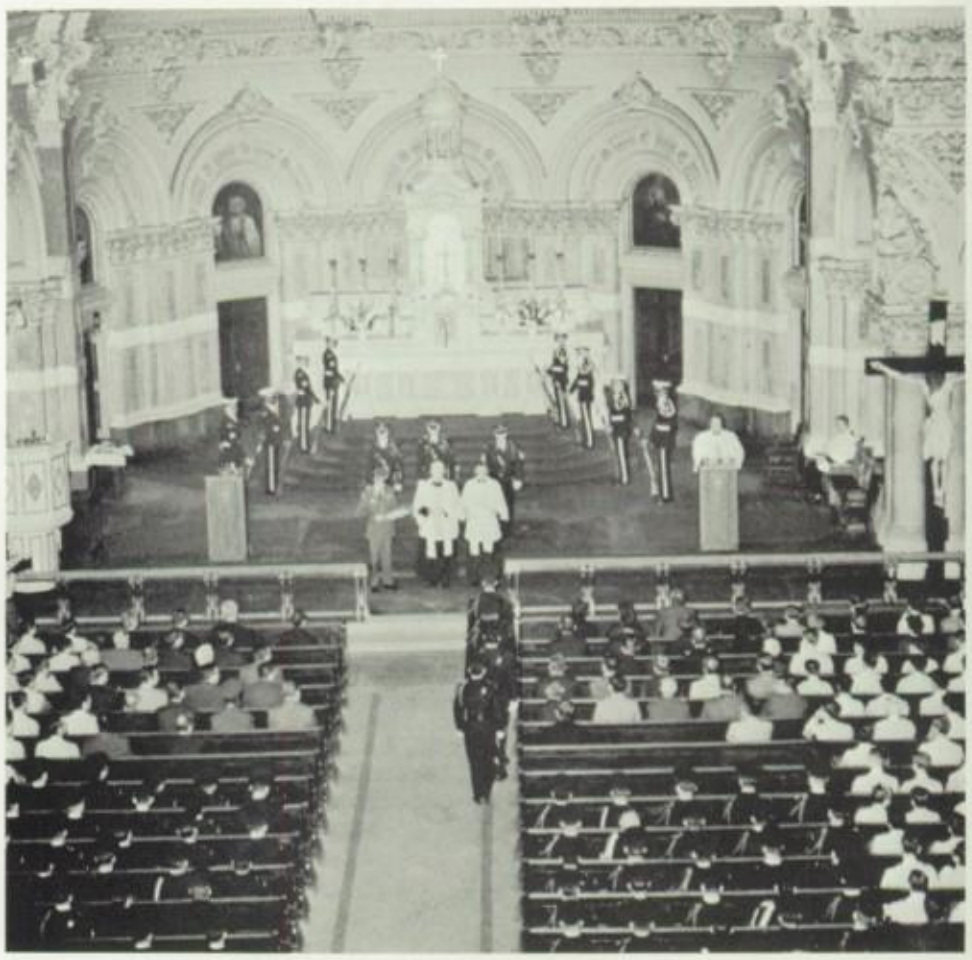
Colonel's Day

This year's Colonel's Day ceremonies were truly unique! Breaking the long-standing tradition of the Mass and dedication of the Regiment to Our Blessed Mother was a simple Bible Service with folk songs. Charles Brown, the new Colonel, received the traditional gold saber as a symbol of his authority and spoke on the makings of a good Regiment. Although the installation of the officers remained unchanged, another significant addition was the presence of the Council Chairman and the year and class presidents, which demonstrated an increased student participation in school affairs. The Chairman, Robert Calcagno, presented a thought-provoking speech on participation at Xavier, after which the new Headmaster, Rev. V. Duminuco, S.J. added a few words about Christian community.



NAVER

Melancholy Autumn

This year's Football Team was a disappointment to all, as far as wins and losses go. However, the team, as all other Xavier teams gave a hundred per cent effort, when you add up the desire, tears, sweat, blood and broken bones (not to mention the dislocated shoulders).

The season started out as a whirlwind and slowed to a mere breeze. The fighting eleven bested a Stuyvesant team - which later tied for the city public school championship - by a score of 19-0. Unfortunately, this was the peak of the season, as the Xavier gridsters went on to drop six in a row, four convincingly together with two heartbreakers. Brooklyn Prep with a last minute touchdown leap downed Xavier 18 to 14, and a rash of fumbles spoiled the Fordham game, the final score being 12 to 8.

Many excuses can be stated for the poor showing of the team but none will be given. This is a matter to be worked out between the coaches and the players. However, many players deserve recognition for their individual efforts. Among these are the seniors: Bob McGuirl, Vic Bruno, Joe Giantassio, Joe Girard, John Battaglino, Ken Keane, and Kevin Fitzgerald together with the Juniors: Ken McKenna, Joe Pukstas, Jim McGovern and Mike Garcia. Also expected starters, Frank Tirelli, Rich Wunder and Bob McMonagle were sidelined because of early season injuries.

With the end of the season, eyes turn toward next year . . .

Front Row: D. Langley (E), G. Conticcio (HB), J. McGovern (FB), M. Mondaruli (QB), E. Zigo (HB), J. Gallagher (G), L. Burns (FL), R. Robbitti (HB), J. Phelan (HB), R. Reiner (HB), J. Tweedy (HB), J. Carroll, Mr. P. Schwach, S.J. Third Row: E. Matladyszewski.

The Second Spring?

The crisp weather of late September brought with it the expectations of a promising cross-country season. Unfortunately, as the weeks progressed, several key injuries hampered the team's output. Tom Cody and Steve Daly were sidelined with leg injuries and Bob Bennett, due to sickness, never reached his potential. However, fine performances were turned in by juniors Gerry McKeegan and Jim Carrieo. The brightest spot in the season was the consistent performance of Pat Connolly. A varsity member for three years, Connolly capped a brilliant career by attaining the school record in the two and a half mile run. As the autumn culminated, hopes turned to next year and a successful season.

Indoor track

With the closing of another indoor track season, the Scottsmen have again proven their worth with a demonstration of perseverance and determination. Although the indoor season was riddled with injuries, many to key men, the team showed both its spirit and skill by sweeping the Jesuit tournament. This fine performance was only possible thanks to the equally fine coaching of Mr. James Scott and Mr. George Febles.

The outdoor season brought the return of some of the best of Xavier's harriers under their captains Steve Daly and Dick Spinnato.

The Band

The Regimental Band contributes much to the Xavier community on many levels. This unit, which is comprised of 75 men, marches in many parades in the city, and supplies music for various other occasions, such as church parades, Masses and assemblies. Both the abilities of concert musicianship and marching have been impressed on the Band members by the Director, Mr. Robert Cusimano, and the Assistant Director, Mr. Harold Bruce. Credit for the Band's smooth operation (as shown at the December Review) must go also to the Band's Staff. The guiding force behind this unit's excellence from the military viewpoint comes from the Band's Commanding Officer, Charles Cuccinello, and the Executive Officer, John Schaberg. Other influential Seniors are Tom Burns, 1st Sergeant, and the Band's other Officers Mike Oleske, Neil Ivory, Bob Grimes and Tom Brancato.

Pride and spirit in the unit are the two most important factors in determining how good the Band is. These two factors are becoming more and more apparent, as is the excellent play of the Band.

Color Guard

For many years the Color Guard has proudly borne the colors of our nation, the school, the church, and the city. The Guard, always presenting a neat and colorful appearance, is ably commanded by Cadet Captain Edward Larkin, followed up by First Sergeant Thomas Cody. Other members of the Guard are Rich Ennis, Matt DeLuca, Steve Tuccio, Bill Safranak, Harry Reid, Charlie Tolliver, Jim Reuter, Jim Saxon, and Joe Giovinco.

Rabble In Arms

From within its catacombs hidden beneath the old building, Xavier's dedicated though little noticed Supply Corps has lent its indispensable support to the Regiment. Under the guidance of SFC E. McGowan and the command of Maj. Paul Fuller the Corps has cared for the school's military equipment as well as its transportation to and from parades. When over nine hundred cadets require everything from tubas to armbands to be delivered promptly to an armory or marching field, it is Xavier's silent minority in the Supply Corps which shoulders this inglorious but essential burden. School spirit and service characterize their work.

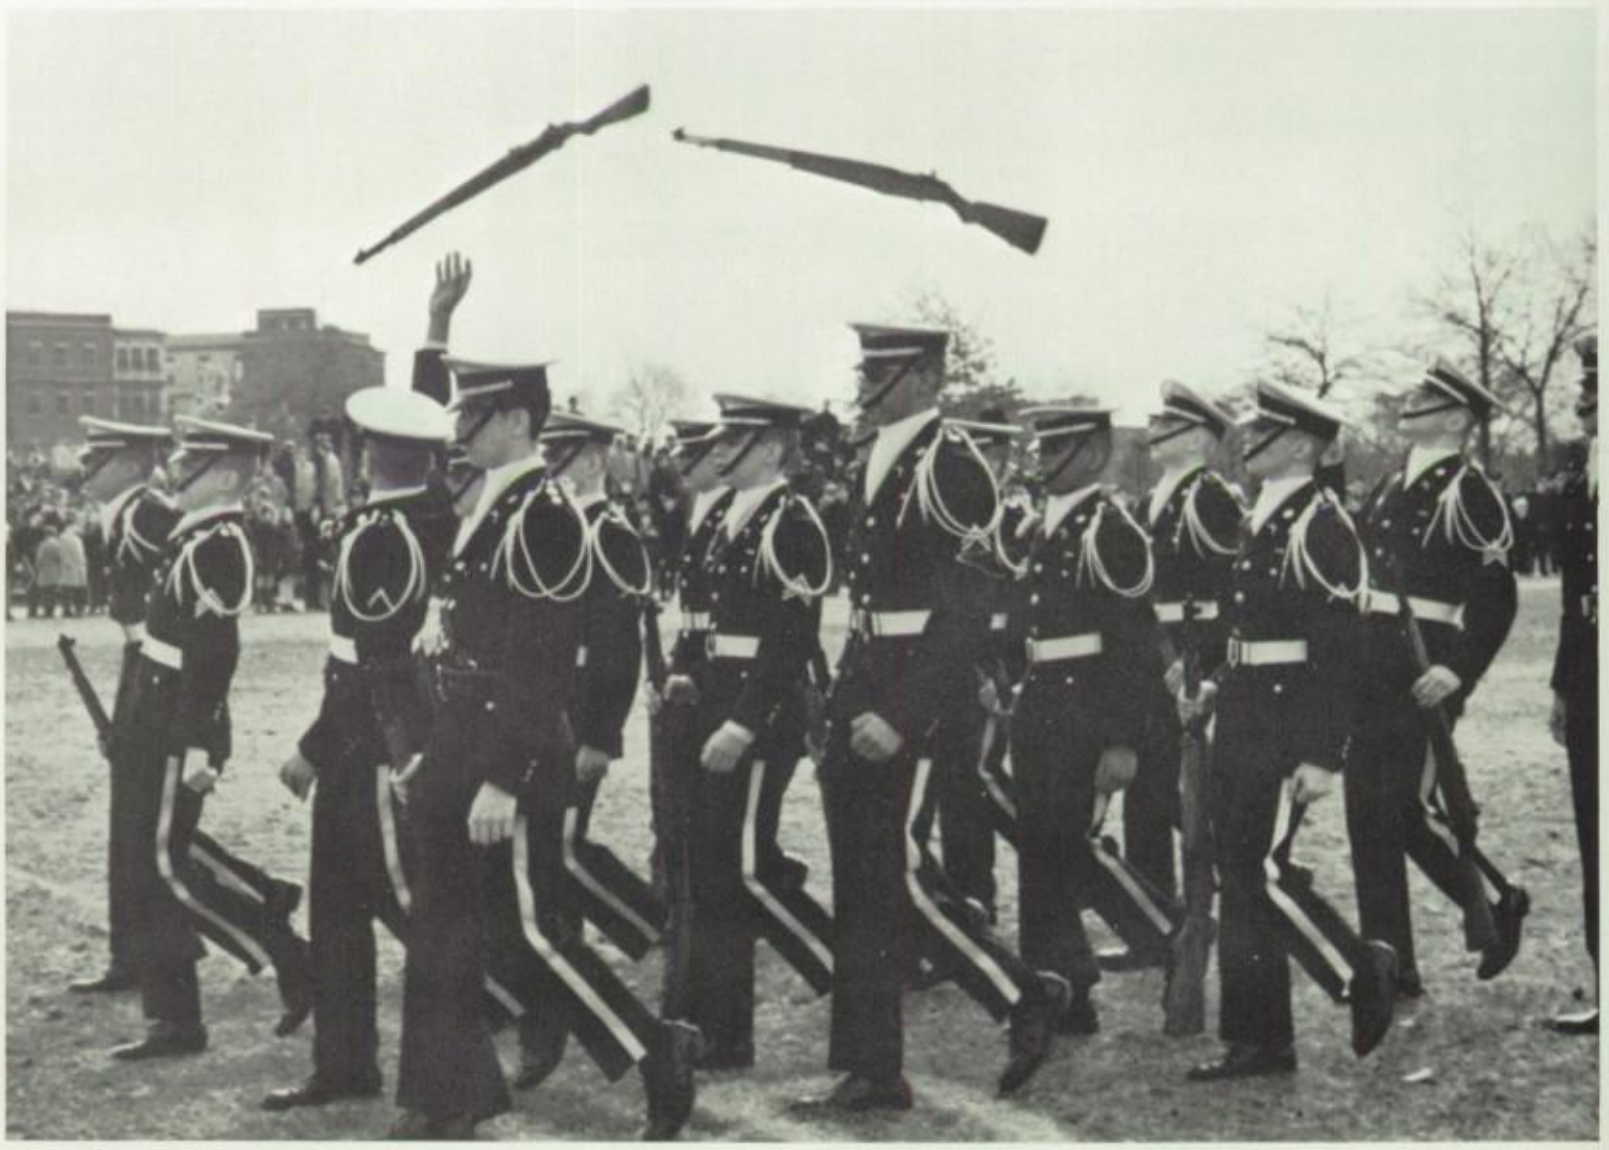
Carney's Computers

Since first the X-Squad performed on the drill floor in competition against the college drill teams of the nation, the Squad has always demonstrated expert quality in precision drill. The defending "National High School Champs" since 1968, they are one of the very few high school drill teams privileged to compete in Senior R.O.T.C. drill meets.

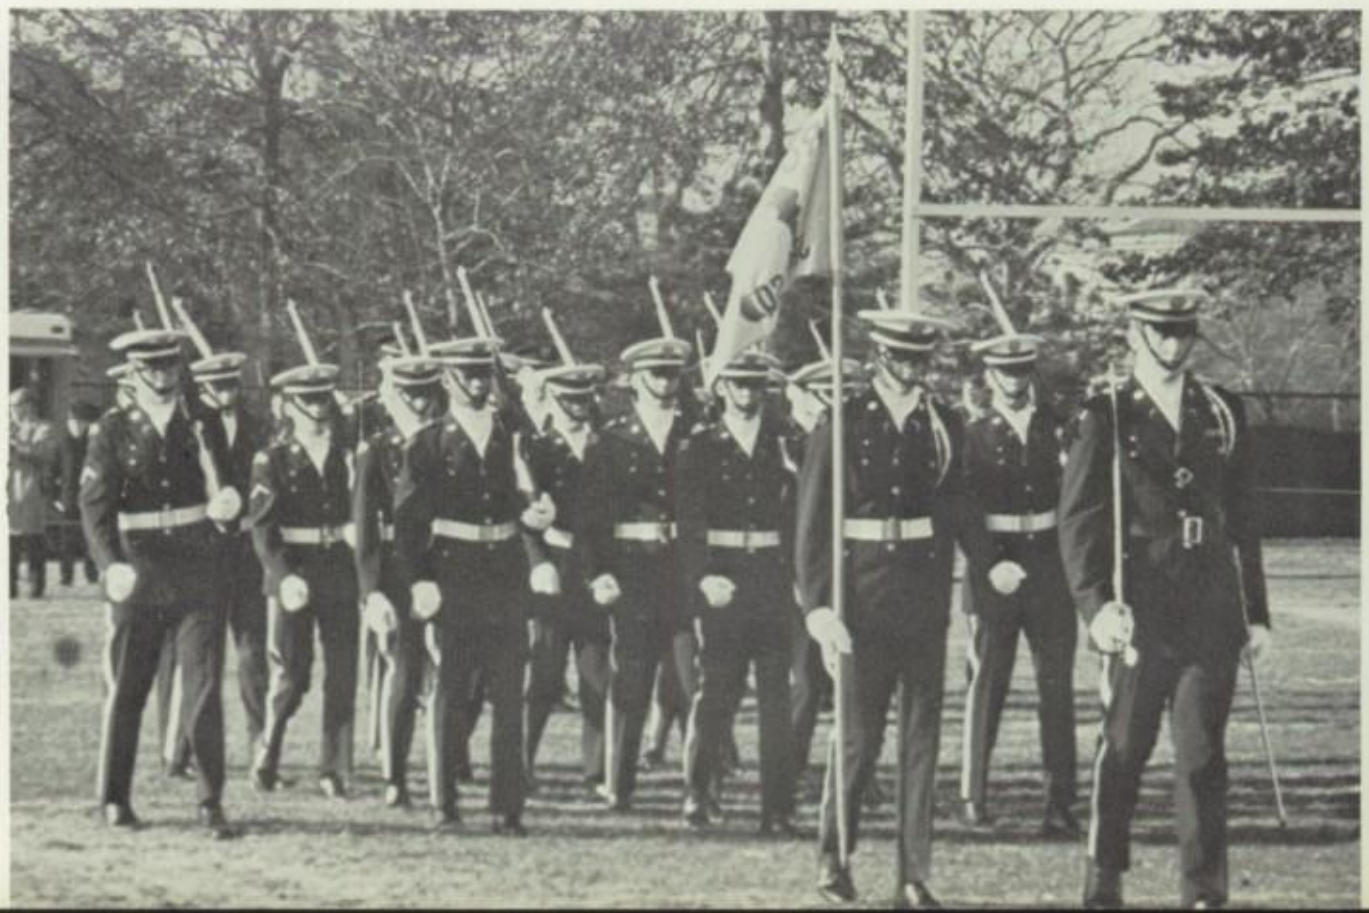
The Squad maintains an intensive drill program along with an outstanding "esprit de corps," and it has (by unanimous vote of the Squad) the best moderator in X-Squad history. SGM Raymond Carney has given up a great deal of his time and patience in counselling the members of the team.

Cadet Major Nick Linkowitz, who is also national champ in "I.D.R.," and X.O. Cadet Captain John Molino have brought about the best organization of the team to date. The Squad also has an excellent staff of Juniors, who administer to the proper care of weapons and the supply of necessary equipment.

With all of its members working together Xavier's drill team has earned and continues to defend its deserved title as the Nation's number one military drill squad.



The Little X



The PR Men

The objective of the Public Relations Club is to present an image of the school through one of the largest media. We shall achieve this objective by informing the various local newspapers about outstanding school events.

In the long run we hope to make the school better known to the many people who live in the city and its suburbs. This extra publicity will not only affect the school in general but will actually affect every one of the students.

We also intend to help incoming students by making the qualifications and advantages of the school more readily available to more and more people.

This will take time and our group is relatively small. With the help of two able moderators, Fr. Kenny, S. J., and Mr. Kennedy, S. J., we have struggled through the first year of our existence, but all will agree that we have become an important part of Xavier.

Since it is imperative that good citizens of a democracy remain informed and vocal, the Political Science Club has attempted to stimulate ideas by establishing an atmosphere in which free discussion can take place about contemporary problems.

The Club has a small but determined following among the student body. Seniors, such as Frank Paquin and Steve Carney, have provided the spark to take up such difficult topics as Vietnam and nuclear disarmament.

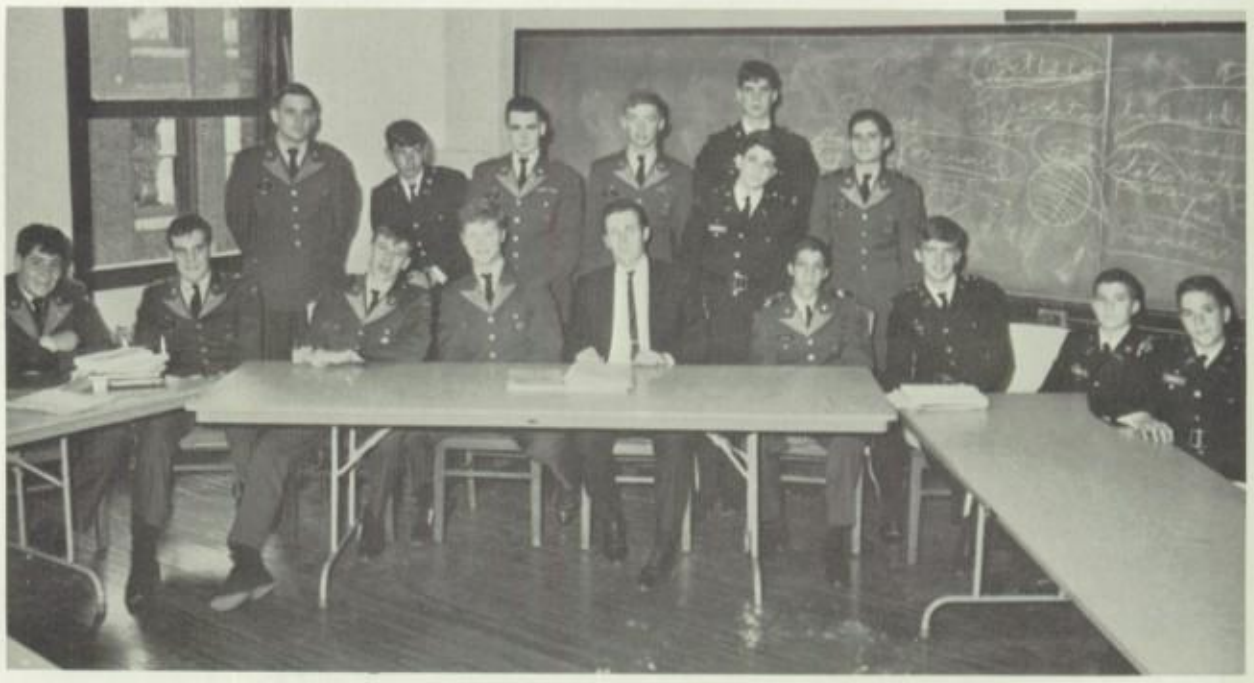
The liberal attitudes of the club have often been criticized, but the situation is kept well in hand by right-wing Mr. Donlan, who balances all situations with his unending wit and logic.

The Firing Squad

The Rifle Team, one of Xavier's unknown competitive sports, has had a record-breaking season in the tradition which is its own. This was the result of the combined efforts of all members working as a team. Tedious practices and an overwhelming amount of concentration has made the team work smoothly when the pressure has been on. The marksmen were ably guided by MSG Richard Dower (Ret.) with the aid of team captain Antonio (Tony) Aguirre.

First Row: T. Gassert, F. Calaboral, A. Aguirre (Capt.), M. Sparrow, E. Laurich, P. Marsulo, W. Safrenec. Second Row: Sargeant Dower, B. Van Herwarde. A. Sippo, J. Horris, K. Schneider, J. Rueter, D. Offer, G. Di Giacomo, D. Traczykowski, Fr. Edden.

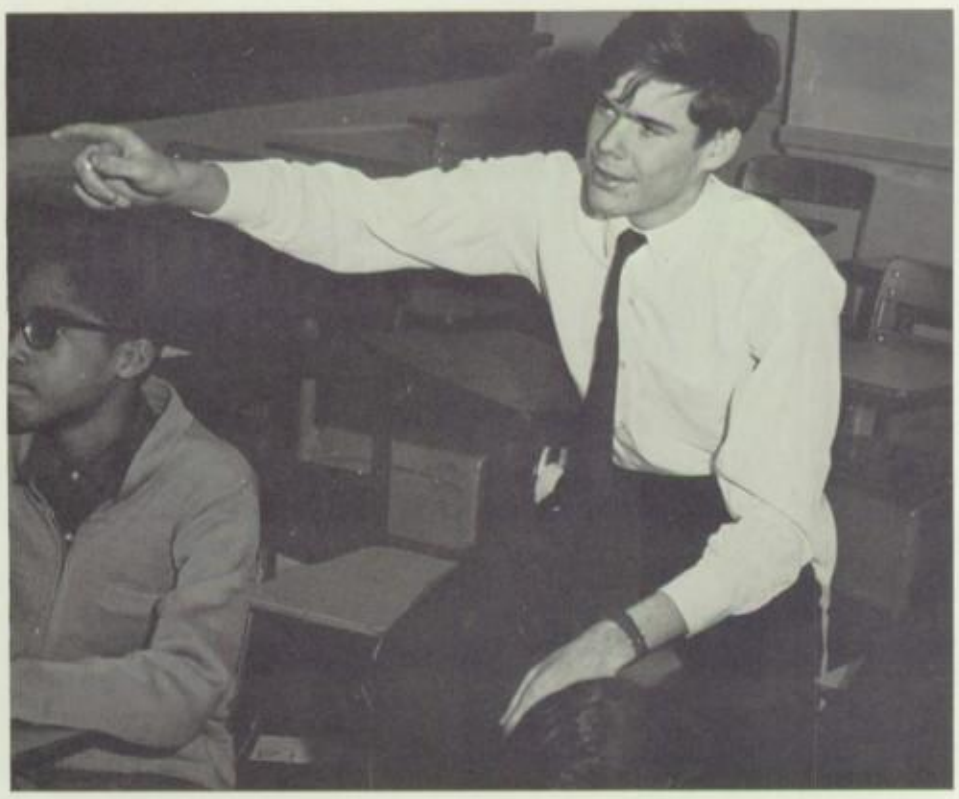
Do Unto Others



Sitting: K. Mackey, R. Houlihan, M. Reynolds, W. Butler, Mr. John Foley, A. Giambone, T. Farrell, A. Keane, M. Saracen. Standing: A. Scala, J. Sundman, D. Loar, V. Euk, T. Taylor, J. Allegretti, A. Alfonso.

The Social Apostolate and Tutoring Program has been established for those who want to express their Christian knowledge not just in words, but in actions. This involves conscientious involvement that takes time and patience.

Seventh grade boys from various grammar schools in deprived areas in N.Y.C. come to Xavier to prepare themselves for the Cooperative Entrance Examination for high school. It is up to the tutor to give them guidance in this matter, as well as a desire for good scholarship.



Oratorically Speaking

This year again Xavier speakers have been battling it out with other schools for the title of best speech team in the city. Some new additions have appeared this year on the coaching staff; Messers. Boller, Kennedy and Starkey, S. J. have been assisting the seasoned Mr. Sloun, S.J. in moderating the activity.

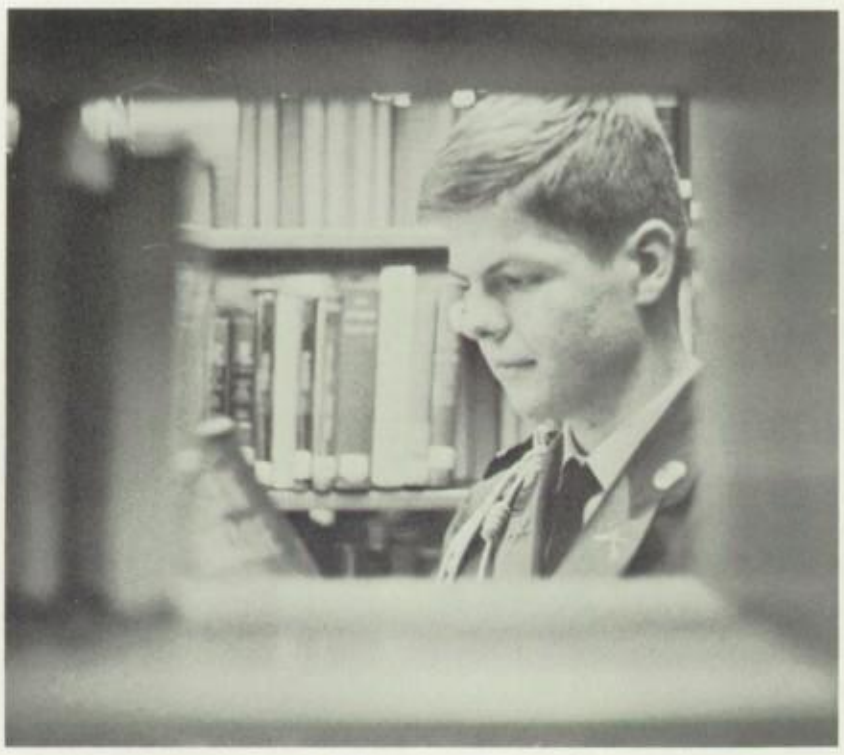
The senior speaker, Dennis Kelly, began to show his ability early in the year at Henrick Hudson where he captured a third place in Original Oratory. As president, Dennis has been leading the Speakers' Guild. Kevin Toner and Ihor Rak meanwhile have been lending support with fine showings in debate.

The Juniors have also demonstrated their abilities to uphold our Xavier tradition. James Scala captured fourth place right at the start of the year; he was ably assisted by James McGovern. Michael Orchard and John Tetzlaff turned in a fine record in their first year on varsity.

The bright light this year were the Freshmen. Many have been involved and their early success was a good omen for the future.

When asked about the team, Mr. Sloun, no mean speaker of French, declared in golden rhetoric: "Bon!"

The Booklenders



Each Xavier student rightfully assumes that the library will function smoothly. This confident attitude has been made possible only by the quiet, competent work of the library staff. It is to the credit of this small, diligent group, under the direction of Miss Linda Salvati and her chief officers Charles Diaz and Danny Sullivan, that books are on their correct shelves, periodicals are in their expected places, and fines are in their proper coffers.

The Book Vendors

Considered by our aficionados to be the "hottest" spot in the school, the bookstore is more, and often less, than a store. Purveyors by appointment to Xavier's academia, we also dabble in stationary and other fast moving items, to say nothing of fine garments and military gallantry—all under the motto, "For Gaud and Xavier."

Running (from?) this anti-establishment is Mr. Fiore, sometime lecturer in antiquities. He is more than assisted by a flexible staff of reliable sales and stock clerks as well as numerous other passers-by, socialites and extra-curricular raconteurs. A place to stop and shop, to talk and gawk at the underground culture at Xavier, the bookstore is just that and "honi soit qui mal y pense.

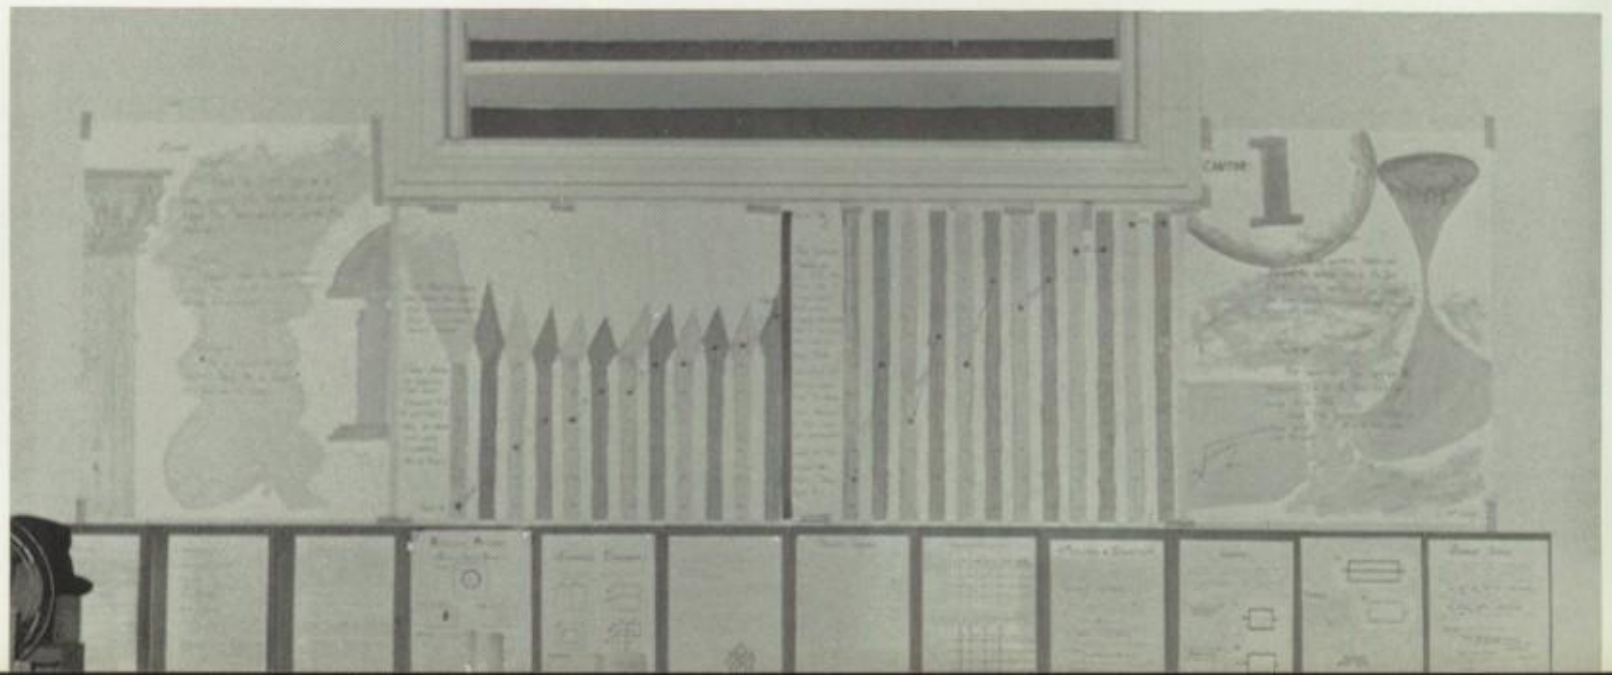
First Row: B. O'Connell, J. Savino, E. Tuozzo, Mr. B. Fiore, S.J., H. Pardo, N. Linkowitz, R. Teatsorth.

Playing the numbers

The key word at the Math Club meetings this year was "competiton." Contests were held on a variety of math-related topics and appropriate prizes were awarded. Many hidden talents were uncovered in this way. By the end of the first semester John Kung had emerged as a champion number wielder, and George Torre had shown himself to be a master of the art of logical thinking. Anthony Lionetti also figured prominently in the contest results.

Several freshmen were active in the club this year. Notable among them was Walter Murphy, who demonstrated and explained an amazing computer which he built entirely by himself!

Great things are predicted for the future of this phase of Xavier's intellectual life.



X-rays

As a junior member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Xavier Science Club fosters an interest in individual research. Experimentation has been carried on in such diverse fields as Radio Astronomy, solar flares, marine biology and intergalactic communications. Since its re-birth two years ago, the club has taken vast measures to expand upon its impressive and confusing assortment of instruments and the knowledge of those who use them.

Mr. Felix Fornino is the enthusiastic teacher and advisor to President John Sabini, Vice-President Anthony Leonetti and the remaining junior scientists of the foundation.

One small step for Man. . . .

Mr. Thomas McCorry's 1969-70 team, which worked relentlessly behind the scenes, finally received the fruits of all its hard work. Upon the start of the season Xavier defeated its first three opponents: Loyola, Bishop DuBois, and Iona Prep. Although everyone expected an excellent follow-through on this fine beginning, the team could only muster three more wins. But despite its misfortune Xavier eased into the playoffs, sputtering out in the closing minutes as it conceded the fourth spot to Iona Prep.

The main bulk of the team was carried by Francis Foy, Division All-Star, and Francis McNamara, who gave the team the extra drive it needed to be victorious in a number of tough situations.

The J. V. Basketball Team, despite a so-so record (7-12) made great advances this season. In the Fall, there was no backcourt—three Sophomore guards made the varsity. By the end of the season there was an unusual occurrence: a Xavier team in the playoffs. Actually the season was a series of ups and downs. There were some victories by twenty to thirty points, but also some losses by the same measure. The top note of the season was the first game against a tough Regis team. That night, largely without the services of J. McCahey due to foul trouble, the team played as a unit. This was in the middle of a five-game winning streak. This full performance, however, was not to be seen again. The gains of the season were numerous and valuable: J. McCahey grew familiar with moves around the basket and was especially strong on defensive rebounds; R. Palladino and W. Russell (This year's O'Shea winner) provided consistent rebound support and S. Dinsmore and J. Arronte developed into good playmakers.

The Pool Sharks

The Xavier Swim Team has undergone a drastic change in the past two years. They were transformed from a mediocre fifth place team to league champs in one season and have become recognized as one of the best teams in the city.

This change is no mere coincidence. Swimming is a full time sport, running from October to March with five two-and-one-half hour workouts a week (including Saturdays). Talent is only one facet that swim coach Mr. Joseph White looks for in his new swimmers. There has to be a desire to work and sacrifice besides the ability to be a good swimmer.

Next year's season looks very promising with fifteen returning varsity swimmers and the strong possibility of another league championship.

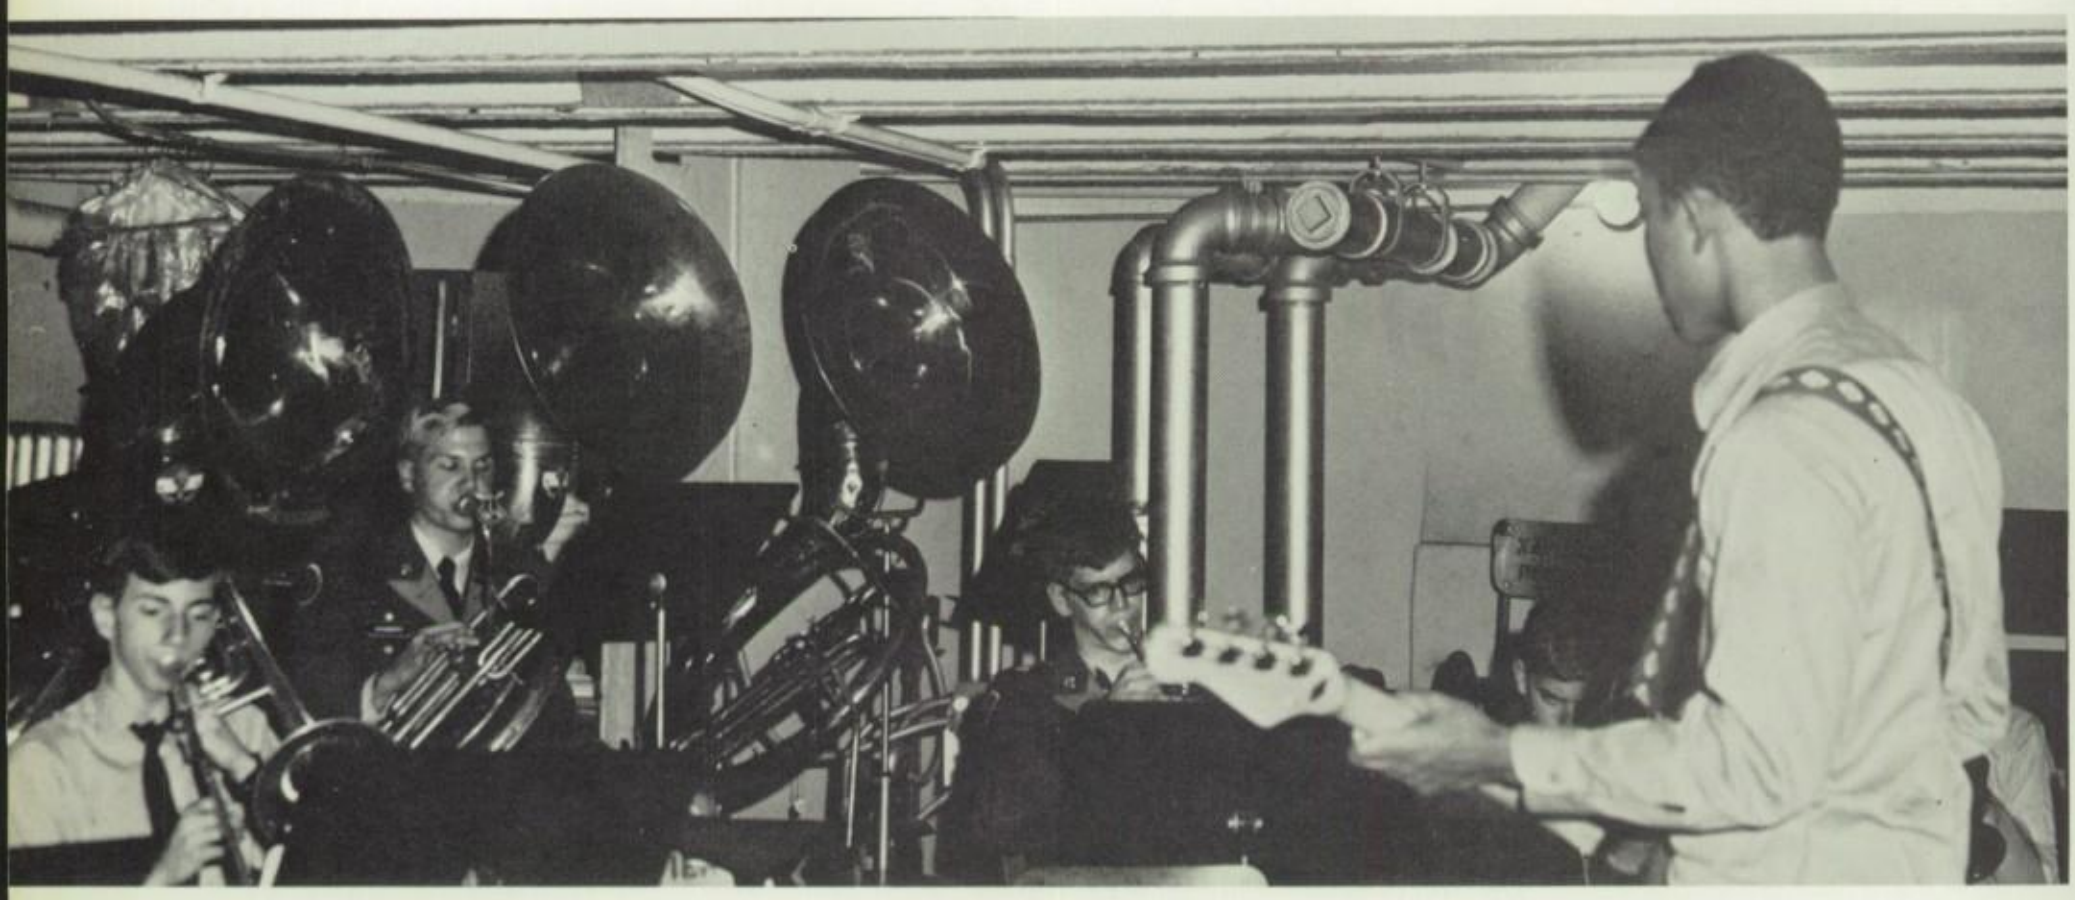
Sodality

Encompassing members from all four years in four sections, the Sodality serves as one of the most important religious activities at Xavier. Under the excellent guidance and direction of Messers. Boller, LoBue, Starkey and Fr. Wood, the Sodality aims to deepen the understanding of the Christian Faith in its members. Not only do the sodalists inspire stimulating discussions with guest speakers, but they also help the Christian community by serving in various community projects.

Hard Rock

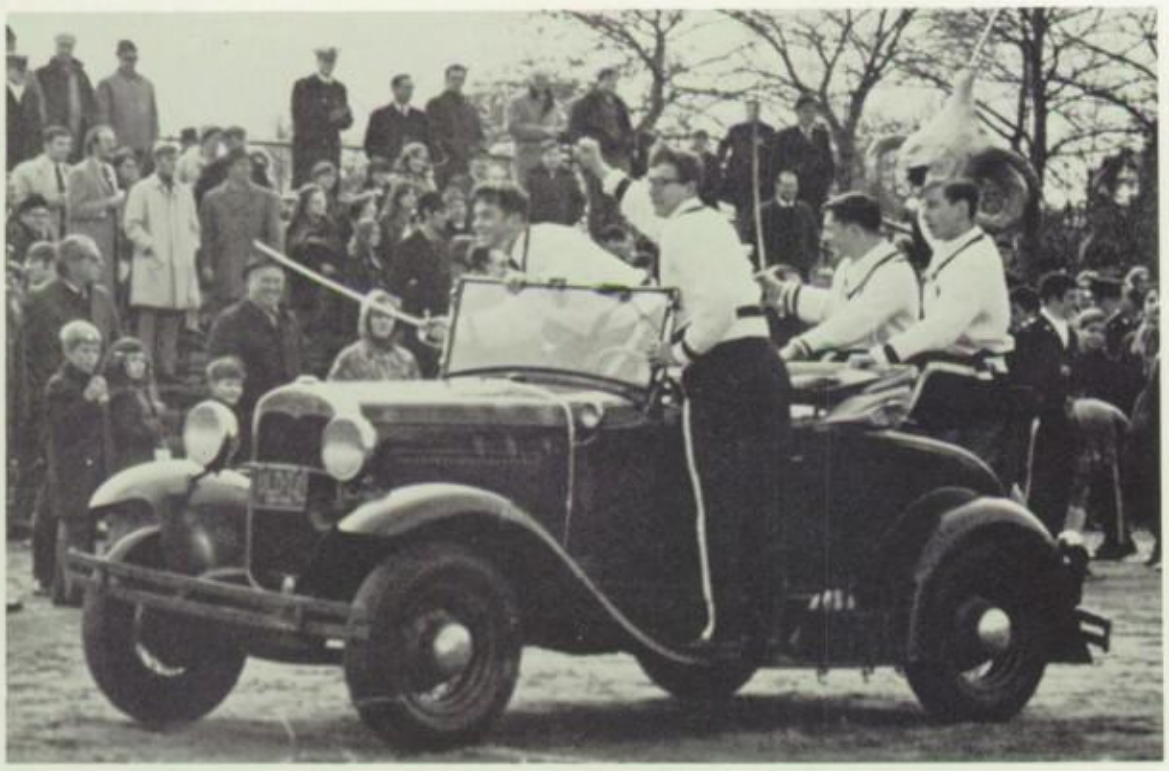


"Hard Rock" has been the goal of this year's Game Group, which is a team of outstanding musicians picked from the band. The addition of organ and bass guitar has made this transition possible. The devotion of outstanding members such as John Eng, Neil Ivory, Charles Cuccinello, and Rich Griffin has made it possible for the group to produce renditions of such popular songs as "White Rabbit" and "Life." Among its other accomplishments of the year the group has laid a firm foundation for future members to rely upon.

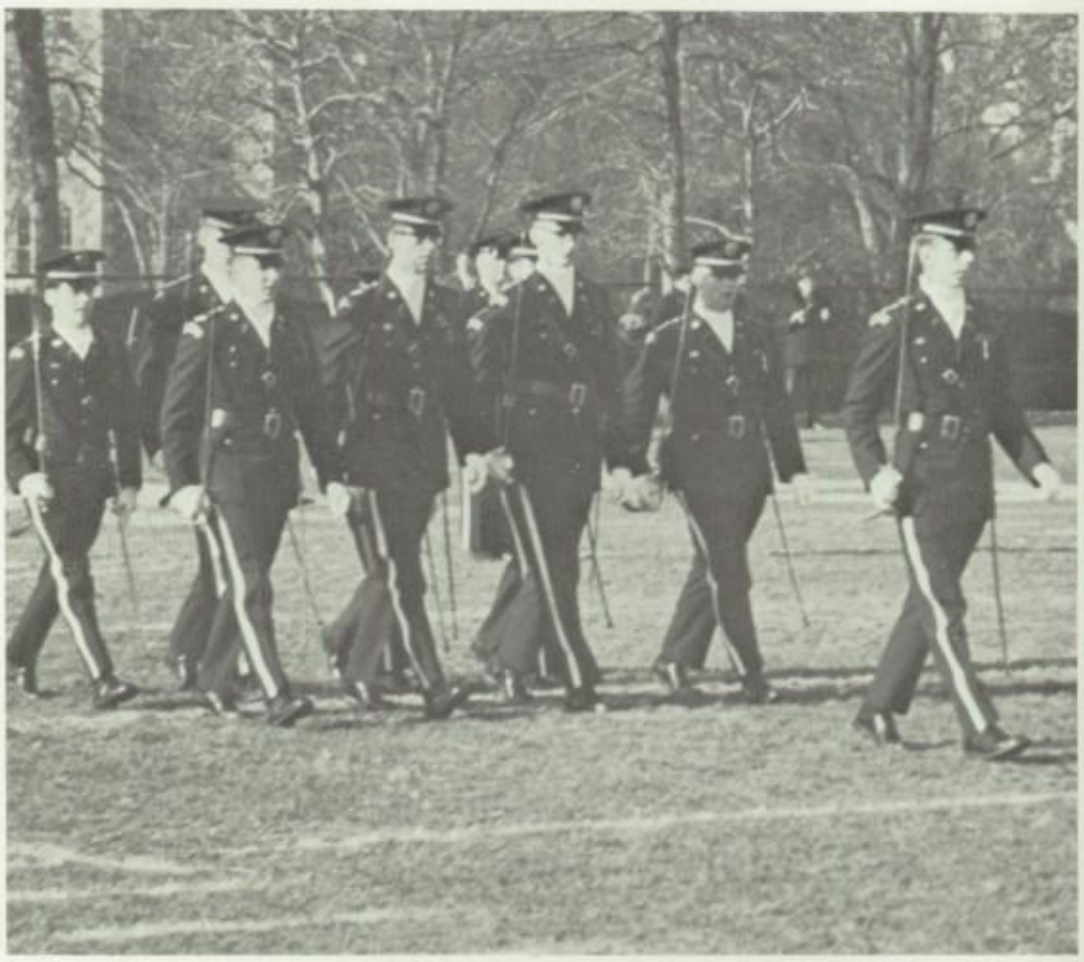
Leaders of the Silent Majority

It is very difficult to describe what this crew of young men look like after they have struggled through peg-leg commanders, Mission Impossible imitations, paint cans and the Fordham goalposts, a papier-mache ram decapitated by the gold saber, "I've-got-that feeling" cheers, and numerous other exploits.

Led by that fearful coward, Richard Telesmanich, who will long be remembered for his distinctive pronunciation of names at football rallies, the hard-core radicals of slapstick made the mind boggle with their highly entertaining efforts at whipping up school spirit. Such outstanding cadets as Charlie Brown, Tom Ribaudo, and the undefeatable Brendan McCahill moved with lightening speed, administering whipped cream, maroon and blue paint, and the edge of a blade to their various victims. Above and beyond it all stands Kevin Carroll, silently laughing at the absurdity within his creation.



Pass in Review



With Colonel Brown leading the way, the Xavier Regiment has marched through the year with the style and vigor of the past. The expedition up Fifth Avenue on Columbus Day together with the invasion of Coffey Field on Thanksgiving Day was the end-product of hours of hard work behind the scenes at the Twenty-Sixth Street Armory. The climax of the military season came on December fourteenth, when the Regiment marched out onto the floor of the 168th Street Armory under the review of generals and families. Cadets displaying military excellence received recognition, and the Band and the X-Squad gave stellar performances. Next on the long list of Xavier's presentations was the Spring Review to bring a shining close to the year.

The Chess Mates

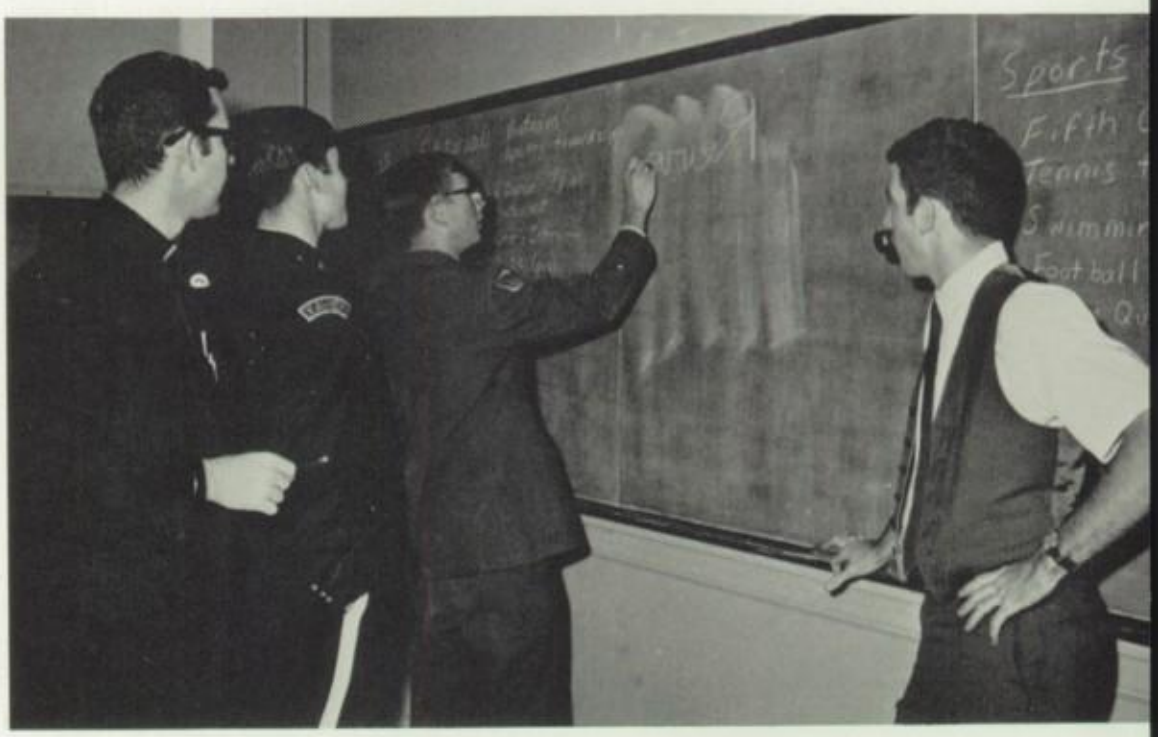
At a time when blood seethes and tempers flash over the vexing issues of war and peace, or the not-so-vexing annoyances of the uniform or hair length; at a time when the grim paradox of "war games" excites devotees with enthusiasm and the disaffected with repulsion (and what at all can move the indifferent?), the chess club offers a middle ground where the opposition can be excised by the fine point of strategem rather than bashed by the club of obduracy. Meeting weekly at the court of Sir Bruce, Baron of Strzelczyk (the last of the disinherited Polish nobility), the members grapple not for the fast-fading beauty of some fair maid but for the enduring, howbeit elusive, crown of victory.

A Revived Song

Broadway critics may not have taken note, but one of New York's best revivals this season was the rebirth of the Xavier Chorale, which for several years had been defunct. Under the capable direction of Mr. John LoBue, S. J. together with Mr. John LaRocca, S. J. the glee club lent its collective voice to liturgical functions throughout the year as well as to entertaining concerts. The members' dedication was well proven by their frequent preparations for performances. But—as though this were not convincing enough— the club even risked a bomb scare at the Pan Am building in order to present its Christmas concert. Such service beyond the call of duty, coupled with the chorale's fine singing, has fortunately revitalized the long tradition of a glee club at Xavier.

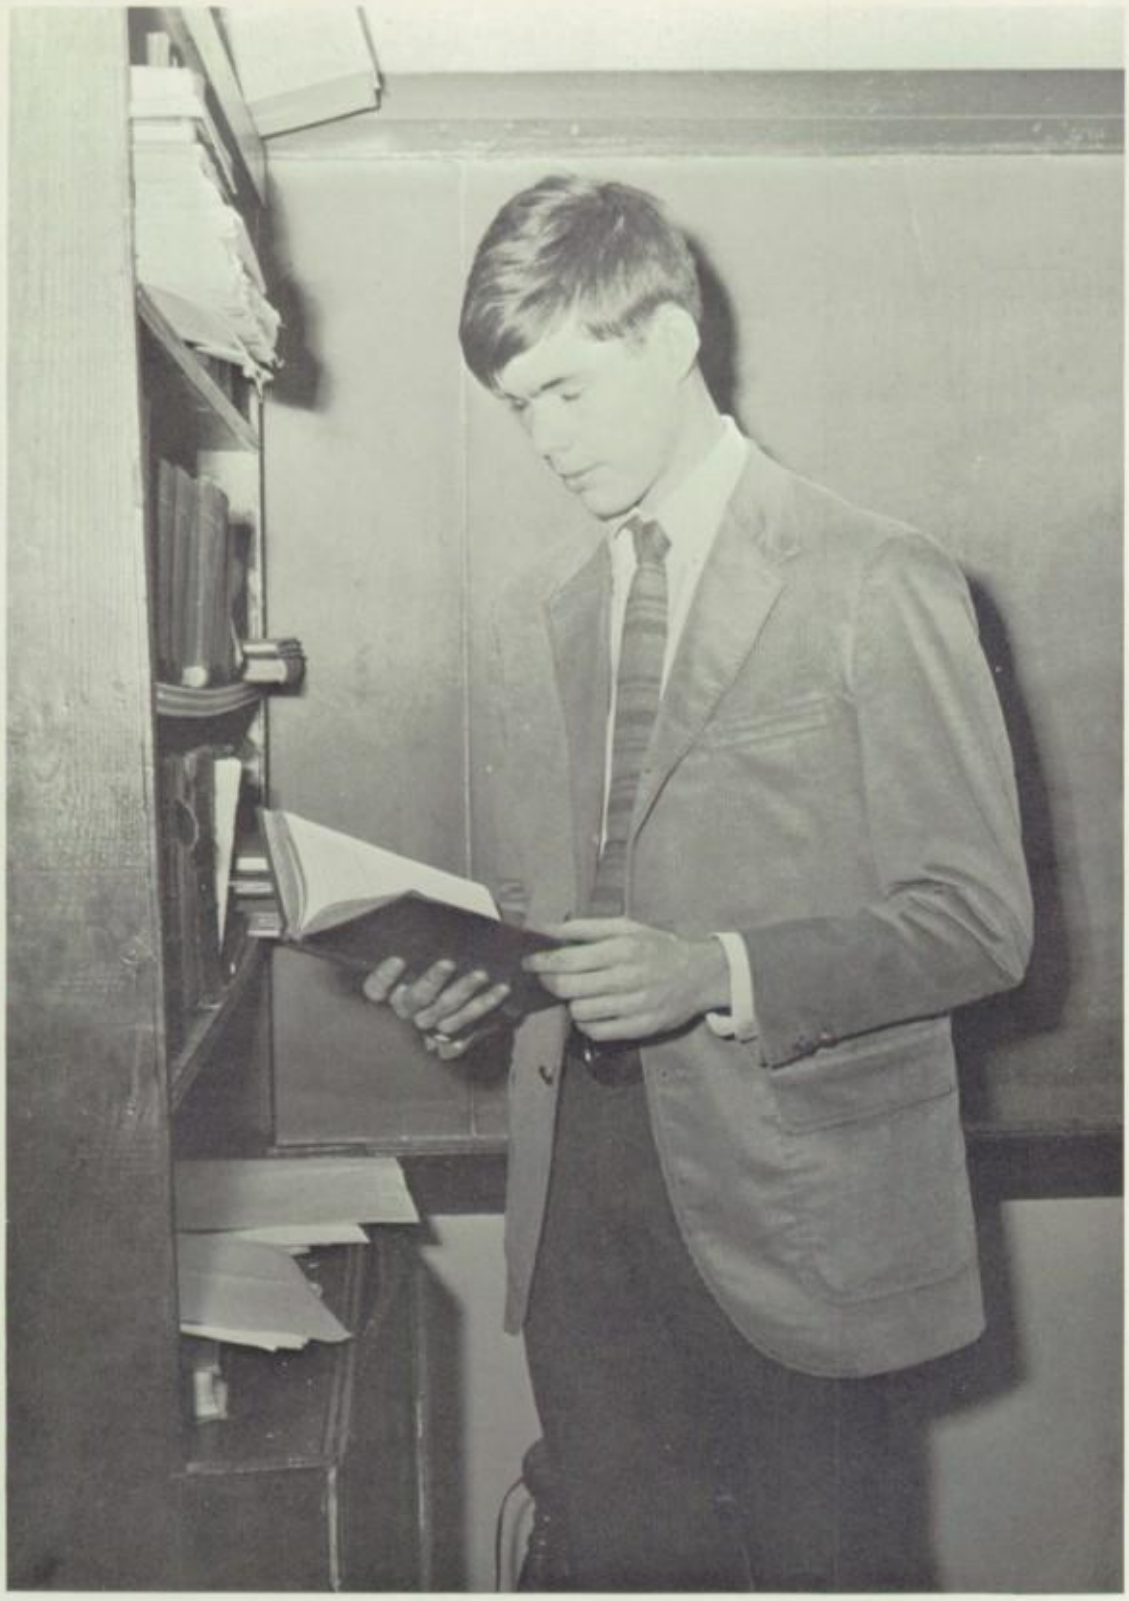
The Bi-weekly

The dominant quality of the staff in this, the first year in the reign of Mr. O'Keeffe, S.J., was adaptability. The troika editorship of Michael Fayne, Francis Piderit, and Ihor Rak had the dual task of creating a newspaper and putting it out on a bi-weekly basis. The slaves of Ron Rico received consolation, and in rare instances good writing, from the trio of managing editors, John Frank, John Coppinger, and Brad Ferguson; all sports writing was handled by Jim Carriero, Jim McGee, and Joe Yacavone, who were solely responsible for the quizzes. With such an illustrious staff, aided by the many excellent contributing writers and regular staff members, and guided by the witticisms of Mr. O'Keeffe, S.J., it was possible for an entire issue to be created in two hours; not only possible, it occurred on a regular basis.



The Xavier

In its most recent year of publication (its 107th) the XAVIER has rarely met one of its deadlines. This slight lack of punctuality is a fault easily forgiven when one considers the arduous process of collecting, selecting, and editing articles. The breathless rush to the printer's has always resulted in a fine, if somewhat belated, finished product. The XAVIER'S harried staff includes editors Dean Stetz and Al Marchini, supported in their effort and confusion by Bob Bennett, John Eng, and Thomas Cody. Mr. Philip Notabaert, S.J. smiles upon all, as he tries to moderate and cajole.



Worthy of a Thousand Words

This year the Photo Staff has developed into a picture of success. The developer is Bill Orchard (President); the stop bath, the second step in the process, is played by Gary Stetz, while the Fixer, which clears and reinforces the print, is Ralph Jozefowitz (Vice-President). The rinsing and drying is taken care of by an efficient crew of workers who put a lot of time and effort into the Staff's operation.

The best evidence of the Staff's professional quality work is the photographic coverage of all facets of the Xavier Story, presented in the EVENING PARADE and in the REVIEW. The Staff has also exhibited photos of current school events on the main bulletin board.

In order for a process as complex as photography to work efficiently, there must be cooperation on the part of each member of the Staff. The attainment of such a harmony has been the real achievement of the Photo Staff of 1969-70.

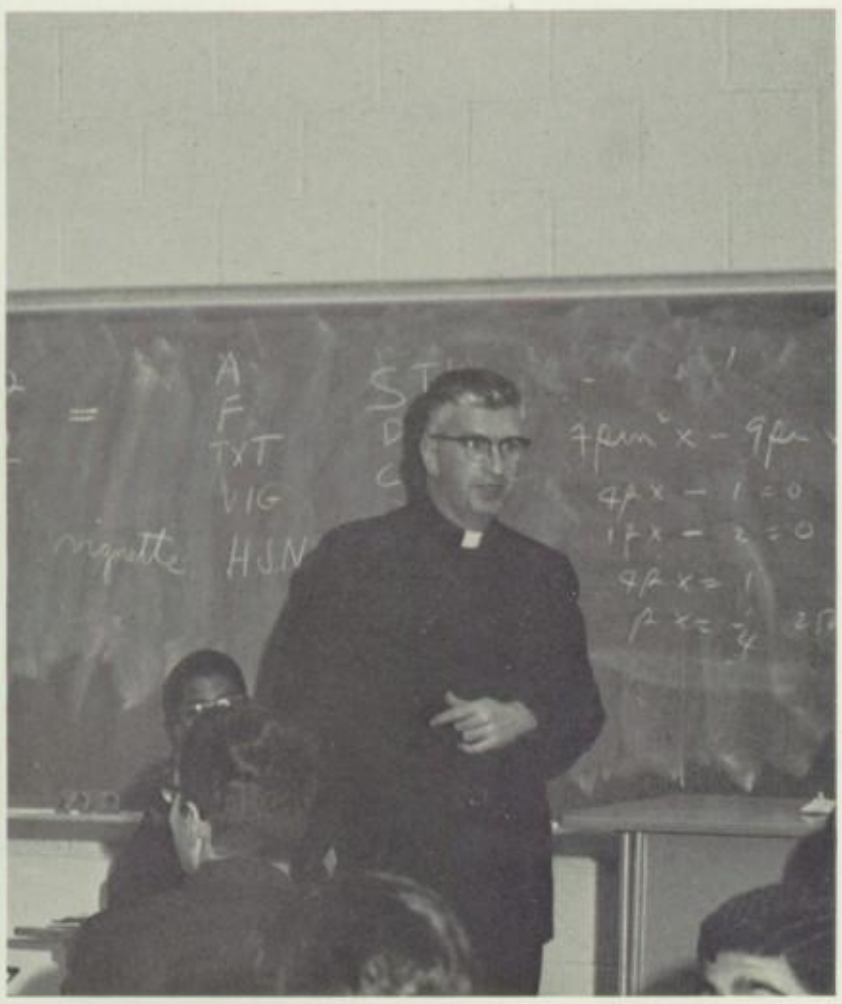
The History of Class Struggles

Through hard work, patience, and consistency, the Student Council at Xavier has become an organization, which provides for students a voice in policies concerning themselves, and the school as a whole. Members of the Council coordinate student voice with faculty opinion. And although this form of student government is not considered a legislative body, its decisions and recommendations are highly valued.

In a lighter vein, the council takes care of social events, such as our latest, The Spring Rock Concert, featuring the James Gang, I.D.'s, Freshmen Counseling, etc.

Growth & Importance are two words which seem to symbolize the Student Council at Xavier.



The Moynahan Trophy

Fr. William Wood, S.J., Robert Bennett, John Battaglino, Fr. Vincent Duminuco, S.J.

With Deep Appreciation

The students, faculty and alumni of Xavier gratefully thank Mr. Paquin for his thirty-five years of service to the football team and his development of Xavier men. Mr. Paquin has displayed in his service the qualities of character which Xavier has always desired to instill. We look forward to his continued presence as Director of Athletics and teacher.

A V

The AV Staff has been serving the faculty of Xavier for three years now. Overseeing this massive operation stands Richard Moylan (and behind his back is the shadowy figure of Fr. Dengler, S.J.). Richard's tasks include the cataloging of materials and equipment, making staff assignments and supplying faculty members with requested audio-visual materials. Among other notables are the Day Officers Larry Muscat, Jerry Calcagno, Timothy Murdock and Carmine Musumeci. Pat Raffaniello and Denis Patterson run the sport film operation, while John Tracy watches (over?) the TV. Al Roker serves as the resident cartoonist. Lost repair receipts are continually being searched out by Jeffrey Heagen and John Malady; Myron Krawchuk aspires to run the movie projectors. Kniejski, Warren and Tarpey always show up together. Pat Cuskley hasn't shown up at all. William Kulesza dominates the RED BOOK. Kevin Smith finds the AV room a good place to do homework.

The Racket Squad

PAX

One night at Monroe, N.Y. in 1969 a hope was born among a number of Juniors who were discussing Xavier. It was a hope for better human relations at Xavier, for interest in all facets of Xavier, for a new life among the students, faculty, and administration. It was the hope for community at Xavier.

The outgrowth of that hope was PAX, a movement with one lone objective, to facilitate the development of a community existence at Xavier. Through participation in the Freshmen Orientation program, Student-Faculty Exchange day, Senior-Freshmen Tutoring, and other projects, the members of this movement, ranging through all four years of the school, pursued this goal despite many obstacles, striving for the atmosphere at Xavier where all could grow in an understanding and attachment for one another.

Whether or not PAX succeeded is a question that can only be answered by the student body reflecting upon itself. But it cannot be questioned that PAX began the drive for real community existence at Xavier, and it is an exciting tribute to Xavier that those students who appear in the picture and many others will leave the school with the belief that the only way man can live with his fellow man is through cooperative effort and love.

The computer club is a small group of bright, dedicated upperclassmen who meet once a week to further their mathematical knowledge in the growing field of computers. Under the excellent instruction and piercing gaze of Mr. John LoBue, S.J. this group will be able to supply IBM with new leaders in the future! ?

Two days before the U. S. Government announced that it was canceling all work on UFOs, Xavier's own UFO, Dr. Patrick Sullivan (shown here holding giant Martian slide-rule) declared that he would assemble Xavier's own scientists to investigate this problem.

The first difficulty which the Club had to overcome was the terrible lack of films of UFOs. This dilemma was solved by the acquisition of a film about hockey players. Truth is stranger than fiction.

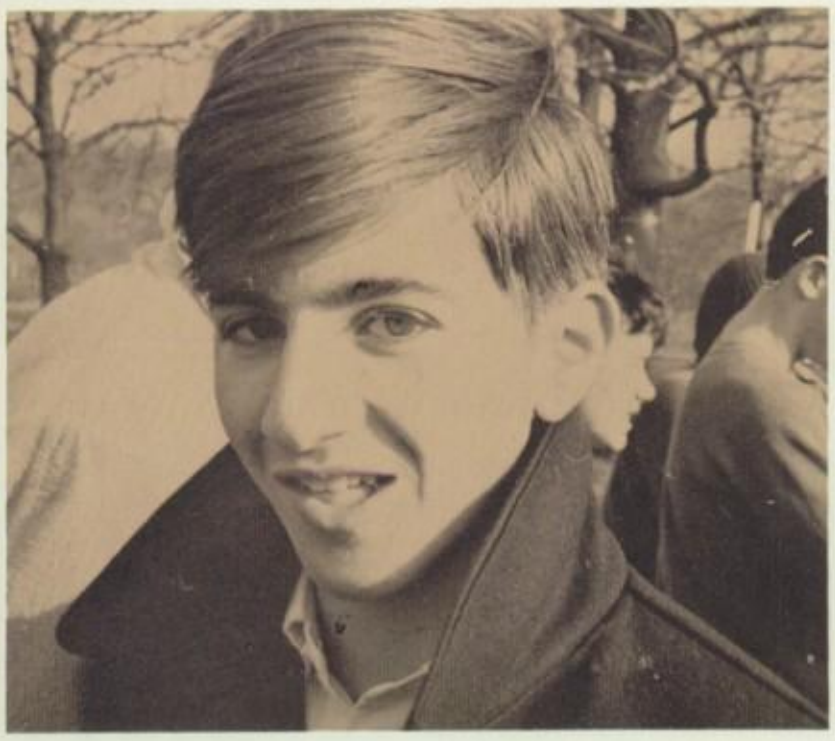
The Yearbook

Thanks to the cheerful and courageous guidance of its editor, John Phelan, the staff of the Evening Parade was able to weather many a hectic moment of Angst. The unquestioning loyalty of Robert Walsh, proven on many a late afternoon and evening when the only light still burning in the school shone through the windows of the yearbook office, was indispensable for the efficient production of our book. A host of others also supported us, both in good weather and in bad: Dean Stetz and Al Marchini spent many an hour pounding at the typewriter and editing material; John Battaglino would invariably drop by to add a general enthusiasm and new ideas; John Leahy never failed to arrive and sometimes seemed to be working. Tom Hoarty and Pat Dowd could always be counted on and contributed some fine layout-work to the book. A large mass of sophomores should also be honorably (sometimes dishonorably) mentioned; their frequent visits always provided atmosphere.

The Staff would also like to thank Mr. Herrmann, S. J. who wrote these two paragraphs. It was hectic; it was fun; and it was profitable.

The Students Print

In the latter months of 1969 Xavier became the happy recipient of a slightly used but very usable printing press and set of type, thanks to the generosity of the Jesuit Novitiate. This windfall signaled the start of the Graphic Arts Club, founded by Fr. Robert Lynch, S. J. From their inconspicuous headquarters tucked away behind Larkin Hall, Officers Peter Wilson and Tony Cirasole together with supporters Dick Diana and Guy Simeti have turned out a host of tickets, and posters, as well as 7000 Christmas cards.



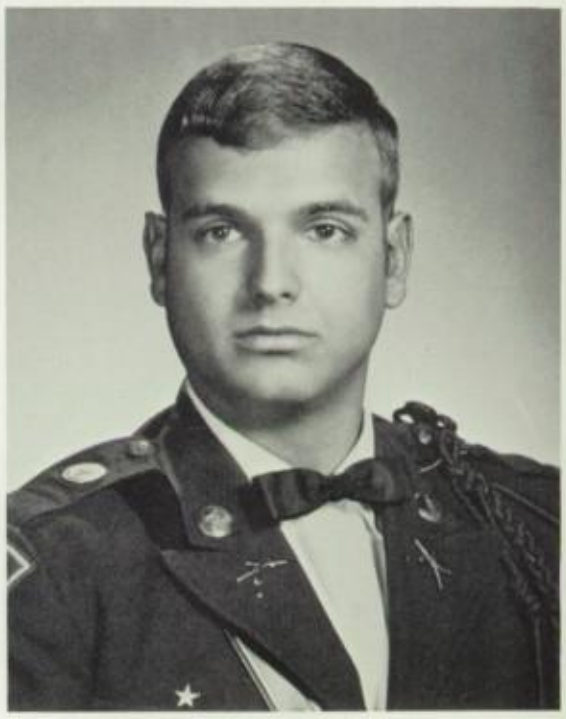
The following pages contain portraits of seniors together with a brief biographical sketch. These sketches were written by each senior's best friend.

COL. Charles M. Brown
President of Student Council

Now and then Xavier has some one person come along who combines a lot of what a school is all about. Besides the military Charlie has excelled academically as well as extracurricular and athletic involvement. His own work in P.A.X. has helped to make this year the beginning of many different ideas and activities. School spirit is his middle name and Xavier is the better for having known Charlie as a Colonel, as a leader, and as a friend.

CAPT. Robert S. Bennett
President of Senior Year

Bob is an outgoing determined young man who has shown an extraordinary capacity for leadership while at Xavier. Besides being President of Senior Year, he is also co-captain of the cross-country team and has maintained a truly superlative academic record. Xavier will also miss his ever-present grin.



1SGT. Robert A. Calcagno
Chairman of the Student Council

To say that Cal did a great job as Student Council Chairman would only give a clue to the hard work and dedication he has given Xavier. You can be sure to find him any place that Xavier needs a change. Cal is famous among his friends for his uncanny, and at times dangerous, honesty. Whatever his future endeavors may be, Bob will certainly make an impressive mark.

PFC. Robert J. Abernathy

Bob came to Xavier to enjoy himself as well as a study. His school life has been exciting—he made it that way. He hopes to go to City College and meet some new faces. Bob will mostly be remembered for his beautiful baldy in Junior year!

MSG. Stephen D. Adams

Steve is from fun-loving Forest Hills and has an unbelievable sense of humor to prove it. His biggest loves are shooting pool, dating and surfing. If he would only stop smiling and start working, Holy Cross might have a chance to make a lawyer out of him.

2LT. Antonio A. Aguirre

Antonio Adrian Aguirre y Arevalo, better known as the Crazy Cuban, is noted for his acute openmindedness. As the captain of the Rifle Team, he is usually seen running to or from the range, or spending his time studying for his 'Fisicks' tests. Tony hopes to further his studies, and someday become an engineer.

PFC. Carmine R. Alampi

Carmine, known for his "frequent" haircuts, can often be found talking things over with the "chief." He digs the beach scene and of course girls. He plans to attend Fordham and become a lawyer.

MAJ. Paul C. Anderson

Paul, one of Mr. Caruso's prize A.P. students, is a friendly type of guy. He is always seen with a big smile and can usually be found working late on the stage or chatting with friends outside the Prefect's office. Paul hopes to attend N.Y.U. where he plans to major in Computer Science.

CAPT. William M. Appert

Bill's light hair and German tongue has caused many people to ask "Sie sind Deutsch, nicht wahr?" both in America and Europe. Bill plans to major in German (naturally!) and attend Fordham. We all wish him Gluck!

PVT. Emelindo Arroyo

Mel, Em, Fang, or whatever you want to call him, is a quiet, good-natured kid. He is one of Mr. Lo Bue's Dirty Two Dozen plus One and has a hard time understanding the good Mister. He lives in New York somewhere and so at least he has an excuse for his seemingly maniacal mind. Good luck Mel!

PFC. Harold G. Aurelio

Harry is one person who always has a friendly word or hello for everyone. He enjoys science, and would like to make it his college major.

1LT. Andrij O. Baran

Although Andy's accomplishments are numerous, what he is well-noted for is his quick eye, strong arm, and fast moves while playing football. "George Jr." as he is commonly called, scores not only on the field, but also in the classroom, for his academic record is outstanding. He wishes to attend Harvard. Good luck, Andy!

2LT. John S. Baran

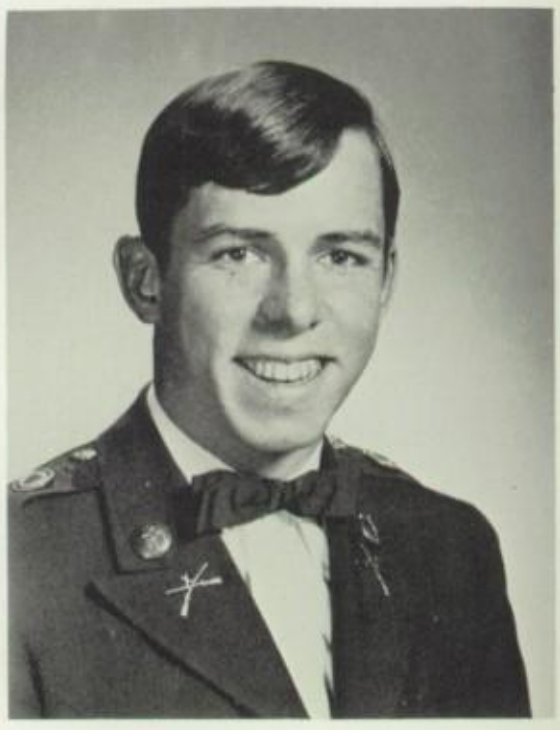
Big John, the strong and silent type, can be found in any pool making waves. His reputation is known throughout the city, for he is one of Xavier's and N.Y.C.'s finest swimmers. For the few of us who know this friend really well, it'll be tough without him but, Oh! that lucky Fordham!

CAPT. John A. Battaglino

Where can one begin in describing John, for there are so many things that should be said. He is known for his dedication on the football field, and also to P. A. X., his crooked smile, and fantastic sense of humor. But most of all "Batts" is known for his friendship. John has a bright future ahead of him.

CPL. Stephen C. Bergan

Steve's humor has more than once brightened up a dull class. He can be seen tactfully arguing with the teacher and often getting his way.



CAPT. Brian W. Blanchfield

An avid "lover" of the military at Xavier for four years, Brian's hopes of becoming regimental general were shattered in sophomore year, when he was three times denied his life long dream of becoming Cadet of the Month. He hopes to recuperate at Marquette from this psychological blow in a co-ed atmosphere while majoring in pre-med.

PFC. Cecil D. Bowen

"Live and let live" has been this gentleman's motto during his stay at Xavier. Cecil's quiet and unassertive manner along with a good-natured personality has won many friends for him. As for his future hopes? Medicine!

2LT. Thomas E. Brancato

"Bronco" plans to go to Fordham and major in Math. His present concern is for music and for trying to do a solo better than "Toad." Tom's massive frame can usually be found in the senior room. We'll all miss you, Tom!

MSG. Thomas M. Brennan

Tom, one of the better men at Xavier, is noted for his basketball skills. He enjoys both his work during the week and his fun weekends, roaming the wilds of Brooklyn.

SGT. Victor P. Bruno

"Coolno" loves Xavier with a passion. He labored successfully for four years on the football team. Vic will long remember Major Smullen and his "frequent" trips to the barber! He hopes to attend Columbia and maybe continue in football.

MSG. Lawrence P. Burns

"Buzzy" as he is called by his teammates, can always be seen floating around the football field. Larry is a guy who is always ready to help you out. If you ever need him, just ask Mary where he might be.

1SGT. Thomas A. Burns

Tom has been the scourge of the band room for his four years. His intellectual conversations and great game of pinochle have entranced all band members; his reign as 1st Sgt. has caused many to censor their remarks. Tom hopes to attend Michigan State . . . God will help you, Tom.

PVT. Anthony V. Burzi

Tony's lingual ability has marked him as being a scholar in both Latin and Greek, and he has been quite successful in all his studies. Tony enjoys listening to good music and playing the organ and piano in his spare time. He plans to study psychiatry!?! Good Luck!

PFC. Richard D. Campbell

An indispensible member of the swimming team and the "Senior Room Acrobatic Troup", Rich is a person one cannot forget. He hopes to continue his swimming career in college and search for the finer things in life.

SGT. Kevin G. Candio

During his four years at Xavier, Kevin never turned a corner without looking twice. Somehow he has managed to survive a grueling schedule of "Friday Night Campaigns." We will probably lose the famed "coolest guy in Xavier" to St. Peter's College, where he will major in History.

SSG. Anthony A. Cannarsa

Tony, who is an outstanding member of the regiment, plans to go to Boston College in the fall. Politically, he is a liberal conservative—or is he a conservative liberal? Anyway, he is majoring in Political Science and hopes to go on to Law.

PFC. William J. Carbone

Bill is noted for his undying sense of humor. He is the center of attraction wherever he goes. He has used his imaginative mind to make friends with everyone in our year and we're all going to miss Bill an awful lot. "Take care now, 'Steve'!"

1Lt. Stephen P. Carney

"Bubbles Karl Marx Carney" will always be remembered for his attempted revolutions and heated arguments with the Military Staff. He plans to attend college at St. Mary's of the Plains in Maryland. His dynamic personality and ability to read should carry him far. "Students of Xavier unite; you have nothing to lose but your hair!"

CPL. Kevin Carroll

Latin scholar and accomplished dramatist, Kevvy is Mr. Rafter's child prodigy. He is a fine student, and we wish him the best of luck in the future.

CPL. James H. Casillo

From all evidence Jim has enjoyed his Senior year more than the previous years, not only because of his studies but also because of the friendships he's made. Best of luck in college.

2LT. Thomas C. Cavagnino

Strong and dark, Tom is the guy you can count on for his silent backing. Not being a talker by nature, Tom lets his actions speak louder than his words. His fine hands and 'Sauer' moves mark him for football at Fordham.

MSG. Joseph J. Celestri

Joe is one of those die-hard X-Squad men. He forfeited a chance to be commissioned an officer when he asked to be Senior NCO of the X-Squad. While this may be reason enough to question his sanity, Joe is known as quite a normal guy . . . except for his five o'clock shadow which appears usually after lunch.

PFC. Michael J. Chimento

Mike, one of the rare breed of hardy souls in Senior Latin, has a good future ahead of him. He has aspirations to major in secondary education at Montclair State, after which he wants to teach History. All he needs now is to graduate. Good luck, Mike.

CAPT. Matthew F. Clark

Matt has his hand in almost every aspect of school life. He has assumed responsibility in school planning, maintained a high academic standing, and also actively participated in extra curricular activities. He will be assured of success in a field of government or education, since he has a unique ability to influence people and make friends.

1SGT. Thomas J. Cody

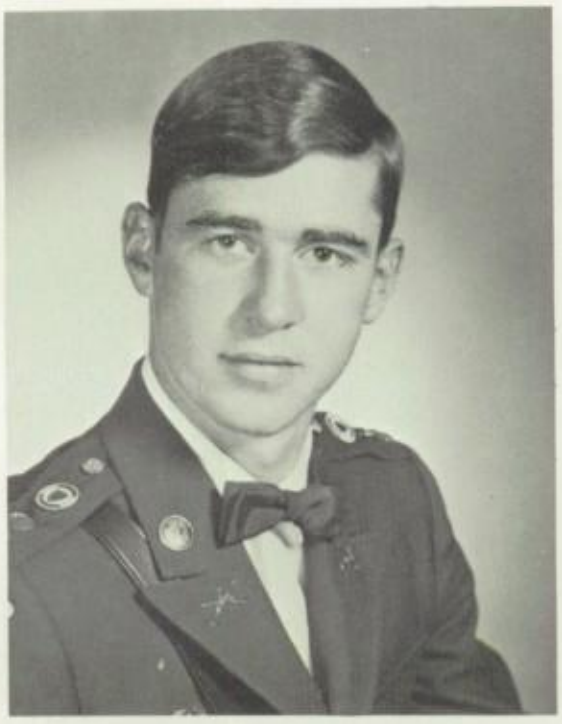
Buffalo is one of Xavier's finest. When he is not with the herd, Tom can be found twirling flags with the color guard. He is also handy with a pen and his artwork attests to this. We wish him luck in college.

SFC. Patrick V. Comiskey

Football player, dramatist, guitarist, scholar, the list of Pat's attributes are as unending as his ability to make lasting friendships. Pat's wide range of strange experiences and hard-driving attitude has made him one of Xavier's finest students.

PFC. Patrick J. Connelly

Pat, one of our more enthusiastic students from Staten Island, believes in clean living and clear thinking. Known for his midnight jogs through the back hills of Staten Island, he leaves strong records in both cross country and track behind him. Meanwhile, Pat plans to make waves at the University of Miami.



CAPT. Dennis G. Coyle

Everyone will remember Dennis' creative ability to institute funny little fads. Remember "Bear" and "Recount"? "Money Bags" hopes to continue the family tradition at Notre Dame. The Hackensack Coyles still have another addition to Xavier before they hit the "Tree Stump."

SGT. Edward T. Coyne

Ed is an all-around sports fan and is famous for his uncontrollable laughter. You can always hear Ed bragging about the swim team, of which he is co-captain, and about its undefeated season. He's a "great guy" who's easy to get along with and has a very promising future.

CAPT. Charles D. Cuccinello

Charlie, an avid fan of C.K., is world famous for his fabulous renditions on an electric, hollow-body, finger-picked cello. Best of luck at Fairfield.

1SGT. Walter E. Cullen

"Wally" Cullen is well known for his love of good times. In his stay at Xavier he has enjoyed many. There is no doubt that wherever he pursues his education he will have success with everyone he meets.

2LT. Stephen M. Daly

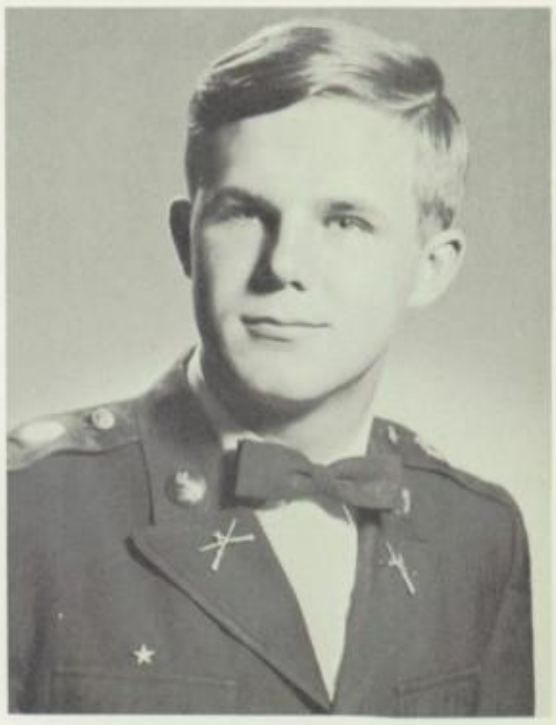
Although known chiefly for his speed on the track, Steve has excelled in many endeavors during his Xavier career. Our track co-captain boasts a sharp and ready wit, and is also something of a linquist, being especially adept with Spanish. Flash's achievements are too numerous to list, but they will long be remembered on Sixteenth Street.

PFC. Wayne L. Davila

"Wayne's the Name." Old Wayne is a member of the original Junior Room and a high-ranking official in Mr. Febles' Spanish Club. He can usually be found espousing his profound thoughts on tragic figures, such as Putney Swope. He plans to rock the advertising world, and we think he will.

PFC. Stephen J. DeFina

Steve likes girls and just about anything. His longer than military curly hair and subtle sense of humor have kept his little black book well-stocked. Steve plans to attend Brooklyn college.



PFC. Robert J. Delaney

Robert's accomplishments at Xavier are numerous. He hopes to attend college in September, and knowing him, he will surely succeed.

PFC. Dino J. Del Gaudio

"Tot," as he is commonly called, is the captain of the tennis team and is a gentleman. He hopes to study pre-med, and discover what happened to his thyroid. Dino has a promising future ahead of him, and he'll tell you that without you even asking him!

SSG. Matthew J. DeLuca

Sammy, one of the famed Midnight Raiders, is an active member of the Color Guard. He plans either to go on to medical school or become an usher at the Fillmore East. At the present, Sammy is confronted with the problem of graduating as valedictorian, or at least graduating.

2LT. Robert J. DeMaio

Bobby, better known as Rudy, can be found weekends on the shores of the "Left Bank," when he is not jaunting off to Boston or Woodstock. Robert, an Intelligent lad who is quite capable of downing it with the best, is planning to remain in New York to further his education.

SGT. Anthony V. DePietro

Tony is a Xavier Phenomenon Commonly called "Studentus Fort Leus." An avid surfer, he would like to go down in history as the first man to ride a tidal wave from pole to pole. He is best known for the time he dropped acid in class and burnt a hole in the Biology Lab floor!

SFC. Neal A. DeSimone

Neal will be best remembered for his incessant quest to beat the Xavier system. An excellent guitarist, his name should appear on the marque at the Fillmore in the coming years. Neal will go onto a college for music following his departure from Xavier.

1SGT. Charles J. Diaz

Chuck the Greek was the host of the Military Ball. Grape leaves and fig juice were served without end, while Charlie and his girl danced the night through. His dedication to the Library Staff will long be appreciated.

1LT. Guy A. DiGiacomo

A good friend and student, Guy's field seems to be in dentistry which he plans to pursue at Northwestern University. His greatest thrills in his four years came last summer during his tour of Europe. Guy enjoys listening to good music and telling jokes.

SFC. Thomas G. DiSalvo

Tom is well known to many students and members of the faculty for his quick smile and pleasant nature. During three productive years on the track team, Tom has matured into a true team man and competitor, while maintaining a fine academic record.

SGT. Daniel E. Distasi

Danny, known as "Dapper," is one of the Stuyvesant boys. Known throughout the school for his quick wit and long curly hair, Danny cracks his bones as fast as he cracks his jokes. In College Dan wants to study Pre-Dentistry.

CAPT. Victor R. Donovan

Having survived the perils of the Classics, Vic has challenged Alchemy and its wiles. What is the outcome? A Shakespearean tragedy? No, for Vic, a place in the sun.

MSG. Dennis M. Dougherty

Denny, one of Xavier's "Junior Wallmen," has fought through his four years at Xavier. He always managed, however, to come out smiling, whatever the reason may have been. An excellent member of the "Front Parlor Independent Study Group," Denny hopes to attend Fairfield University to take up law.

SFC. Patrick J. Doyle

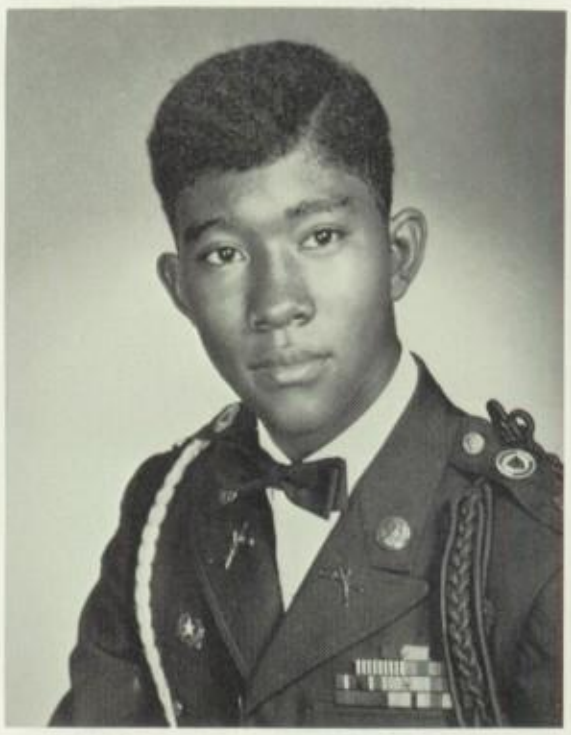
Pat is one of the uncommon here at Xavier. Along with being a serious and interested student, he brings life to every crowd and a feeling of confidence to every friend. Either aiding the players on the football field, or on the dunes at Breezy Point, Pat has been a success at Xavier.

CAPT. John F. Dunn

John's dedication to the X Squad and to the betterment of Xavier will long be appreciated. Between his escapades with Fords and at parties, he hopes to have enough time for college work.

1LT John V. Eng

His second home is N.C.C.J. where he finds out "where he's at". John has the distinction of having been in both the Drum and Bugle Corps and the band. He loves Janis Joplin and of course he will always be remembered for "Be cool, sweetheart!"



PFC. Richard W. Ennis

Del is one of the permanent members of the Junior Room. He hopes to attend Boston College and become a lawyer, but we think he should be a Supreme Court Justice after all the experience he had in the Senior Room.

PFC. James G. Epifanio

Epi-Jam, as he is known to both of his friends, brightens any Friday the 13th. He is an M.P. (or so says the Maj.) and never lets Mr. Lo Bue forget it. He is responsible for the origin of the "Get Eppy" club, (moderated by McCorry) and will be infamous until the end of time. Rotsa Ruck, Ep.

1LT. Vincent T. Euk

Vinny, a dedicated officer, is fully aware of the problems encountered in the domination of his men. He has all the signs of oncoming success, but what is most important, he has made lasting friendships.

PVT. Michael A. Fair

Michael Anthony Francis Fair I of Manhattan formerly of Brooklyn has been as colorful as his title describes him. His easy going attitude and concern for others have made him well liked among the students at Xavier. His determination will assure him of success in whatever field he chooses.

CPL. Timothy P. Farrell

Tim is Xavier's first Net fan. He has also worked faithfully in the Tutoring Program for the past four years, a case of the blind leading the blind. A career in Law is his goal.

PFC. Michael C. Fayne

Mike, the mastermind of the school newspaper, plans to study journalism, and can be found in the newspaper office working hard to meet the deadline.

SFC. James W. Feeley

Jim has run for election about six times in the last four years. Best remembered are his groovy campaign posters which he put up during the Student Council Chairmanship Race. Jim likes to go to Charlie's every Friday and play cards. Xavier will never be the same without you, Jim.

CPL. Bradley M. Ferguson

Brad is a meek, mild assistant editor of the REVIEW, the great cosmopolitan bi-weekly. He can be seen in either of two places; the REVIEW office, or the Senior Room, leading a discussion as to who is a better author: William Shakespear or Robert Heinlein. He plans to go to a college in New Youk State (he won a Regents) and study law. Good Luck, Fergie!

2LT. Albert M. Fernandez

All right is the word for this guy. Al gets around and can always be heard giving an encourging word. On the track team he never stops, unless he has done his share and then some. We're all sure of his success.

CAPT. Nicola M. Fiscina

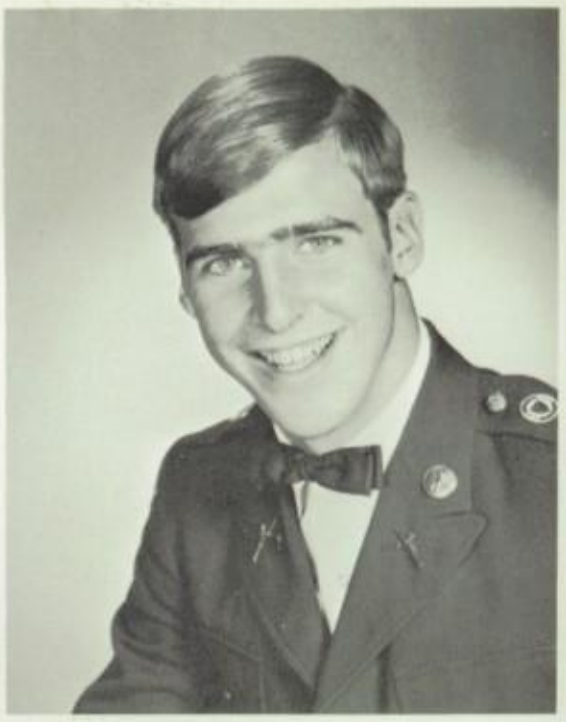
Nick's quick and sometimes biting wit have caused him to become famous throughout all the corridors of Xavier. A really funny guy, Nick's escapades with his subjects in Williamsburg-on-the-Newton and at El Sid's have been the topic of much discussion. Nick's stay at Xavier has been very beneficial and he plans to study pre-med.

1LT. Kevin M. Fitzgerald

"Fitz" is one of the Montclair State gang. This Bronx Bomber was one of Xavier's low class members of the "Intelligentia," otherwise known as the A.P. Math Course. He hopes to follow in the Chuck Smith Lehigh tradition.

SFC. Gregory J. Flinn

In spite of his being accident prone and continually tardy, Greg is known as a reliable friend to those who have worked with him.



PVT. Francis K. Foye

Xavier's premiere hoopster of '70, Frank hopes to attend Niagara to display his basketball talents. His years at Xavier have been hectic but Frank really loved it all.

CPL. Paul J. Fuccillo

Cy—of the family eye, no less—has been one of the more memorable people in our four years. He has managed to become close friends with just about everyone. Cy hopes to go to a college which offers wrestling as a major. Have fun Cy.

CAPT. Paul K. Fuller

Paul is the CO of McGowan's Marauders, that well-known group of Morlocks which inhabits the dark recesses of the Old Building. He plans to either clean up 16th Street shortly after graduation or run for mayor.

CPL. John J. Gallagher

Jack has been a member of the football team and he can usually be found with most of the other players in the Senior Room. Jack plans to attend Fordham in the fall and put to good use his Regents Scholarship.

1LT. Thomas H. Gassert

Aside from doing crazy things like bringing a girl from Indiana to the Ball, Tom is a sensible guy. Quiet but funny, he is well aware of what's happening and he'll tell you so in a low voice, which you can't help but listen to. Tom will make a good doctor.

1LT. Joseph Gianatassio

Joe has proved to be quite an import from the sunny land of Italy. He has distinguished himself not only in the sports field, by his valuable contributions to the track and football teams, but also in the academic field by maintaining an exceptional grade. Joe plans to take up engineering at Columbia.

SSG. James P. Gildea

You can find Jim on any day off driving around in his Imperial—even though half the car is wrecked! Sometimes he even goes to cross-country practice in it. In the future, he hopes to attend college, if his father will let him have the car!!

LTC. Patrick F. Gilligan

Pat is always around when you need him; usually with a constant supply of IOU slips. He's been totally involved in Xavier, and should be remembered for it. This budding Richard Burton can be found on the fifth floor or in his yellow mustang. Good luck at Notre Dame.

MSG. Joseph F. Girard

Besides being a co-captain of the football team, Joe is one of the most popular and spirited guys in Xavier. He spends his summers with the gang at Breezy Point. Chuck is quick to make friends with everyone he meets and will surely succeed in whatever he does.

CAPT John M. Golden

Jay's warm personality and cheerful nature have enabled him to win the friendship of many students. John has had a highly productive four years at Xavier, and his academic record proves it! Jay hopes to study Math at Holy Cross. Of course, he will succeed.

1LT. Humberto Gonzalez

Everyone knows Bert, our humble and friendly Supply Officer. Always willing to help out, he can be found most of the time in the Supply Room. He will always be remembered for his quick Columbian wit and his swingin' parties.

PVT. Kevin M. Goode

Kev, known around Manhattan as "Pops," is a fine, young, red-blooded, All-American boy. He wants to attend C.C.N.Y. Known at Xavier for his school spirit and exploits, suave "Pops" will long be remembered.

MAJ. Edward V. Grady

Ed, better known as Vince to some of his friends, is a warm-hearted type of guy. He always wears a smile and can usually be found with a book in his hand. Ed hopes to go to Saint Peter's College where he plans to major in either Theology, or in Math.

SGT. Rocco J. Gratale

Rocco, who has more hair on his face five minutes after shaving than all of Freshman year has on their heads, has set an all-time Xavier record for least haircuts in one year. Seriously, he has contributed greatly to the spirit of friendship at Xavier.

CPL. Richard J. Graves

A Brooklyn boy, Rich, is well liked by everyone he has met, and would often brighten a dull class with his sharp wit. He will be most remembered for his yardstick duels. His dynamic personality will assure him of success.

CPL. Lawrence A. Graziano

Whenever Graz thinks of Xavier, he will always remember his football career, and Mr. Thompson's math classes. Because of his many experiences with the faculty, Larry originally wished to join the Jesuits. However, he will probably go to Syracuse, and not become a barber, as is so commonly thought, but study history.

PFC. Gary A. Gressler

Gary "Garbs" Gressler hopes to make it big in the racing business. Nightly, he can be found testing his Rambler on some Long Island highway, either alone or with anyone brave enough. His unique method of getting to drill will always be remembered, and we wish him luck at Manhattan College.

SGT. Richard J. Griffin

Rich, is a giant in the Band. His I.Q. is only exceeded by his shoe size (13½). Seriously, Rich has contributed a great deal of his time in making the Band what it is. We all wish him luck at Manhattan.

1LT. Robert R. Grimes

Bob has been a loyal band member for the past three years. One of the Founding Fathers of the Game Group, Bob's love of music enters into all phases of his life. Big Bob's frequent skirmishes with Fr. Harreiss, concerning which of Beethoven's symphonies is the best, will be long remembered.

PVT. Charles T. Hagan

Undoubtedly one of the most popular guys in the school, Chuck is also one of the most school-spirited. Festus has played basketball for four years and will be remembered for the gentle way with which he approached the sport. Everyone will surely miss him. Good luck, Charlie.

PVT. Daniel J. Hallen

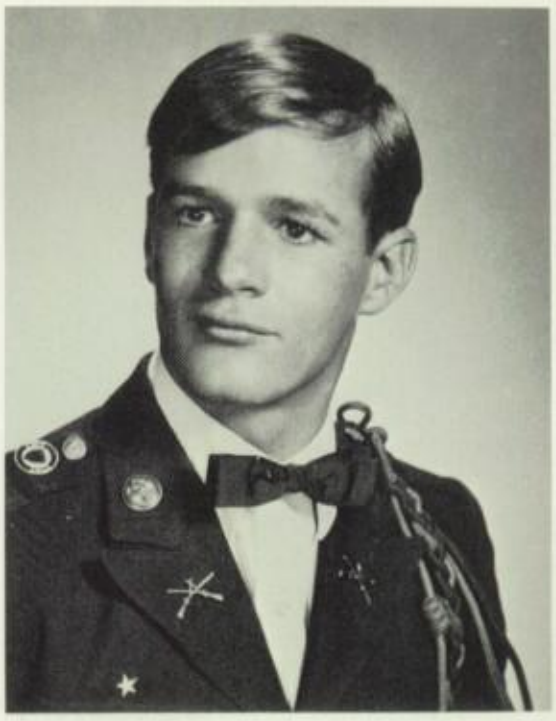
Dan can be numbered among the selected Dudes of Xavier's graduating class. He can be found wandering around the Counselling Offices almost any time you pass there. Everybody will remember him for his great way of livening things up. His college days should be filled with lots of good times and success.

PVT. Peter M. Hart

Most of the time Brother McCall's office has been the dwelling place for Rabbit. Merc's exploits on the basketball court have become well known in the Senior Room. As usual his plans for the future are hazy, but knowing Pete, he will succeed.

CPL. Charles J. Herrmann

Chuck's witty remarks can always be heard from any crowd, giving either an encouraging word, or a biting criticism of the opposition. His personality and feelings for others have made him one of the best liked companions around.



PVT. Thomas M. Hoarty

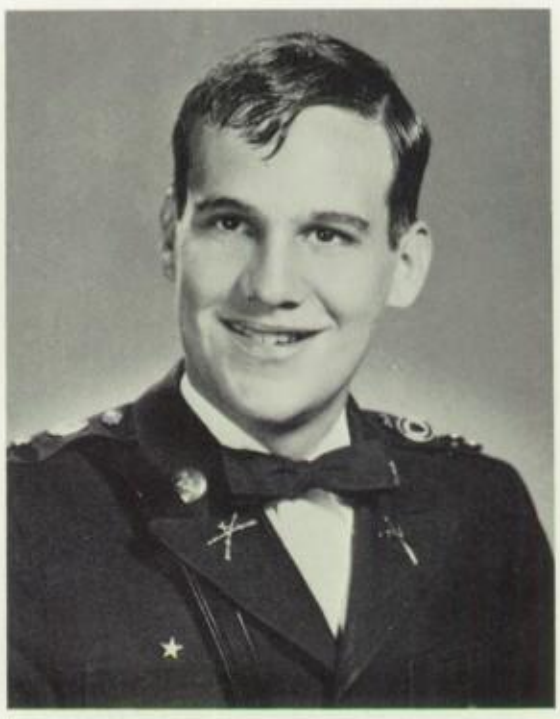
It will not be easy to forget the red-head running down the halls, or the huge smile that is so typical of Tom. More than any other senior, 'Tommy' is really locked in life. As he meets you in class or the cafeteria, he makes you feel as if you're the only person in the world that matters.

SFC. Dennis M. Hogan

A fine scholar, Dennis is able to grasp the abstract and is always aware of what is going on around him. The future does not cloud his mind and he plans to go to college.

LTC. James A. Horris

Jim is one senior keenly interested in Xavier. As Provost Marshall, PAX member and sharpshooter, he has proven himself a man who succeeds at whatever he attempts. A hard worker and a good friend, Jim's qualities will hold him in good stead in the years to come.



CAPT. Richard K. Houlihan

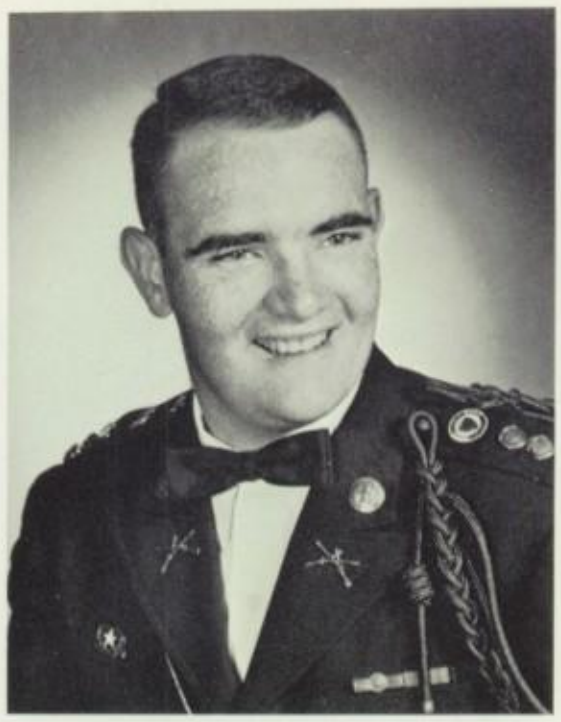
Being of sound mind, this Xavier officer has impressed many with his striking features and unimaginable manners.

1LT. David B. Hutchinson

D. B. will always be remembered through the hallowed halls of Xavier for his active participation in every aspect of school life. His attachment to Xavier, though sometimes hidden, is deeper than that of many students. Whether out with the boys or girls on Friday night, or at Van Cortlandt Park the next morning, D.B. has always done well.

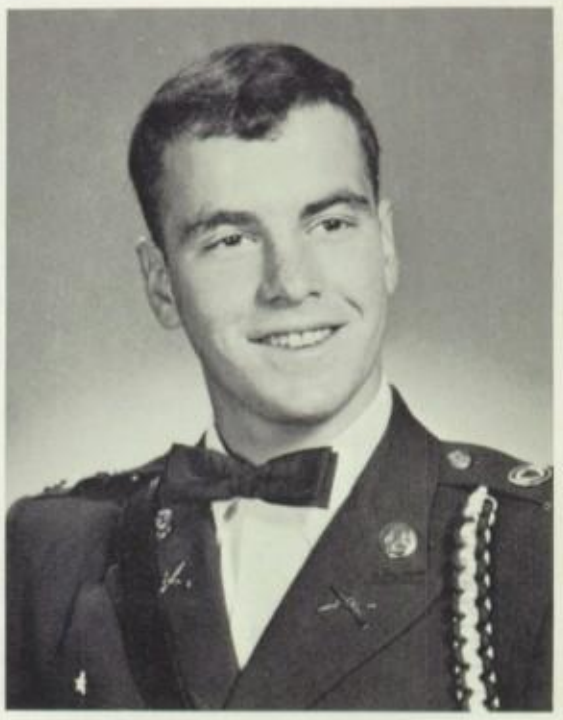
PVT. Joseph J. Hynes

Joe plans to major in Business Administration at N.Y.U., when he leaves Xavier. He is best remembered at Xavier for his fine etiquette and manners as a soup-eater. Joe also enjoys music and sports and he hopes to have a little of both in later life.



MAJ. Joseph F. Idell

Joe is the crack S-3 of the regiment, and everyone will remember him for his savage commands at drill. His work on the Sodality will always remain highly appreciated, second only to his friendship.

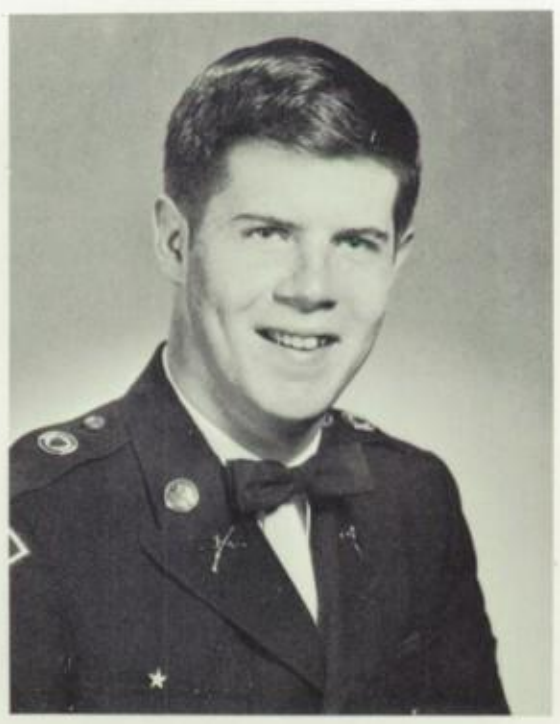


1LT. Cornelius F. Ivory

Neil, a fine trumpet player and an accomplished student, was a member of the Classical honors course. This fine background enabled him to qualify for a job making picture frames.

2LT. Christopher B. Jamison

If there is anything going on at Xavier Chris is there. From football to basketball either playing or watching he can be found at all dances and every committee meeting in the front parlors. Chris is looking forward to Fordham where he hopes to continue his study in literature and enjoy the next four as much as he did his last.



SSG. Arthur M. Jones

Only one word can describe Artie—dedication. His work on extra-curriculars, his driving ability, and academic record proves this. Good luck in basketball, Artie!

2LT. Stephen H. Jones

Steve has spent four productive years at Xavier. He realizes the value of study, and is known among his fellow students as diligent and dependable. Steve plans to attend Georgetown and study law.

1LT. John J. Joyce

Jack, a good friend to all who know him, has excelled both on the gridiron and tennis court. Never lacking in school spirit diligence, Albino takes everything in stride and never fails to boost everyone's spirit with his quick smile and a friendly word.

LTC. Kenneth J. Keane

Cowboy Kenny Keane would rather be called "George" after his idol, Mr. Sauer. He caught passes while playing end for our Gridiron Group. The Greek scholar and Commander of the First Battalion exemplifies a true Xavier man and great friend.

SGT. Kevin F. Kehoe

One can usually find Kevin on the fringe of a crowd, or following in the footsteps of the "Prime Lane". He can succeed in anything that he puts his mind to and his work has been well appreciated.

1LT. Dennis S. Kelly

Dennis can be described with one word—devotion. He has applied himself in track, and in cross-country, sodality, and at debate. Dennis will surely succeed.

CPL. Michael A. Kenny

Big Mike!

PFC. Leo M. Kirk

Leo suffered through the network run of "Star Treck", when every nitwit frosh there was would yell "HEY CAPTAIN!!" at him. This was not very funny at all. Leo is good in intramurals and dances, and he says it's too bad they don't give marks for things like that.

1LT. George J. Kovacs

George was one of Mr. Thompson's greatest admirers. His frank comments and jubilant personality also enabled him to befriend Mr. White. His academic record will be of great help to him in college.

MSG. Edward S. Kulesza

"Kool" is most remembered for his good times in Spanish Class. and is also recognized by his vulture look. The Xavier football team will always be grateful to him for his fine managing.

SGT. John J. Kung

Jake, "The Ageless Wonder," is a perfect example of the Oriental mind. During his four years at Xavier, John has been interested in Science and Math and he has been an active member of the Math Club. Good luck!

LTC. Robert D. Lake

Bob is one of the band's best trumpet players and he has held first chair for two years. Bob loves to write and wants to study literature after he leaves Xavier.

SFC. Leonard E. Langellotti

Lenny was absolutely the most dilligent Greek student in all of 3-E. We are sure that the knowledge he gained from his careful attention to the inter-subscript will be of great value to him when in college, where he will major in electronics with a minor in study periods.

SFC. Dennis J. Langley

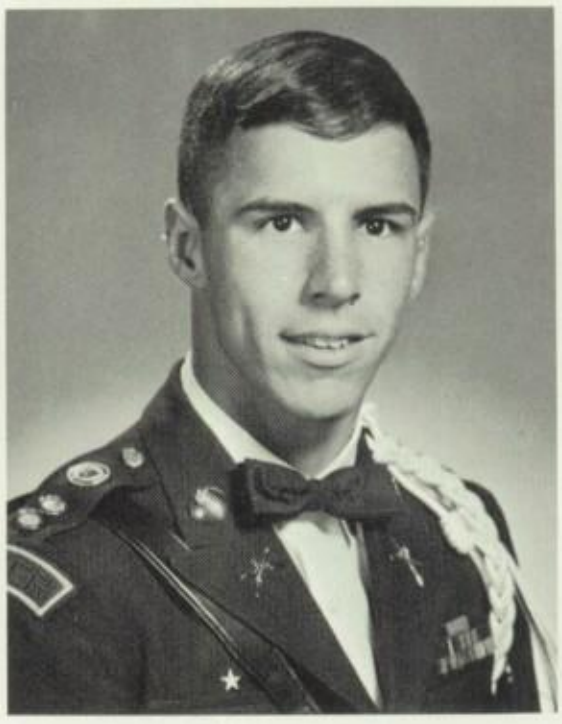
Lance, the greatest thing to hit this school since 1847, has patrolled the gridiron for four hard-fought years. His quick wit and warm personality have won him many friends on and off the field. He plans to go to Cornell where he will be a most suave and sophisticated student.

MSG. Micheal C. Laracy

Mike has a great amount of school spirit. Although he is not an active participant in any inter-scholastic sports, Mike is often seen lending support to the various teams at Xavier. His enthusiasm can be seen in all his endeavors, and this leads us to believe that he will succeed in whatever he pursues.

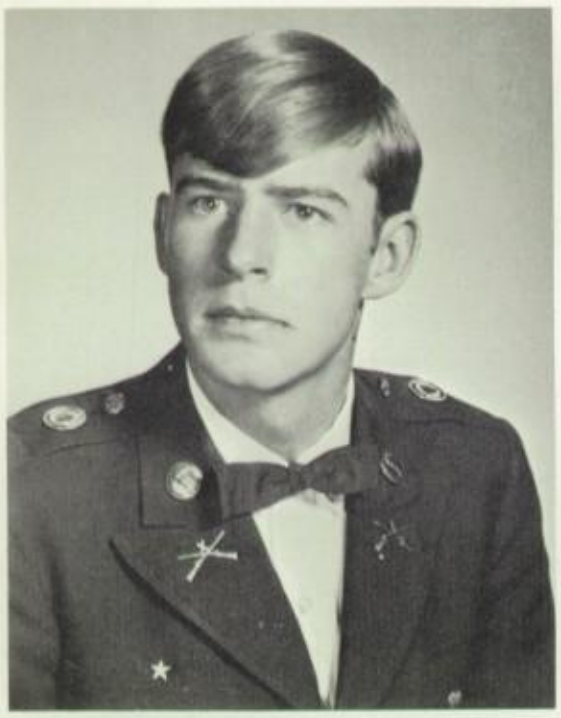
CAPT. Edward L. Larkin

Eddie has been a spark plug on the swim team, and is always practicing. He hopes to continue his education at St. Boneventure. Keep swimming, Ed, and you will continue going places.



MSG. Rodman J. Law

Rod can usually be found in the Senior Room pondering on difficult problems (where to tonight, guys?) or working hard in the Library during his 'Independent Sleep Program'. Rod is one of Xavier's best liked students, and plans to attend the Georgetown School of Foreign Service.



PFC. John R. Lindsay

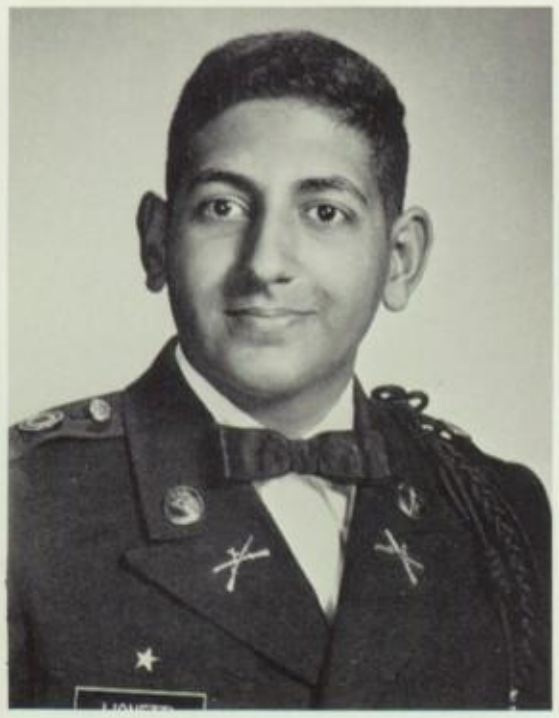
John Lindsay. No, not that one. Our John lives in Queens, and the other wouldn't be caught dead there. John gets very scared every four years or so, when people start yelling "Lindsay's a bum!" He has an inferiority complex, and he plans to sue.

MAJ. Nicholas M. Linkowitz

When Nick first came to Xavier he set one main goal for himself —becoming the commander of the X-Squad. During his first three years he worked toward this goal and this year he has achieved it. Old Teddy Bear hopes to continue his training at either a military academy or an ROTC college. Teddy Bear?????

MSG. Peter J. Lisi

Although Pete is either playing basketball at night or watching the Knicks, he still finds time to study and achieve honors. Pete hope to go to college and play intramural basketball.



SFC. Anthony L. Lionetti

Besides winning the friendship of many seniors, Tony has also earned numerous nicknames. Judging from his Math and Science achievements, it's a good bet you'll find him in either the Science or Math Club office after classes. After graduation, Tony plans to attend Georgetown or Manhattan where he'll probably major in medicine.

1LT. Donald F. Loar

Donny has what may be considered too rare at Xavier—Devotion. He has maintained a high academic average with an equally high military standing. There is a rumor that he wants to attend Newark College of Engineering. No matter where he goes, he'll pass on the reputation of Xavier.

SFC. Joseph I. Lopez

Joe, also known as "locks Lopez", is a man who has truly left his mark on Xavier. Active in PAX, he has tried to develop Xavier's potential to its fullest. This plus his naturally warm personality has made him popular among his fellow students. He plans to attend Manhattan College and try his hand at law after graduation.

SFC. Mark P. Lutz

This September Mark will be attending Stevens Tech. He hopes to become an engineer so that he will be able to fix panzer tanks, dive bombers and the like. Well, good luck.

1LT. Michael C. Macaluso

Among Mike's many interests, cars can be figured close to No. 1. He hopes to go on to engineering as a major in college. We all wish him good luck for the future.

CAPT. James J. MacDonell

Jim MacDonale, McDougal, MacDonel, well forget it! By any name Big Jim is known for his achievement in Math and Science. This has led him to plan a career in engineering. He is liked by all and we wish him good luck!

MAJ. Albert J. Marchini

This year's First Battalion XO and president of the Order of the Closed Eye, can be seen all over the school. Al has been extremely active at Xavier, both academically and extra-curricularly, and is well liked by all. Engineering is his goal, and we are all sure of his success!

1LT. Richard J. Marsigliano

Although short in stature, he is by no means short on personality. Rich spends most of his off-study time by relaxing behind the wheel of his car or by reading in a library at which he works. He intends to enter the field of computer technology as an engineer.

MSG. Brendan R. McCahill

As one of Pennsylvania R.R.'s daily passengers, Brendan is known for his instantaneous zonk under any condition. However, when he's awake, he's active, humorous, and lovable as a giant teddy bear (except for that boisterous Brussels belch). Brendan, without a doubt, will be successful wherever he goes, as long as he stays away from S.M. A.

PFC. Charles P. McGinty

Charlie, when seen, is always criticizing anything he sees, hears, reads, or mentally conceives. We wish him the best of luck even though he thinks there is no way a person can achieve luck!

CPL. Patrick R. McGowan

"Bobby" is one of the surviving members of the "Garden Club", and a founder of the "Junior Room". A man of many talents, he can always be found contemplating his Sophocles or working on his flow charts.

PVT. John G. McGroarty

"Baby John", a four year member of the track team, has always been one of the better runners. John is full of school spirit and is always interested in having a good time, whether he's in the senior room, at drill, or out with the boys at Breezy Point. John plans to go to Georgetown.

1LT. Robert J. McGuire

Bob, one of the more military members of the "Xavier Community", prides himself on his appearance and his ability to handle his command with authority. He has done wonders for the Jr. "X". Bob hopes to go to West Point next year to begin a military career.

SFC. Robert J. McGuirl

Bob is one of the most likable guys in senior year. He's an excellent football player, who started on both offense and defense, and he's also a great example of brains over braun. But don't get the wrong impression, because whenever there is a party, Bob is always on the spot. Bob plans to study law and play football at Holy Cross.

1LT. Francis A. McNamara

During his four years here, "Mac" has been largely occupied with shooting baskets. Always hustling, Frank has not only scored on the court, but also in the classroom. He will always be remembered for his 'princely' duties at the Ball.

SFC. Joseph M. McWilliams

Joe's memorable work in the Prefect's Office during Junior year is what he is most noted for. He plans to attend college in the fall and he will surely succeed.

S/SGT. James J. Meehan

A commuter from Brooklyn, Jimmy is widely known for his artistic talent. Jimmy had to make frequent visits to his chiropractor in Junior year, but he was back on his surf board by the summer. Jim's talents will help him in his study of medicine.

PVT. Thomas V. Miles

Tom enjoys skiing and all other indoor and outdoor sports. He plans to major in history at Canisius College next fall as a preparation for Law School. He'll miss the fun and frolicking on the LIRR!

PVT. Timothy J. Moffitt

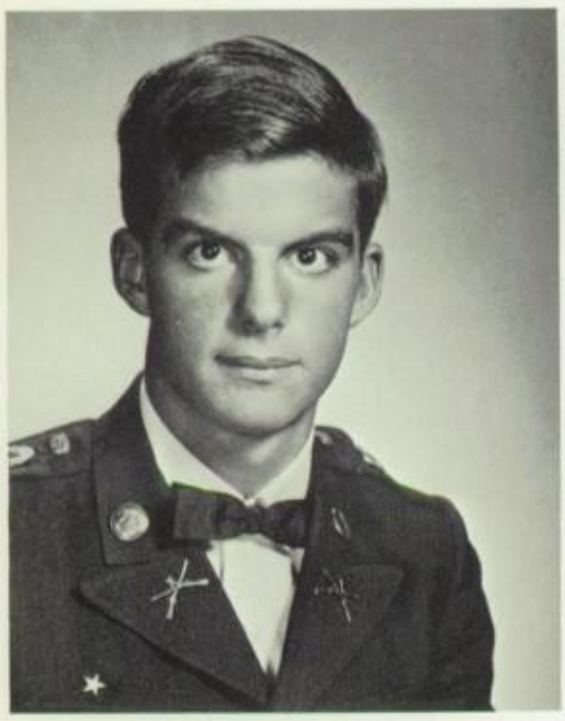
Tim's football career began in his sophomore year, when he took over the job as starting quarterback. For the past three years he has not only been an excellent individual player, but he has helped lead the team. Tim is looking forward to continuing his football career in college.

CAPT. John M. Molino

John is a very likable guy. When something gets started, he makes sure that it is finished right. His favorite pastimes at Xavier varied: They ranged between drilling on the roof for four years to watching rubberbands in Larkin Hall. John's first choice is Woodstock, but since they don't offer ROTC, he might settle for St. Peter's (a family tradition) and major in History.

PFC. James L. Montovano

Jim's the kind of person you rarely see without a smile on his face. His light-hearted nature makes him an all around great guy and fun to be with. But Jim's clowning around can't shield what a sensitive person and good friend he is. He hopes to study and swim at Holy Cross next year.



CPL. Lawrence M. Morgese

Larry is very athletically inclined, and is well-liked by his classmates. During the summer, he can be found any day at the beach. Larry intends to go to college, with hopes of being a doctor.

PFC. Joseph D. Moukad

Joe is from Stuyvesant Town and is not very proud of it. He runs home every day and studies his Espanol very hard indeed. He takes Black History sometimes and couldn't care less, but that is Joe. See you at drill!!

CPL. James P. Mullins

"J.P.", as he is called in the Senior Room, is a happy-go-lucky chap who always has a smile on his face. That is why we never take him seriously. Aside from being an excellent drummer, he is a likable person to have around. He plans to attend Adelphi.

SGT. James Napolitano

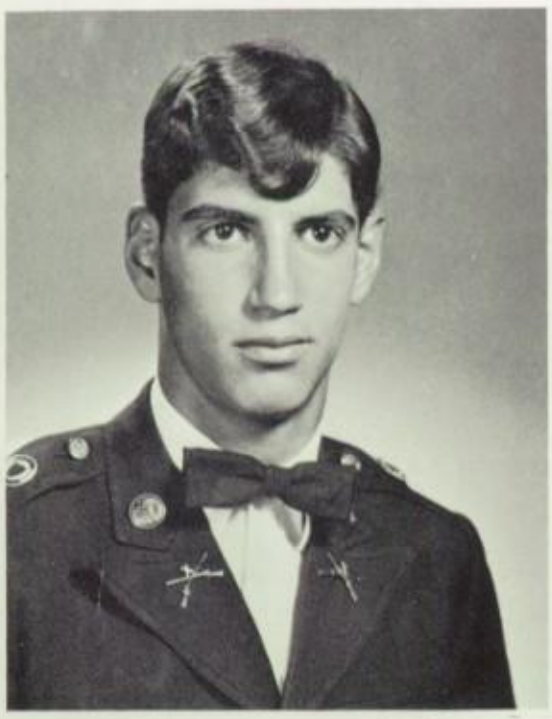
From the quiet sanctions of the library to the inner circle of the Senior Room, Jim is well-liked among both upperclassmen and underclassmen. Napo, his most common name, is one of the most school-spirited seniors to graduate. Contrary to common belief, Napo is not a G-man for the sanitation department.

SFC. Robert J. Noonan

"Noons" has played football and basketball while at Xavier. He enjoys most sports especially winter sports, such as skiing and skating. Bob plans to attend Boston College and study medicine.

MSG. Kevin J. Nugent

Kev can always be seen conversing with Doc Canino. "Vamos a ver." Parnelli, as he is known for his dardevil driving stunts, is always collaborating with his sidekick, Vinny. You may find Kevin skiing, camping fishing and sometimes studying.



PFC. Donald J. O'Brien

Behind the cool, suave exterior of this lady-killer lies the school spirit and fighting Irish temperament of a very likable Don O'Brien. From the bars to the basketball courts, Don carried many a controversial issue with student and teacher alike. Known for his quick wit and warm smile, he leaves Xavier with high achievements in both sports and studies.

2LT. Scott W. O'Connell

An open and well liked fellow, Scott can usually be heard spewing forth his knowledge or corny jokes. Earning a well deserved visit from the Green Phantom, he plans a college career at the Air Force or at Kingspoint. Besides that, he is an earnest worker and friend in everything he does.

CAPT. Dennis J. O'Donnell

Dennis, known for his driving skills, is always looking for ways to make fast money. After graduation, he is hoping for a T-Bird, but it will be more likely a VW. Dennis plans to attend a small college and become President of the United States in '88!

1LT. Derek F. Offer

Derek is the sure handed fielder on the Rifle Team's baseball team. An honors man, he works hard in everything he does, and his friends know him as someone to rely on. Derek is hoping for a career in engineering.

1LT. Michael M. Oleske

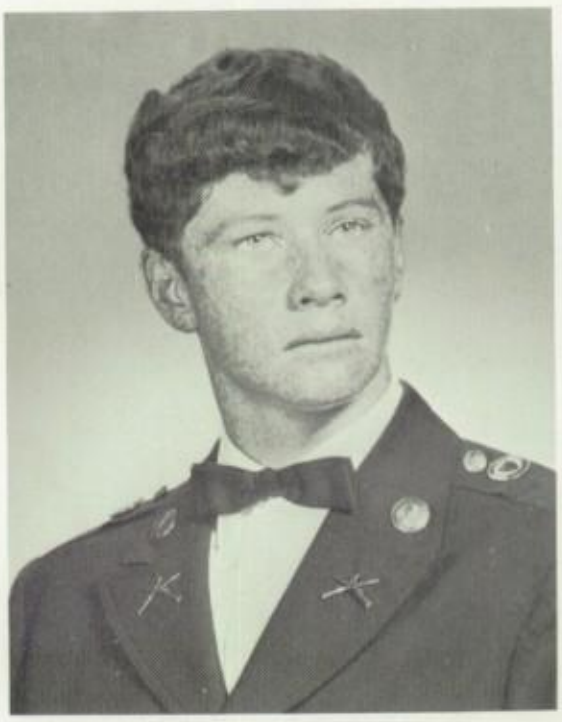
Mike has been generally sucessful in the band, and his achievements in the Classics Program are sure to be of great use to him in college where he plans to major in Math!?! Mike's favorite instrument is the guitar which he plays quite well. Good luck in college, Mike.

1LT. Martin J. O'Mara

Marty is generally a very amiable guy, unless he had a bad weekend up at his favorite ski bowl. His success this year has not changed him in the least. Marty was the King at this year's Military Ball, which is the best way we know to describe him.

PVT. James W. O'Neil

Jay, part of the contingent from Story Town, can usually be found in the Senior Room between classes. Working occupies most of his spare time after school. He plans to major in business in college.



CPL. Raymond J. O'Neil

Corky, or Carrot Top, is the nickname champ of Xavier, (Orlon, Rhode Island Red, the Rockaway Rooster, etc.). Having red hair is "all part of being cool". He plans to attend Hofstra, where he will make an in depth study of Graham Greene.

CAPT. William P. Orchard

Bill is part of the Thinking Generation. The admirable order which he has striven to put in his life has benefited Xavier as well as himself. The school will always be greateful to him for his constant, unheralded work for the Photo Staff, for the Sodality, and for his fellow students. He has truly tried harder and succeeded, as he will throughout his life.

1LT. Frank P Paquin

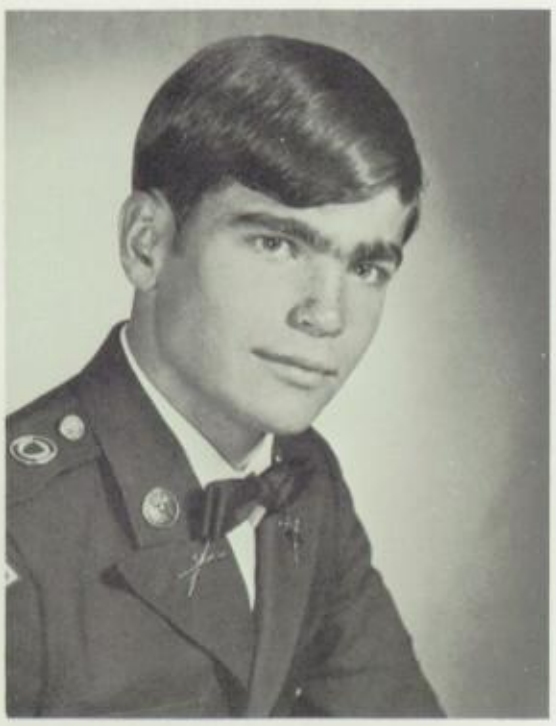
Frank, one of Xavier's all-nighters, can also be seen after school on the rifle range, or in the gym. Frank has hopes of going to West Point, or to B.C. Through his four years, Frank has gained and given true friendship.

CAPT. Michael P. Parish

On Mondays, Mickey can be found telling of his weekend capers. Other times, he is busy with college applications and making plans for the future. Mickey has the distinction of being the only senior who cannot find the right way to ride a subway.

MSG. Richard L. Pavlik

One of the 3-G stalwarts, Rich has continued in the spirit of Mr. Thompson. His wizardry in Calculus is challenged only by his genius in Physics. Rich plans to take up engineering in college.



MSG. John M. Phelan

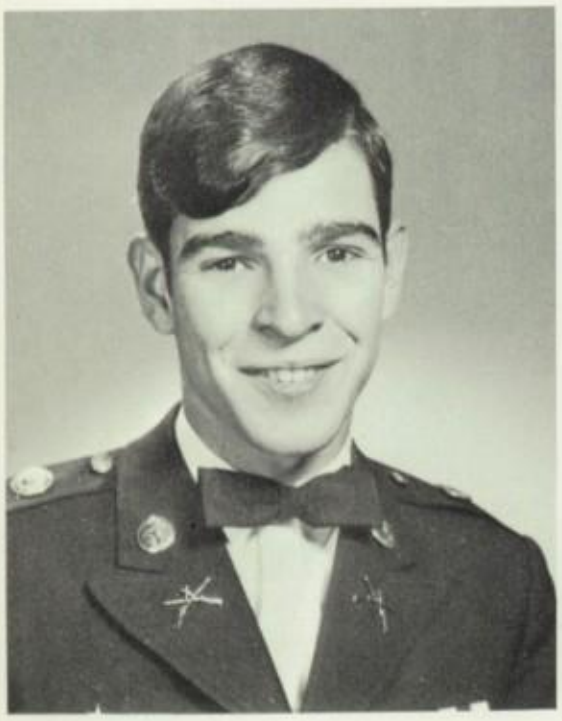
Only on rare occasions is Xavier lucky enough to have a Phelan in its midst. John is no exception to this fine tradition. His talents and dedication have reached from the football field as a scat back, to the yearbook office where he concocted the best annual to date. But most of all, John is known for his great way of making friends by his genuine interest and concern for what it's all about. With so much on his side his future can't miss.

LTC. Frank X. Piderit

To begin to talk about community this year is to automatically turn to Frank. P.A.X. developed in all its aspects by the tireless drive of Frank who has been chairman. Countless hours of time and constant energy were given to the newspaper by Frank in his position on the triumvirate of editors. The only word used to describe him is commitment—to his school, his faculty and, most of all, his fellow students and friends.

SFC. Louis J. Pini

Louie is noted for his neat way of wearing the uniform, and is complimented daily by Mr. Rippon on the train. Louie planes to attend Rutgers in the fall.



MSG. Thomas Piwinski

Tom, the highest ranking squad member in Xavier's history, is known for his stories, imitations, and role as Captain Xavier. Whether it comes to predicting flat tires for Mr. Galbraith or having it out with Mr. Scott, Tom always manages to come out on top, as he hopes to in engineering.

SGM Frank B. Pomposelli

Nick the Greek, as Frank is so well known in the senior year, is commonly associated with the swim team and the Student Council. Our immortal Greek will be long remembered by all who knew him, but especially by Barb, Dor, JJ, and Cal.

PVT. Theodore H. Poppe

Had Teddy known what senior year would bring, he would have started three years ago. He lives by truth and soul, and expects everything from life. His awareness of what people really are like mark him as a sure success.

1SGT. David R. Posteraro

In Dave's opinion the greatest part of Xavier is its people, the students and faculty. Known especially for his love of opera and art, he plans to go to Fordham for a Biology major. Dave hopes to be able to study in France and Italy at some future time.

1LT. Martin E. Powers

Marty is the quiet type, yet it is his warm personality which comes through the strongest. He has been known to be asked by many interesting young ladies at dances about the accomplishments of the X-Squad.

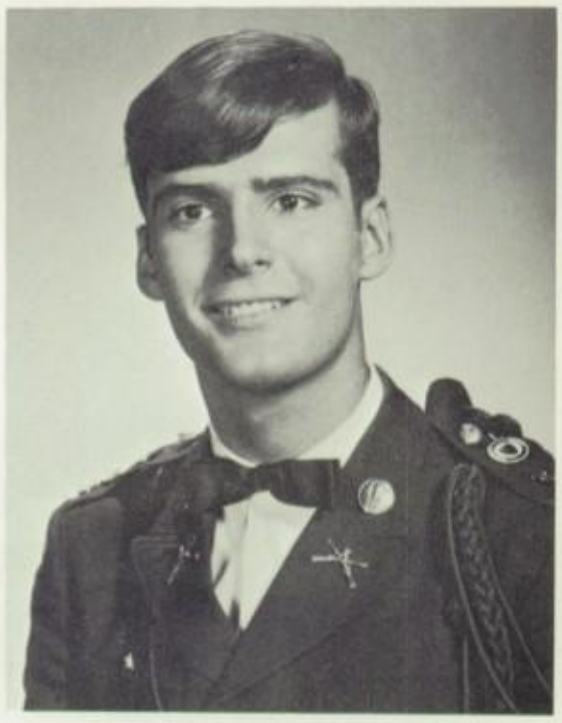
PFC. William F. Presky

The humble Austrian noble (I've got class!) is one reason that Austria is in such bad shape today. An advocate of Austrian power, he's always trying to convince someone that Austria is the world's capital. He hopes to go to college and study Latin, his favorite subject.

2LT. Herbert Quinde

Herb, Xavier's Don Juan, is one of the most popular and likable guys around the Student Counsellor's Offices. In Herb you can find an unforgettable personality, and this, combined with a warm interest in the problems of others, is his greatest asset. He has earned honors in both school and on the track, throughout his four years. This is one guy to remember . . .

PFC. Patrick Quinn



1LT. Frank S. Ranuska

His lightning speed on the typewriter, quick jokes in Physics and English classes, and frequent haircuts are what Frank is noted for. He likes the shore, surfing, driving, and steak. Frank has excelled in both his studies and activities, and plans to attend Columbia where he will take up pre-med.

MAJ. Ihor W. Rak

Those who know Ihor, don't need to read anything about him, and those who don't shouldn't!!

MSG. Peter J. Reilly

Peter's absence will be felt in the Chess Club and in the Supply Corps. He will be remembered by the faculty for his academic ability, but we will mostly miss the aroma of his cigar smoke. We sincerely hope he will achieve his lifelong ambition of blowing a smoke ring.

SSG. Robert R. Reiner

Big Bob has long been noted for his exciting plays on the football field. Having successfully completed his career at Xavier, he is looking forward to attending college.

LTC. Thomas P. Ribaudo

Sometimes referred to as Snoopy because of his unusual position in the Regiment, Tom has truly proven himself in his four years at Xavier. A Cheerleader and orator, Tom can usually be found after school in a Student Council Meeting or working on a P.A.X. Project. Outside of school Tom is also noted for his Occasional interests in goal post remodeling.

SFC. Richard V. Santangelo

Rich's love of Spanish has placed him high on the Dr's. list. He is one of Pedro's Personalities and Possibilities, an honor accorded to very few. He wants to go to P.M.C., and only God and Linkowitz knows why. Good luck in college.

PVT. Thomas J. Rome

Tim, or Moose, as he is known to his friends, is always on the move, whether it be escapading in school, or sweet-talking girls. He is usually where it's at and is a great personality to have around spicing up your life.

1LT. Anthony J. Scala

Tony is always able to mix fun with work and his accomplishments in Company F attest to this. Engineering will be his goal in the coming years and with his creative talents, who knows what will happen?

2LT. John P. Sabini

John is a talkative, stubborn, heck of a guy, but you can always count on him in a fix. When it came to science, the usually slow moving John came alive with new vigor unlike anything anybody saw during other activities. John's hope is to be a physics major in college and later to study astronomy and astrophysics!

1LT. John C. Schaberg

John's sensitive nature has won for him many friends, both in school and in extra-curriculars. His keen wit makes "J.C.S." a most likable person. John hopes to pursue a career in Architecture, in which he will surely succeed.

2LT. Gerard M. Scheil

Fast, strong, and quick-thinking, Gerry is the terror of the lunch time games. Perhaps his most outstanding qualities are his sense of humor, and the fact that he hails from 'Joysy City.' Gerry plans to attend Manhattan College.

MAJ. Karl F. Schneider

Karl, the mayor of Staten Island, is interested in pursuing law as a profession. At Xavier Karl has been a true friend, honest, and open-minded, yet opinionated.

SGT. Lee E. Schneider

Lee is a great fan of college football and hopes to go to Penn State. Even if he doesn't play, he'll be at every game. When his team isn't playing, there are always the Pittsburgh Steelers, Pittsburgh Penguins, the Pittsburgh Pirates, and any other Pittsburgh team that comes along.

SSG. Peter G. Schneider

Pete is unique, and probably the most outspoken student in the school. Given any topic, Pete represents a conservative minority. He numbers among his heroes the New York Giants, and the Young Americans for Freedom. How can he go wrong following their footsteps?

PVT. Herbert H. Sebranek

Herb is the president of the elite Senior Privates Club. He is also a member of the underwater destruction movement and his goal is set at the Lincoln Tunnel. He has a great interest in cars and is the only person to drive a Double "A" Fuelie down the third floor corridor, setting a record time of .07 seconds.

SSG. Edward R. Sepko

Ed always has an intramural game to either play in or ref at lunch. He often remembers at 5:30 that he had to be at work at 4:00. He is heard to have said: "But Mr. O'Keeffe, I have to ref/play in a game, and besides, when am I supposed to eat lunch?"

CPL. Peter J. Seuffert

Seuf has always left a BIG impression on anyone he has bumped into. The Champion Pinochle Player of the Band is planning to attend Fordham. Good luck, Pete!

SFC. Arthur C. Sippo

With a great mind in all academic areas, especially in science, Artie enjoys reading science fiction. He has been a dear friend to many, and is always willing to help out in any problem. Artie hopes to go on to pre-med and eventually to biotronics.

1LT. John P. Sorlie

John is aggressive and always does more than is necessary. He is teeth-grittingly fierce, and is good-natured enough to give a guy a break. The Norwegian Navy has offered him a scholarship, but he will probably go to Annapolis.

1LT. Richard J. Spinnato

If you are ever in dire need of a compliment, the person to go to is Rich Spinnato. Known to all as Dick, he is one of the greatest and liveliest guys around. The only way to talk to Rich is while running around the 168th Street Armory, trying to keep up with him. He plans to go to Georgetown, and we are sure he will find a lot of friends there.

SFC. Vincent J. Spampinato

Vinny can be found fifty per cent of the time at the National Speedway, and the other fifty per cent in the senior room. Throughout Xavier, Vinny is known infamously for his quick laugh and his ability to cram an entire Ring Ding into his mouth at once. Good luck, Vinny!

SGT. John F. Spatuzzi

John can be found doing the dirty work, whether it's behind the scenes of the play or on his Ford loader. He's always planning something, although some of his mechanisms don't always pan out. We can be sure that John will have his hand in some constructive, challenging work.

2LT. Kevin J. Stack

A friend of Mr. White and a charter member of The Order of the Closed Eye, Kevin is an established community man. His community is Sty Town. He is followed by a bevy of beauties as well as the White Knight.

MSG. Edward P. Stennie

Ed has neoclassic style, and is a free-spirit known for his frequent attendance at parties. He plans to attend college in Virginia, and has aspirations of becoming a doctor.

CAPT. Dean E. Stetz

If you can't find him in the Magazine Office, try the yearbook. If he's not there, check the Newspaper Office. Dean's four years at Xavier have been marked by his total involvement. A friend to all, Dean has excelled academically, and has set medicine as his goal.

1SGT. Michael F. Strong

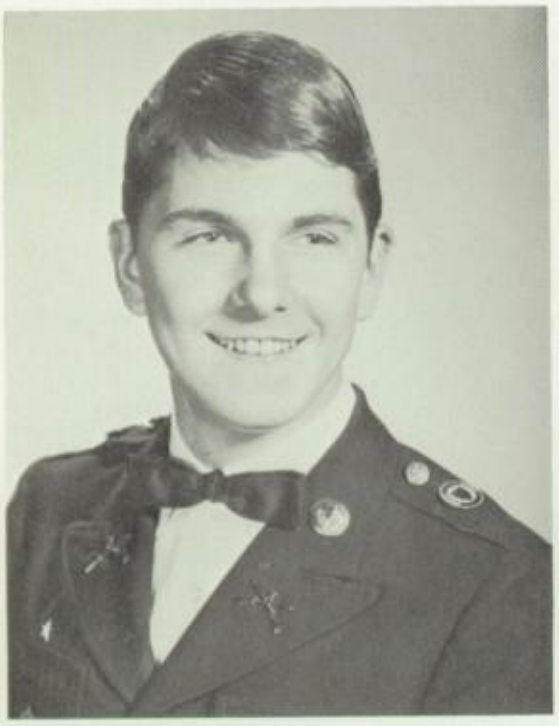
Mike is better known as "mama" to the travelers of the QJ, and just plain Mike to his friends. Known for his monstrous eating and drinking habits, the leader of the MP patrols the halls daily, making sure that no one steals the building. Mike is liked by all, and is known for his impresonations which he'll do for anyone. He plans to play football and attend Fordham.

CAPT. Bruce J. Strzelczyk

Bruce is the man of Xavier—a four year chess team member, captain in '70—fearless leader of Xavier's brutal MP's—and head of the subversive Polish underground. Because of these, he will no doubt succeed in college. Don't get on his bad side or he'll fix you up with a date!

CPL. Gary D. Stumpp

Gary, a proud member of the Sty Town community, has made himself known to almost everyone in the school. He has a unique way of expressing humor, which has brightened many a dull moment in the last four years.



CPL. Dennis D. Sturtevant

Dennis, a music-lover at heart, after a melodic 4 years at Xavier, has always hoped to gain salvation and be sent to that great library in the sky. He would of course stay in the French section specializing in grammar. Thus, with constant side trips to the History section, Dennis would be most happy! "You are what you read!"

PFC. Brian J. Sullivan

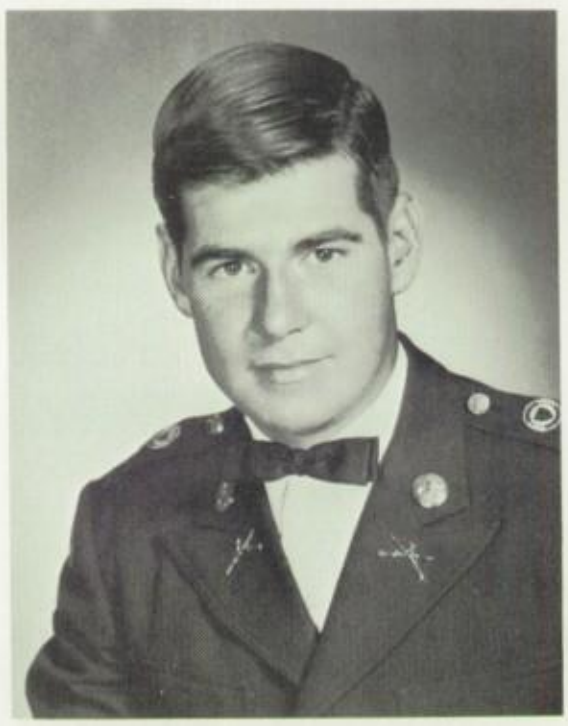
Brian has often been called sweet by the girls at Xavier dances. An accomplished member of Bruce's MP's, he is a fine representative of Xavier. Brian looks forward to a future as a hair stylist.

CPL. John R. Sundman

John, always ready to get into the fun, is very often in the middle of it. Although he doesn't rank high in the military, he does with his friends. He'll often be found in the Senior Room enjoying the company or in the Cafeteria finishing a long lunch.

PFC. Vincent P. Sweeney

Ski champ of Xavier! Vince unfortunately thinks more of skiing than of school. He also excells in other sports such as tennis and scuba diving, and enjoys sleeping in the mud at rock concerts. Vin plans to attend a northern college.



SFC. Kenneth J. Tarpey

A stalwart lineman on the Xavier gridiron, Kenny has long been a star pupil of Mr. Burns. He has been a conscientious student and good friend.

SGM. Richard C. Telesmanich

Due to the spelling of his last name, Rich has been called many things by many people. However, the one word used most frequently in referring to Rich is friend. He plans to attend Holy Cross next fall, where he will major in eating and study law on the side.

PFC. Rodney B. Thomas

Rodney's Vibrant personality and frank opinions have won him the respect and friendship of many students. He is sure to go a long way.

1LT. Mark R. Thompson

Mark can relate to people beyond their surfaces, and has won the friendship of many. His hard work on the chorale has been appreciated by all.

SSG. Francis X. Tirelli

Frank Tirelli, one of Xavier's unique Connecticuit commuters, has tramped up and down the Xavier gridiron for three years. "Terminelli's" likes include rich women and expensive cars. He hopes to continue his football career at Notre Dame next fall.

2LT. Kevin J. Toner

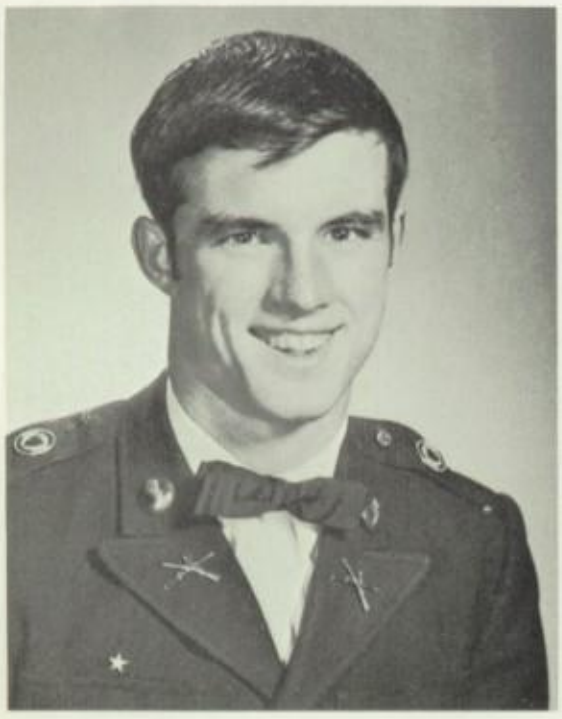
Kev prides himself in being a member of the Xavier SDS (Speech and Debate Society). He can usually be found in his favorite German establishment, following in the footsteps of the "birth certificate kid". Kevin hopes to attend Princeton and his past performance assures him success in all of his future endeavors.

1LT. George A. Torre

George, "Numero Uno," is the type who likes to get 100's in tests. So do we all, but he succeeds. Xavier is grateful to him for his dedication to the tutoring Program.

MSG. Edward C. Tuozzo

Being naturally critical, Ed tends toward the arguments of law. He is active in basketball in his own community and is a big fan of professional sports. If he continues as he is going, he will have a battery of friends large enough to elect him governor.



PFC. Edwin S. Tweedy

Ed, one of the leaders of Xavier, will always be remembered by all as the toughest man in senior year. Whether it is on the streets of Manhattan, in the classroom, or on the football field, Ed is always ready to defend an ideal or belief. However, his most important quality is his willingness to lend a helping hand to anyone.

SFC. Francis A. Varga

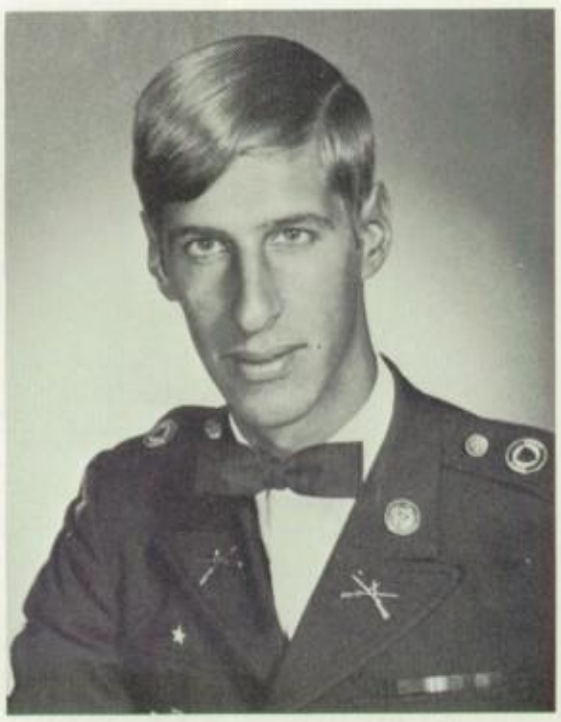
There are few as dedicated to Xavier as Frank. Unfortunately, we are blessed with only one Varga. His work on the tutoring program, and in various other extra curriculars will long be appreciated.

MSG. Angelo A. Vigorito

Invigorating Vigorito "I only got 97 on the Calculus Test" is the easy going type who takes everything in stride. "If you can do it tomorrow, wait." He will probably go to Stevens Tech for engineering. In fact, he is already designing plans for a new Larkin Hall. Good luck, Vig!

MSG. Stephen J. Weyland

Steve's main ambition is to make a run between Maspeth and Manhattan College in less than three minutes. A career in engineering is in store for him.



SFC. Marc C. Wuensch

Marc has contributed much to Xavier in his four years, ranging from the drill floor to the tennis courts. His military excellence, his scholastic achievements, and his athletic abilities are exceeded only by his humor and sharp wit.

SFC. Richard F. Wunder

Rich's warm personality and quick smile have contributed to the Spirit of Xavier. During his last three years on the football team, Rich proved his value. Wherever Rich plans to further his education his talents will be appreciated.

CPL. Patrick A. Yuen

Pat is the last member of the Yuen dynasty at Xavier. He is the kind of guy who can kid around but also be very candid at other times. He always speaks what he thinks and is not afraid to support what he believes. We're sure he will do well in college and any other field he chooses afterwards.

2LT. Robert P. Zaborowski

"Duke", though he's only been here for two years, has made a lasting impression on everyone who knows him. Besides having superior football and academic abilities, "Duke" is a fine friend and can be assured of success in anything he tries.

CPL. Mark P. Zambratto

If ever perchance you are on the fourth floor of the new building, and you hear an uproar of laughter, you can rest assured that Zam is nearby discussing matters in the Physics Lecture Room. Mark has however "excelled" in the classroom, as all of his teachers will affirm. He is truly a great friend who has livened many conversations with his funny wit.

SGT. Philip M. Zrike

Between trips to Barney Googles Phil can be found in the Senior Room discussing pertinent topics of the day with the gathered assembly. His strong desire and ability to play football puts him in high potential to make a good college of his own choice. But his genuine concern for the friends he made at Xavier has always been one of his outstanding characteristics and the one he will most be remembered for.

Edward C. Zigo

Eddy has accomplished many things on the track and football field, while at Xavier. His ability to make friends is matched by few. A surfing buff, Eddy is looking forward to college and a new challenge.

Patrick B. Quinn
1952-1970

In memory of Pat, who has gone before us marked with the sign of peace.

So as we pause to look...

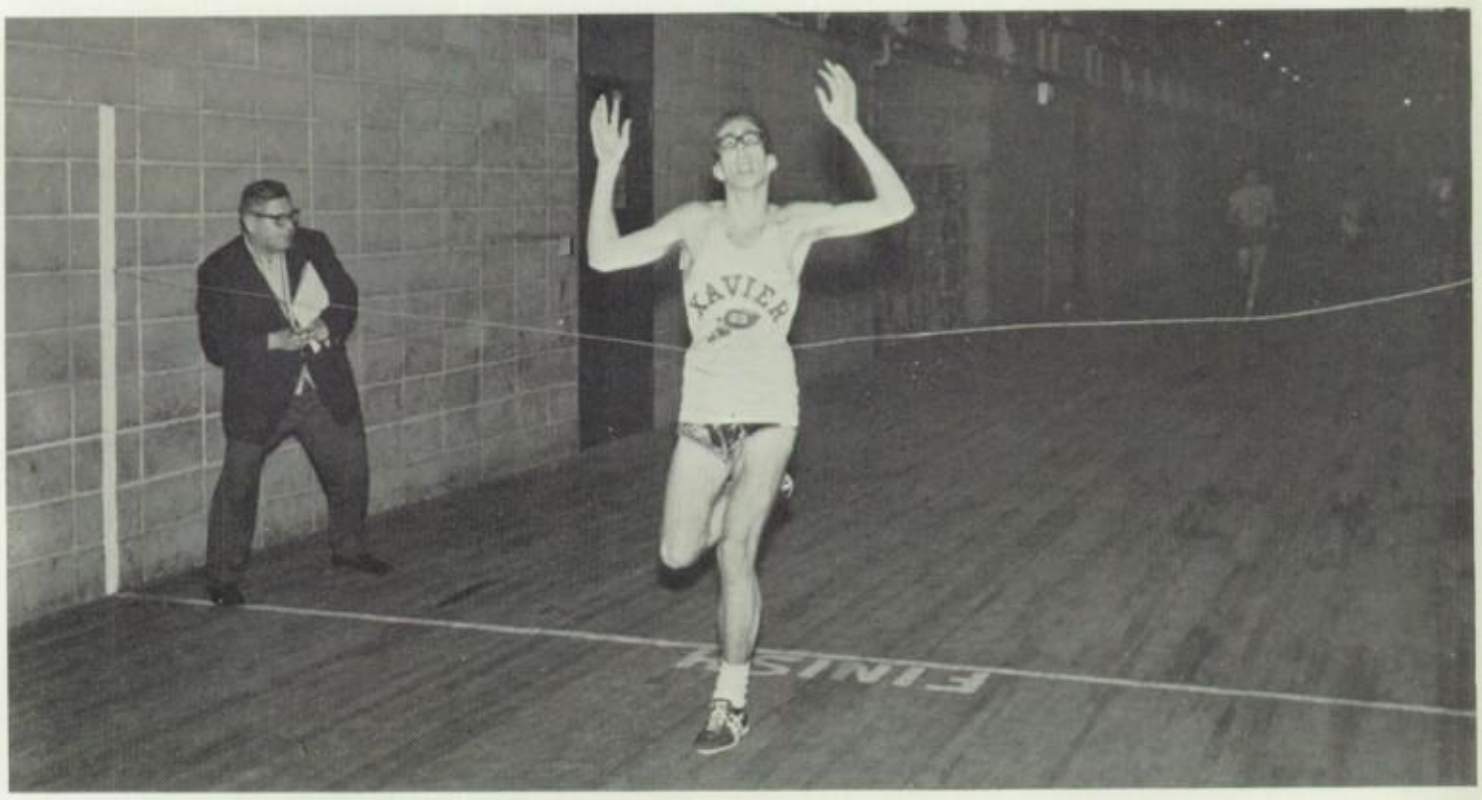
we remember
four years.

Years of involvement with people...

of trials...

of victories
with people...



of friends.

These experiences have brought us
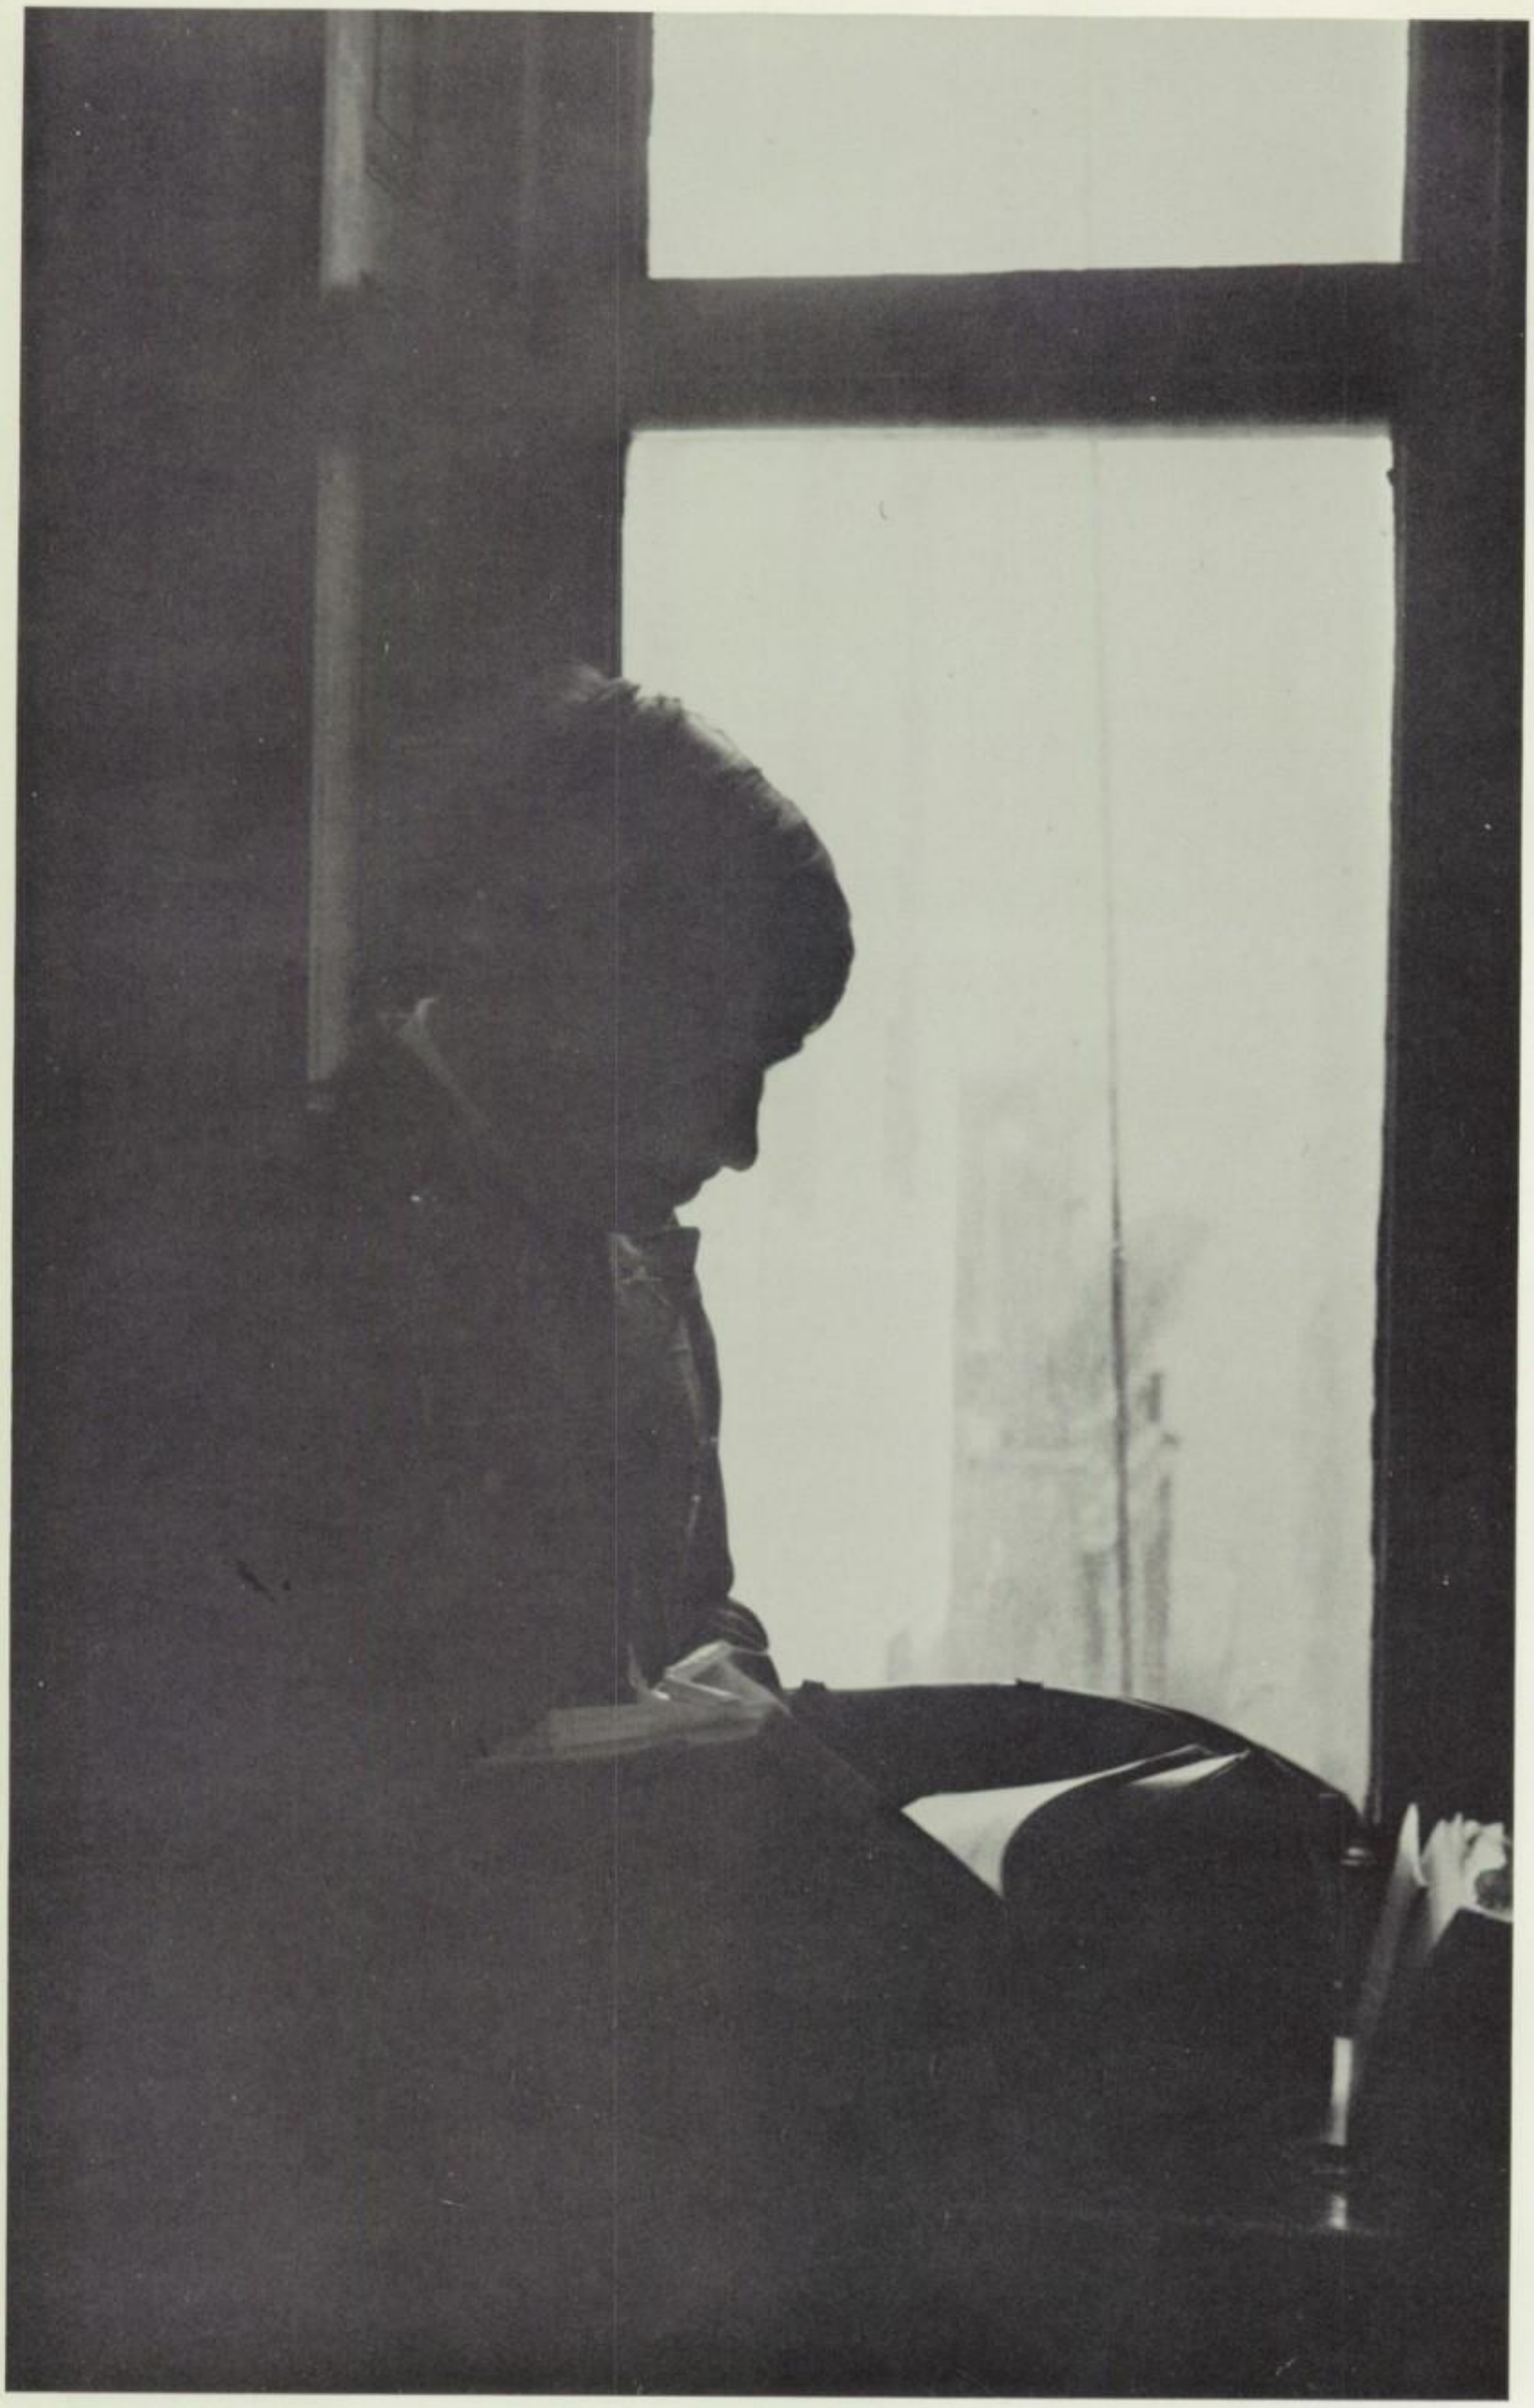
an inner strength...



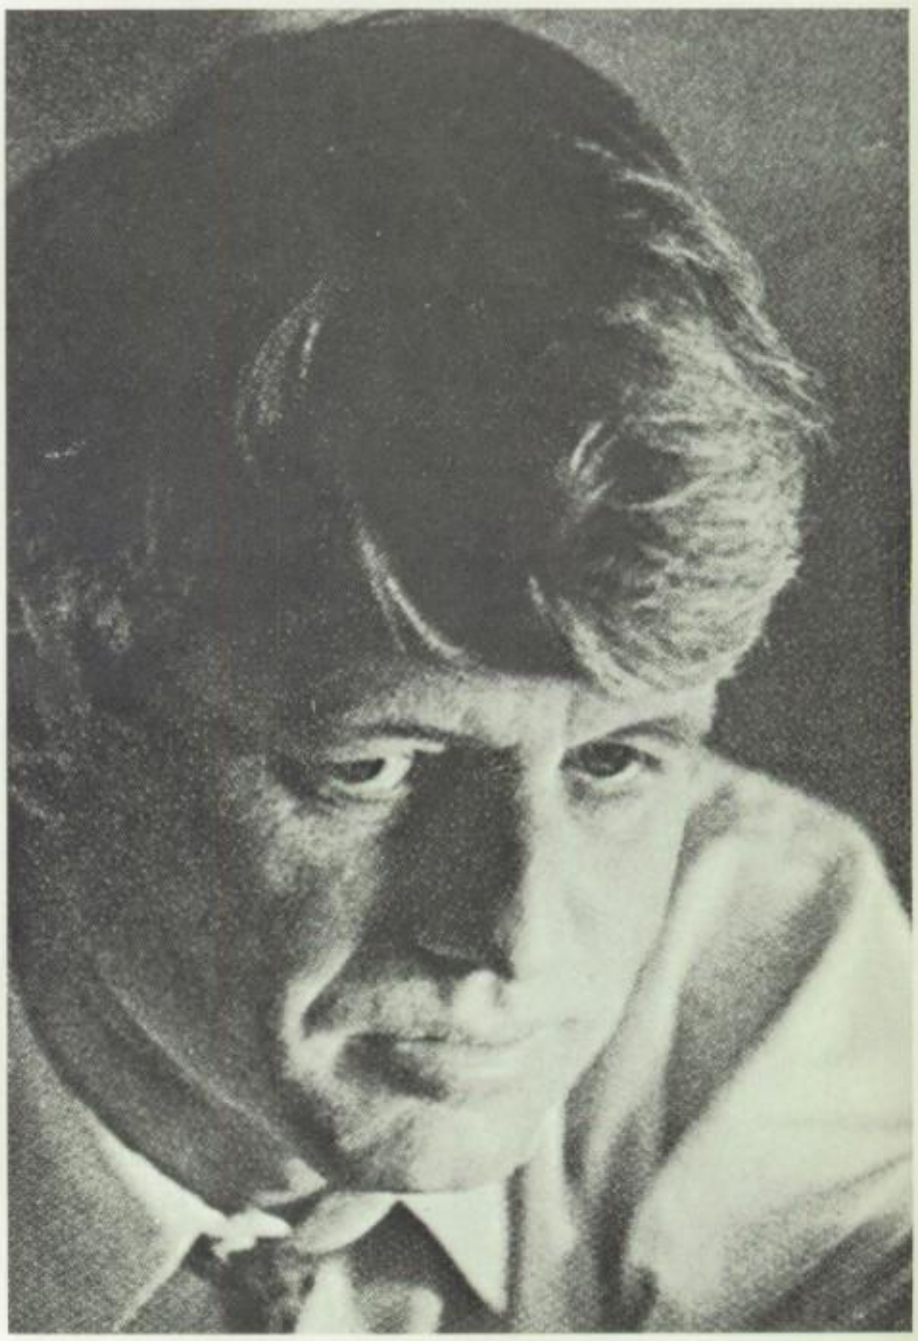
a strength proven by self-knowledge...

a quiet strength
from reflection...

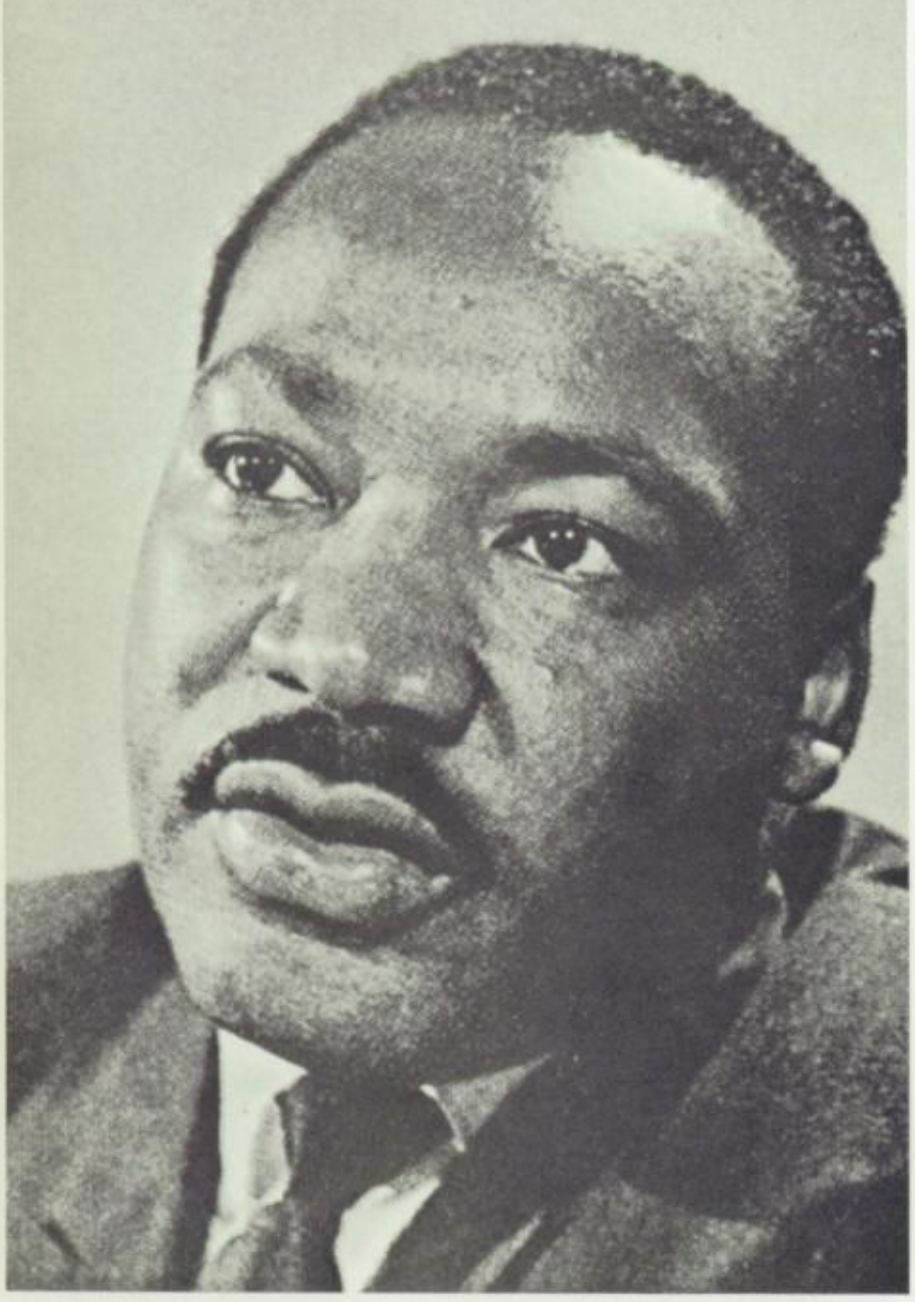
a strength
assured by friends . . .

a joyful strength
which springs
from fullfillment.

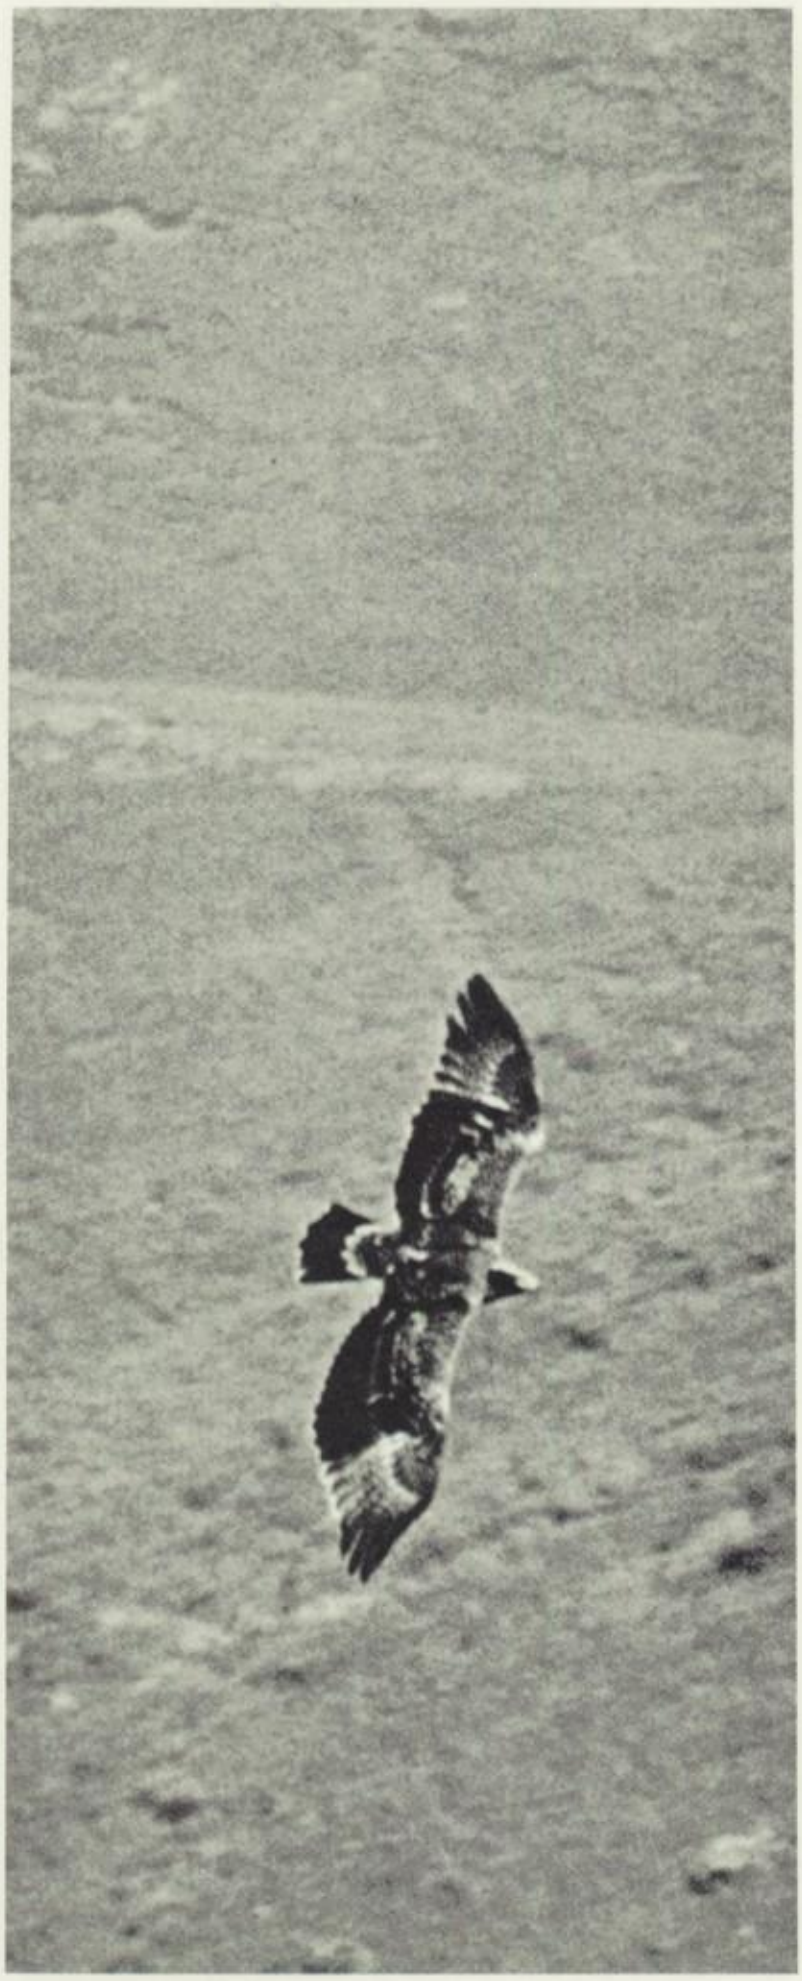
It is this...



which marks a man



and frees him for greater horizons.



The 1970 Evening Parade gives special thanks to...

Mr. George Rubens and the staff at Lorstans Studios for their professional photographic work and advice. Mr. George Geer for his service and concern for the printing of our book. And last but most important we thank Mr. Frank Herrmann, S.J. for his dedication and invaluable assistance.
